On motion of Messrs. Lowe and Steen, the By-law establishing the road on lot No. 6 in the 9th concession was read a first time.

Moved by Mr. Wood, seconded by Mr. O'Neil, that whereas it is found that the proposed change in the public road, on lot No. 6 in the 9th concession involves a large outlay of the public funds, for no real public benefit, the By-law establishing said road should be carried.

Moved by Mr. Lowe seconded by Mr. Woods, that the petition of John Hendrick and others cannot be complied with as the necessary School Section meetings have not been held.

Moved by Mr. Lowe seconded by Mr. O'Neil, that as it appears there has been some mistake in charging arrears of taxes of the following lots, viz: S. E. 1 of 16 in the 5th concession, W. 4 E. 1 in the 6th concession, 12 in the 7th concession, and the village lot of Charles Cross.

The Council then adjourned, sine die.

JAMES CONNERY, Township Clerk.

The English cigar smoker is exposed to a considerable risk in making his purchases, and we desire the many Canadian who has not had his glance or being deceived by more than the deleterious article itself.

In Northern Germany there is a regular trade carried on in counterfeit cigars, that is to say, cigars made there of inferior quality, plentifully treated with saltpetre and opium, and then fraudulently sold under the name of some popular and well known Cuban brand.

A case arising out of this trade was recently brought before the Chancery judges in England. The plaintiff, Messrs. Upman, learned that a quantity of cigars had been made in Hamburg, stamped with their name, and consigned to a friend of the defendant, who had arrived in London, for distribution among the unsuspecting English.

Of course such a fraud as this could not be permitted, and the plaintiffs obtained an injunction to prevent the removal of the cigars. Thus one objection, at least, was kept out of the English market, and the plaintiff was enabled to recover the average smoker who would have bought them without any possibility of telling in advance whether they were the vile forgeries or the excellent and well known brand they purported to be.

An elderly woman named Gates, the wife of a milkman living at Brighton, was brought up on a charge of unlawfully pretending to tell fortunes. The charge arose from a neighbor of the defendant having taken proceedings against her for willful damage. It then transpired that the defendant told fortunes, and the chief officer of police having investigated the matter, a summons was issued against her, Sarah Ashdown visited the defendant and paid her sixpence.

The defendant told before the event would be in trouble. A pack of cards was produced by the defendant who said, "You will marry a fair young man." She also said that Mr. White, the chief officer of police, always advised her to marry a young man, and she followed his advice, and found out that she had married a young man, who was a fortune teller, and she was now in a very bad state of mind.

OST, A. BARK, NOT signed by the defendant, and the defendant was ordered to pay the costs of the proceedings, and to be committed to the workhouse for three months.

MONTHS' hard labor, the magistrate adding that, if brought up again, she would be sent to jail.

I can testify to the high repute of value of Fellers' Compound Syrup of Sassafras, and consider it deserving of attention by the profession.
