MRS. GUINNESS' HOUSE WAS ARRANGED FOR EASY MURDERS

A Closed Room Which No One But Herself Entered, and a Morgue for the Reception of the Bodies—Nine Victims Already Known

LAPORTE, Ind., May 7.—The grisly story of the private graveyard at the farm of Mrs. Bella Guinness, a mile north of Laporte, is still in its early chapters. Today the estimates of the number of persons murdered at the place through the lure of a matrimonial bureau run all the way from twelve to twenty. The exhumation yesterday of four dismembered bodies wrapped in burlap brings the total of victims known to have been murdered to nine. Including the bodies supposed to be those of Mrs. Guinness and her three children, discovered after the fire which burned the farm house on April 28, the total of deaths to be investigated and accounted for is 12. There was scant doubt that Sheriff Smutzer today would discover evidence of murder in two more suspected graves as yet unopened. All suspicious parts of the premises are to be dug up with especial attention to the "soft" spots beneath rubbish heaps which so far invariably have been found to conceal bodies. Ray Lamphere, who is in jail here, still asserts his innocence. Prosecuting Attorney Smith, however, says he has positive proof that Lamphere is guilty knowledge of the Guinness murders if he had not indeed participated in them. The prosecutor is in possession of letters, written about Lamphere, which he is guarding. The letters written to Andrew Heigelen by Mrs. Guinness are said to contain references which indicate Lamphere's guilt. That he killed Mrs. Guinness and her children and set fire to the house in order to prevent any revelation that might involve him is the theory of the prosecution. In his cell Lamphere was asked concerning a secret room in the Guinness mansion to which no one was ever admitted except Mrs. Guinness herself. She had the key and kept the door locked constantly. In the night hours no one in the household was ever near that room. That, the authorities believe, was the chamber of horrors where the bodies of the Guinness victims of the woman's greed for gold and for food. "I never was in that room," said Lamphere. "I knew that there was a room in the house that was always kept locked and there was also a room in the basement, a sort of a box that was used up with the milk each morning to gather the eggs and about all the youngsters got was a 'look-in'."

SAYS PARSON TOOK CREAM FROM POOR

Woman Accuses Minister of Giving Child Skimmed Milk Only

NEW YORK, May 7.—Mrs. Mary Wells Jennings will appear this week before a special committee of the Methodist Episcopal Mission Society to press her charges against the Rev. Joseph Braun, who she alleges took cream from the homes of poor children. "The Rev. Mr. Braun was agent for the society in the leading of the 'Cream from the Poor' campaign on Sunday last summer. Mrs. Jennings owned the building and for some reason took a deep and abiding dislike to the preacher and his wife. She declares that Braun skimmed the cream for himself and his wife while the children got the skimmed product. She also says that he was up with the milk each morning to gather the eggs and about all the youngsters got was a 'look-in'."

They filed their report showing that instead of the great wealth supposed to have been held by Dowie, the total amount was $1,200. Mrs. Dowie received the widow's share, one third. She still has a claim on the real estate whatever it is, or may prove to be.

MONKTON GROWING ANXIOUS OVER THE DOMINION GRANT

MONKTON, May 7.—The board of trade is to hold a meeting tonight to consider the advisability of sending a deputation to Ottawa to press for the Dominion exhibition grant in 1938. It was first thought unnecessary to do this as a memorial had been presented through Hon. Mr. Emmerson and the delegation from Miramichi and Fredericton have aroused Monkton in the same direction.

CHILD WAS KILLED BY CARLETON STREET CAR

Little Daughter of John Howe Fearfully Mangled Was Running Across the Street—Struck by the Car, Knocked Down and Almost Cut in Two.

A tragic accident occurred about 2 o'clock this afternoon in West St. John. A little girl named Howe, the six-year-old daughter of John Howe, of Winslow street, was run over and killed by a street car, the child's body being terribly mangled. The little one was running across Winslow street, when she was struck by a car in charge of Motorman Thos. Kerrigan. No blame is attached to the motorman, who endeavored in every way to prevent the accident. The child's body was tenderly lifted from the pavement and Dr. Kenney summoned. He was too late however, to do anything and the little body was taken home. Mr. Howe is employed in the Martins Nail Works. At the time of the accident the child's mother was in the city looking for a house.

NEW LONDON SUMMER HOTEL BURNED TODAY

NEW LONDON, Conn., May 7.—The Pequot Hotel, situated at the mouth of the harbor, was destroyed by fire which started early this morning. A terrific easterly gale was blowing at the time and fourteen other buildings in the Pequot colony took fire but were saved by the fire department. The old hotel was erected over a century ago and was one of the most prominent summer places on the coast. It was owned by the Pequot Hotel Association of which Senator Brandegee is the president. The amount of the loss has not yet been determined. Arrangements to open for the season were to have been made in a few days. The fire was probably of incendiary origin.

FOUR KILLED, TWELVE INJURED IN NEW YORK FIRE TODAY

EMPLOYEES WORKED; UNION MEN STRUCK The Victims Were Inmates of a Five Story Tenement Which Caught While the People Were Asleep—Incendiarism Suspected

CHICAGO, May 7.—Industrial and charitably inclined employees of the Wellington Hotel have succeeded in getting the management of that hostelry into considerable trouble with a score of labor unions and incidentally tying up work on the pending improvements indefinitely. It all grew out of a natural desire of the hotel employees to assist in hastening the work on the improvements. According to the charges of the union officials, these employees extended the plumbing and carried on other branches of work during the night after the regular workers had gone home. As the hotel men do not members of these unions, complaints were made. Yesterday 250 workers representing practically every branch of the building trades association went on strike because they believed that these non-union men were encroaching upon their territory. Meanwhile the hoteliers were strictly speaking "up in the air" hoisted upon jacks where the union men have left it.

MAN PATTERSON IN CRASH

Badly Hurt in Auto After Revel With Rich Pittsburgers.

Stories of a orgy at Wildwood, Inn, 15 miles from McKeesport, Pa., are coupled with the statement that Nan Patterson narrowly escaped a broken neck in an auto accident following the same fate while trying to escape by means of the roof. Mrs. Koppelman had gone out on a fire escape, intending to make her way to the roof. She had the child in her arms when she stepped through the window to the platform. A mis-step caused her to fall and as she struck the side of the platform, Hattie fell from her arms and rolled through the opening in the platform to the floor below which was red hot. There the child was burned to death before anyone could reach her. Mrs. Koppelman rolled across the opening but saved herself from being struck by Mrs. Eva Berg and the Sach boys were burned to death in their rooms, apparently having been overthrown by smoke while asleep.
