A Sovereign Remedy for Rheumatism !

Disappear.

MONTHEAL, P. Q., Oct. 17, 1879.

H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir.-1 most cheerfully add my testimonial to the great number you are daily receiving in favor of your VESSTRINE. I have been troubled with rheumatism for several years; also with blot-thes and pimples breaking out upon my face and neck.

A friend recommended VESSTRINE, and, after using several bottles, I have had no more trouble with rheumatism, and the blotches on my face and neck have disappeared. I have recommended VYCSSTRINE to some of my friends who were troubled with rheumatism, and they have used it with good success, and I will recommend it to all who are troubled in the same way.

Yours truly,

CHATHAM. - - DECEMBER 8, 1881 The Right of Free Speech.

We think a very large majority of the people of Canada will approve of the spirit of the following, which we find in the St. John Globe,-

Sir John Macdonald talks of the "veiled treason of independence." This it absurd. England herself by her public men, and her press, has repeatedly said to us that we are welcome to stay with her or to give up connection, just as it pleases us. But even if she did not say so, every man living in followers two years hence, but the Toronto Globe, with its usual enterprise isness of a man let light in upon the "well laid plan," in him, must feel that so far as he is concerned, Canadian interests are paraand published the secret paper, which concerned, canadian inverests are para-mount to all others, so far as they are bounded by the immutable laws of right and justice. If independence can be shown to be best for Canada what treawe reproduce in another column. It is well worth reading and may serve to warn Liberals against the tactics of their opponents: son is there in saying so; such terms as son is there in saying so; such terms artreason and traitor are very easy to be used, the real traitor to Canada is the man who would shut her mouth and gag her, so that she may not consider her future; who would arrest her self-development and keep her chained for ever to European destinies. If it is the interest and feelings of her people so to remain by all means let them, but if there are those who think the matter a fair one for discussion what carthly CLIFTON BREAKWATER, Gloucester from what our Bathurst correspondent writes, needs an addition to it. He at first demonstrated in a general way, the man ner in which life is sustained and exploration carried on within the Polar circle enlivening the narrative with anecdotes of personal experiences incidental to the several expeditions in which he participated. He emphasized the great value of steam and gunpowder in forcing passage through the polar ice. A picture of the Jeannette drifting in the pack ice, as the lecturer supposes, somewhere of the northwest coast of Grinnell Land, was received with great applause. Of his own plans for reaching the pole, the lecturer first illustrated his scheme for sledging. He would start out six sledges people, had good references and on these from the main depot to be established in a very high latitude.
