

ELEVEN PERSONS KILLED
IN HEAD-ON COLLISION

Twelve Others Injured, Four So Badly that They Will Die.

C. P. R. Eastbound Express Crashed into Westbound Harvesters Excursion Train With Terrible Force—Few of the Occupants of Colonist Car Next Engine Escaped Without Serious Injury.

(Special to the Sun.)
SUDBURY, Ont., Sept. 12.—Eleven persons were killed and twelve others wounded, four so seriously that their death is expected, in a wreck at 1.20 this morning on the Canadian Pacific railway at Ashida, a small station twenty miles west of here. The trains involved were the Atlantic express, eastbound, and a section of a harvesters' excursion, westbound, which left Toronto on Tuesday evening. All the fatalities occurred in the first collision of the two trains. The westbound train was running on the main track, and the eastbound train was running on the branch track. The collision was head-on, and the force was tremendous. The westbound train was derailed and the eastbound train was crushed. The colonist car next the engine of the westbound train escaped without serious injury.

SEPTEMBER WEDDINGS

KIMBALL-REED.
A wedding which has been looked forward to with much interest was celebrated at 8.30 last night at the residence of Mrs. John Reed, 106 Newman street, north end, when her daughter, Miss Katie M. Reed, became the bride of George H. Kimball, attorney, in the employ of the Sun Publishing Co. The ceremony was performed by Rev. David Long of Victoria street Baptist church, who was officiating. The bride wore a costume of white silk with chiffon trimmings and carried a bouquet of white asters. She was attended by Miss Hattie Buchanan in cream crepe and chrysanthemum, and Miss I. R. Dunham in white tulle. The groom was in a tuxedo. The ceremony was performed under a floral arch. Mr. and Mrs. Kimball will leave Saturday morning on a bridal tour through the provinces, and on their return will reside at 180 Sydney street. The groom resides at 180 Sydney street. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, 106 Newman street, north end.

RITCHIE-CRAFT.
A pretty wedding took place Tuesday evening in the Sisters' Chapel, west side, when Miss Mildred A. Craft became the wife of Marmaduke W. Ritchie. The bride, who was given away by her father, Robert Craft, was tastefully attired in a navy blue suit with picture hat, and carried a bouquet of white asters. She was attended by her sister, Miss Bertha Craft, and the groom by his brother, Francis J. Ritchie. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. J. O'Donovan. After the marriage the party drove to the home of the bride's father, where they partook of the wedding supper. Among the many presents received was a substantial remembrance in gold from the groom's employers, A. & L. Sasse.

PARKER-FLETCHER.
FREDERICTON, Sept. 12.—The wedding was celebrated this evening at St. Mary's of William Parker of Moncton and Annie, daughter of Robert Fletcher, bridge engineer, of St. Mary's. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Robert Fletcher, at 1.30 this afternoon. The bride wore a costume of white silk with chiffon trimmings and carried a bouquet of white asters. She was attended by her sister, Miss Bertha Craft, and the groom by his brother, Francis J. Ritchie. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. J. O'Donovan. After the marriage the party drove to the home of the bride's father, where they partook of the wedding supper. Among the many presents received was a substantial remembrance in gold from the groom's employers, A. & L. Sasse.

SMITH-HUGGARD.
A pretty home wedding took place last evening at the residence of the bride's father, Charles Huggard, when his only daughter, Miss Etta, was united in marriage to William Frederick Smith of the employ of Vassie & Co. Ltd. Rev. J. C. B. Appel, of the Douglas Avenue Christian Church, performed the ceremony.

BAILEY-WILSON.
TRURO, N. S., Sept. 12.—William Bailey, of Interior department, Ottawa, and Miss Mary Edith Wilson, daughter of James Wilson, Folly Village, were married at the home of the bride's father this afternoon. The ceremony took place on the lawn, Rev. Wm. Dawson, officiating. The bride wore cream silk and carried a bouquet of white asters. She was attended by her sister, Miss Ida Thompson, of Ottawa, bridesmaid. Miss Robin Gay was flower girl. Guests from other parts included Miss Braden, Ottawa; Miss P. Pearson, M. P. and Mrs. P. and Mrs. Black, Windsor; J. A. Cochran, Matilda. Among the many beautiful gifts was a silver service from the staff of the registration branch of the interior department office. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey came to Truro tonight and will proceed to Ottawa tomorrow.

Edward Wimbright, Charlton, farmer, and Charles M. Lutz, Salisbury, Westmorland county, millman and blacksmith, have each assigned to the sheriff, and George H. Mason, retail merchant, St. John, has assigned to Charles F. Sanford.

WAS FOUR MASTER LOST WITH ALL ON BOARD?

Big American Schooner Albert G. Hunt From Boston for Sydney Is Long Overdue

SYDNEY, N. S., Sept. 12.—It is feared that the large four-masted schooner Albert G. Hunt, which left Boston, Mass., on August 18th for St. Ann's, N. B., and has not yet arrived, has gone to the bottom with all hands, as no ordinary circumstances the schooner should have completed the passage within a week. The schooner was coming here to load a cargo of gypsum for Boston, which was being shipped by the Victoria Gypsum Co. She was described as being practically a new vessel, having only been launched less than a year ago in the United States. She was about seven hundred tons register and was owned in Boston.

SAD DEATH IN INDIA OF HALIFAX MAN

Capt. Louis P. Farrell M. J. Died at Sea After a Brief but Singularly Successful Career

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 12.—Captain Louis P. Farrell, M. J., second son of the late Dr. Edward Farrell of this city, died at Satara, Bombay, India, today. Capt. Farrell graduated from Dalhousie in 1899. He received the degree of M. C. S. L. R. C. P. from London in 1901. Taking a commission in the Indian medical service, he proceeded to India, where he served two years. He was attached to the expeditionary force and served all through the Somaliland campaign in 1904. While in Africa he contracted enteric fever and was invalided home. When he left Halifax after four months spent here, it was thought that his health was restored, but the disease evidently deep seated and he has succumbed, another Halifax victim in the cause of the empire. When he left Halifax after four months spent here, it was thought that his health was restored, but the disease evidently deep seated and he has succumbed, another Halifax victim in the cause of the empire. When he left Halifax after four months spent here, it was thought that his health was restored, but the disease evidently deep seated and he has succumbed, another Halifax victim in the cause of the empire.

A SIMPLE CURE FOR PILES

Pile sufferers know that Ointments and other local treatments sometimes relieve, but never cure. They don't remove the cause. There is a little tablet that taken internally removes the cause of Piles and cures any case of any kind, no matter how long standing. A month's treatment costs $1.00. Ask Dr. Leonard's Home-Remedy, which has been sold for years in every drug store and carries a full guarantee given with every treatment.

NEW PRINCIPAL FOR DEAF AND DUMB

J. W. Hansell of Edinburgh, Scotland, has been appointed principal of the New Brunswick School for the Deaf, which reopens on Sept. 25th. Mr. Hansell has had eighteen years' experience in the institute for the deaf in Edinburgh. He holds a diploma from a college for teachers of the deaf, and has also a Sloyd certificate, secured in Sweden, so that he is equipped to teach manual training as well as perform his regular duties. Mr. Shanklin of St. John county, who holds a superior school license, and who has taught in public schools for three years, has also been added to the staff. Miss Lennox of Kings county, N. S., has been appointed as one of the teachers. She also comes well recommended. Several other appointments are to be made, and will be made public in the course of a day or two.

Yesterday forenoon a boy about three years of age was found wandering around Charlotte street and near the police station by Chas. McCarthy, where he was called for later and taken to the home of his father, Wm. Wright, Camden street. Mr. McCarthy also found a go-cart on the street, which he brought to the station.

ANOTHER CONTINGENT OFF FOR THE WEST

Nearly 500 People Took Advantage of the Harvesters' Excursion Yesterday—Several Have Good Positions

Between 400 and 500 persons left on the harvesters' excursion special train last evening for Winnipeg. There were some St. John people in the number, but the majority were from Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, a few coming from up-river points. The passengers kept arriving in town all day, a large number coming over on the Prince Rupert. At nine o'clock last evening the train was made up and the harvesters left the city. The party in respect to personal appearance was far ahead of those leaving on the excursion several weeks ago. There was an increased number of women in the party and the men appeared in better circumstances than those preceding them. There was a noticeable absence of the rougher element, and it is expected that C. P. R. Detective Harry Johnston and his four assistants, who are accompanying the harvesters, will have more or less of a slouch. Among the passengers there were many who were going out to join the rest of their families, while others do not intend working in the harvest fields but are taking advantage of the cheap rates to reach the western provinces, good positions having been offered them. Two of these former students of the University of New Brunswick, who took up a position on the engineering staff of the Mackenzie and Mann railway system, and Irwin Barnes, who graduated from the Normal School last year. Mr. Barnes is from Cambridge, Queens Co., and has been in the service of the railway for some time. Mr. Barnes is well known in the city, and has been making a name for himself as an athlete during his college course.

DROWNING OF MILFORD BOY AT PORT ARTHUR

News of Sad Occurrence Telegraphed to Chief Clerk—Fell Overboard From Tug

Chief Clerk received the following telegram last evening:
"PORT ARTHUR, Ont.
'Chief Police, St. John, N. B.:
'Horace Stout was drowned off one of our tugs this morning. Kindly advise his people and wire us instructions.'
"GREAT LAKES DREDGING CO."
The chief with little trouble located his relatives in Fairville and Milford, and notified them of the sad occurrence which had taken place in the morning. Horace Stout, whose death comes as such a sudden blow to his relatives and friends here, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stout of Milford. He left here within a year. He was only twenty years of age and was married. He was very popular among those who knew him. Temperate and hard working, he was making good progress in the west. Before leaving here he assisted his father as a millwright in Canada. Besides his father and mother he leaves one brother, Wm. Stout of Milford, and two sisters, Miss Florence and Miss Edith.

SERIOUS FIRE IN ONTARIO TOWN

Damage to the Extent of $100,000— Census Returns From the Western Provinces

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—The census returns from Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba are all in, except from some remote districts in the north, containing a small and scattered population. The returns indicate the population of Alberta to be 180,000, Saskatchewan about 200,000 and Manitoba a little more than 300,000. A bad fire occurred at Shawville today, on the Pontiac and Pacific, forty miles from Ottawa, and thirteen buildings were destroyed. It was a civic holiday and a good proportion of the people were at Ottawa attending the Central Canada Fair. There was no fire apparatus and as water was scarce the fire had to burn itself out. The fire started in a bakery about five o'clock in the afternoon and when had burned itself out the bakery, the Methodist church, a planning mill and a number of residences had been destroyed. The fire was over at 8.30 o'clock. The damage is estimated at $100,000.

A crowd of boys around the corner of Sydney and Orange streets made themselves obnoxious to passers by last night. The police were notified and Officer Robert Crawford responded to the call. He dispersed the crowd and reported W. Morrison and Jas. Powers as being members of the gang. The charge against them is shouting, using profane language and throwing stones at a Chinaman and two ladies.

BALD MOUNTAIN'S STRANGE BEHAVIOR CAUSING ALARM

Party of American Sportsmen Terrified at Its Rumbblings, and the Simultaneous Quaking of the Earth—Other Manifestations Reported Showing Its Volcanic Nature.

From out of the thickest of the northern New Brunswick forests, the high mountainous table land where rivers flowing north, east and south take their source, there comes an astonishing story of a volcanic disturbance, in this province, always thought to be immune from such dangers. According to word which has reached the city the action of Bald Mountain, on the border of Restigouche and Northumberland counties, not far from the border of Victoria county, has caused great interest in the district around and has been even the cause of anxiety among those living near and of fear in sportsmen who have seen its strange behavior. Henry McKenna, who has been in the city during the exhibition and who has spent a considerable time in the Tobique district but who is now residing in Maine says in sympathy with the seismic disturbances in other parts of the world, Bald Mountain has suddenly arisen into life and shakes intermittently with its internal fire. According to this gentleman, about two weeks ago, a number of Americans were on a hunting trip from the Forks and a short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea, and was for a time regarded as the highest peak in the province. A short distance away, however, is Mt. Carleton, which it has been found is 2,897 feet above the sea level. Mr. McKenna, who is one of the most prominent geologists in Canada, when asked about the likelihood of such disturbances, was not disposed to put much faith in it, and said the sounds heard probably were exaggerated. Bald Mt., he said is 2,575 feet above the level of the sea,