

WHAT OF THE NIGHT?

The Ancient Division of the Night Into Four Watches.

THE POWER OF A KIND WORD

Rev. Dr. Talmage Describes Scenes to Be Witnessed in All Large Cities During the Hours of the Night-Gambling and Drunkenness—A Terrible Tragedy in Five Acts.Entered according to Act of the Parliament of Canada, in the year One Thousand Nine Hundred and One, by William B. Talmage, of Toronto, at the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.Washington, Oct. 15.—In this discourse Dr. Talmage describes some of the scenes to be witnessed late at night in the great cities and warns the unwary of many perils; text, Isaiah xlii, 11, "Watchman, what of the night?"When night came down on Babylon, Nineveh and Jerusalem, they needed careful watching, otherwise the incendiary torch might have been thrust into the very heart of the metropolitan splendor, or enemies, marching from the hills, might have forced the gates. All night long, on top of the wall and in front of the gates, might be heard the measured step of the watchman on his solitary beat; silence hung in air, save as some passerby raised the question, "Watchman, what of the night?"It is to me a deeply suggestive and solemn thing to see a man standing guard by night. It thrilled through me as at the gate of an arsenal in Charleston the question once smote me, "Who comes there?" followed by the sharp command, "Advance and give the countersign." Every moral teacher stands on picket or patrols the wall as watchman. His work is to sound the alarm, and whether it be in the first watch or in the second watch, in the third watch or in the fourth watch to be vigilant until the daybreak flings its morning glories of blooming cloud across the turrets of the sky.The ancients divided their night into four parts—the first watch from 6 to 9, the second from 9 to 12, the third from 12 to 3, and the fourth from 3 to 6. I speak now of the city in the third watch, or from 12 to 3 o'clock.I never weary of looking upon the life of the city in the first watch.
That is the hour when the stores are closing. The laboring men, having quitted the scaffolding and the shop, are on their way home. It rejoices me to give them my seat in the city car. They have stood and hammered away all day. Their feet are weary.
They are exhausted with the tug of work. They are mostly cheerful. With appetites sharpened on the swift turner's wheel and the carpenter's whetstone they seek the evening meal. The clerks, too, have broken away from the counter and with brain weary of the long line of figures and the whines of those who go a-shopping seek the face of mother or wife and child. The streets are thronged with young men setting out from the great centres of bargain making. Let idlers clear the street and give right of way to the besweated artisans and merchant.
They have earned their bread and are now on their way home to get it.
The lights in full bell hang over 10-000 evening repasts—the parents at either end of the table, the children between. Thank God, who setteth the solitary in families!A few hours later and all the places of amusement, good and bad, are in full tide. Lovers of art, catelogue in hand, stroll through the galleries and discuss the pictures. The ballroom is resplendent with the rich apparel of those who on either side of the white, glistening boards await the signal from the orchestra. Concert halls are lifted into enchantment with the warble of one songstress or swept out on a sea of tumultuous feeling by the blast of brazen instruments. A beautiful and overwhelming thing is the city in the first and second watches of the night.But the clock strikes 12, and the third watch has begun. The thunder of the city has rolled out of the air.
The slightest sound cuts the night with such distinctness as to attract your attention. The tinkling of a bell of the street car in the distance and the baying of the dog. The stamp of a horse in the next street.
The slamming of a saloon door. The hiccough of the drunkard. The shrieks of the mean while five miles away.
Oh, how suggestive, my friends, the third watch of the night!There are honest men passing up and down the street. Here is a city missionary, who has been carrying a sentile of love to that poor family in that dark place. Here is an under-taker going up the steps of a building from which there comes a bitter cry, which indicates that the destroying angel has smitten the firstborn. Here is a minister of religion who has been giving the sacrament to a dying Christian. Here is a physician, passing along in great haste. Nearly all the lights have gone out in the dwellings, for it is the third watch of the night. "That light in the window is the light of the watchman, for the medicines must be administered, and the fever must be watched, and the restless tossing off of the coverlet must be resisted, and the ice must be kept on the hot temples, and the perpetual prayer must go up from hearts soon to be broken.Oh, the third watch of the night!
What a stupendous thought—a whole city at rest! Weary arm. The paring for to-morrow's toil. Hot brain being cooled off. Night muscles relaxed. Excited nerves soothed. The white hair of the octogenarian in thin drifts across the pillow, fresh fall of flakes on snow already fallen. Childhood, with its dimpled hands thrown out on the pillow and with every breath taking in a new store of fun and frolic. Third watch of the night! God's slumberless eye will look. Let one great wave of Jolly Jack Tar.

"Jolly" is the word generally associated with the jack tar. He is the picture of health, and the health bubbles over in mirth and merriment. When people are sick, especially when sickness attacks the lungs the doctor often advises a sea voyage. But in the large majority of cases the sea voyage is impossible.It is to the men and women of the workaday world to whom sea voyages or change of climate are impossible, that
Dr. Pierce's Golden
Medical Discovery comes as the greatest earthly boon.The effect of this medicine upon those whose lungs are "weak" is remarkable. Even where there is bronchitis, spitting of blood, emaciation, weakness, conditioned as they are checked or unskilfully treated lead to consumption, "Golden Medical Discovery" in ninety-eight cases out of a hundred works a perfect and permanent cure. It strengthens the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, so that the body in all its parts is not merely fed but nourished. And it is by nourishment that Nature builds up the body to resist or throw off disease.I had a terrible cough something over a year ago and could find nothing to stop it, or even to do me a particle of good," writes J. M. Farr, Esq., of Cameron, Stevens Co., Ga. "I changed to see an advertisement of yours, and forthwith bought a bottle of your invaluable 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Before I had taken half a bottle, I was entirely well."Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation. refreshing slumber roll over the heart, the great town, suburban care and anxiety and moment and pain. Let the city sleep.But, my friends, be not deceived.
There will be to-night thousands who will not sleep at all. Go up the dark alley, where the door where you tread lest you fall over the prostrate form of a drunkard lying on his own doorstep. Look about you, lest you feel the karro-tine's hug! Look through the broken window pane and see where they live. You say, "Nothing." Then listen. What is it? "God help us!" No footlights, but tragedy ghostlier and mightier than history or Edwin Booth ever enacted. No light, no fire, no bread, no hope.
Shivering in the cold, they have had no food for twenty-four hours. You say, "Why don't they beg?" They do, but they get nothing. You say, "Why don't they day their clothes over to the almshouse?" Ah, you would not ask that if you ever heard the bitter cry of a man or a child when told he must go to the almshouse.
"Oh," you say, "they are vicious poor, and as they come near do not deserve our sympathy!" Are they vicious? So much more need they your pity. The Christian poor, God helps them.I sat on through the alley. Open the door. "Oh, you say, 'it is locked!' No, it is not locked. It has never been locked. No burglar would be tempted to go in there to steal anything. Only a broken chair stands against the door. Shove it back. Go in. Strike a match. Now, look. Beastliness and rags. See those glaring eyeballs. Be careful now what you say. Do not utter any insult, do not utter any suspicion, if you value your life. What is that red mark on the wall? It is the mark of a murderer's hand! Look at those two eyes rising up out of the darkness and out from the straw in the corner, coming toward you, and as they come near your light goes out. Strike another match. Ah, this is a babe, not like those beautiful children presented in baptism. This little one never smiled. It never will smile.
A flower hung on an awfully barren beach. O Heavenly Shepherd, fold that little one in thy arms! Wrap around you your shawl or your coat tighter, for the cold wind sweeps through the night.Strike another match. Ah, it is possible that the scarred and bruised face of that young woman, ever was looked into by maternal tenderness?
Utter no scorn. Utter no harsh word. No ray of hope dawned on that brow for many a year. No ray of hope ever will.SEDIMENT IN THE URINEOne of the Indications of Serious Kidney Trouble, that Dr. Pit-cher's Backache Kidney Tablets Completely Cures.Sediment in the urine, no matter what its nature, whether it be brick dust, white particles floating through it, or slimy deposits, is indicative of serious kidney derangement.There is no remedy so quick clear up the urine and cure the kidney trouble as Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, the modern medicine for backache, kidney, bladder and urinary disorders.Mr. W. Patterson, electrician, Whitby, Ont., says: "Permit me to say that the bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets I got at the store of J. E. Willis, druggist, Whitby, has done me a great deal of good. I have tried other kidney medicines without benefit, and find in these just what I want. My water, that used to be dark, bad and full of sediment, is now clear, and my bowels move easily, regularly and gently, with no griping.
I have worked steadily, and the pain I used to suffer with is gone entirely." Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50 cents a box at all druggists. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.I could give you the history in a minute of one of the best friends I ever had. Outside of my own family I never had a better friend. He welcomed me to my home at the west.
He was of splendid personal appearance, but he had an air of soul and a warmth of affection that made me love him like a brother. I saw men coming out of the saloons and gambling halls, and they surrounded my friend, and they took him at the weak point—his social nature—and I saw him going down, and I had a fair talk with him, for I never yet saw a man you could not talk with on the subject of his habits if you talked with him in the right way. I said to him, "Why don't you give up your bad habits and become a Christian?" I remember now just how he looked, leaning over his counter, as he replied: "I wish I could, but I have gone so far astray I can't get back!" So the time went on. After while the day of sickness came. I was summoned to his sick bed. I hastened.
It took me but a very few moments to get there. I was surprised as I went in. I saw him in his ordinary dress, fully dressed, lying on top of the bed. I gave him my hand, and he seized it convulsively and said:
"Oh, how glad I am to see you! Sitdown there!" I sat down, and he said: "Mr. Talmage, just where you sit now my mother sat last night. She has been dead twenty years. Now, I don't want you to think I am out of my mind or that I am superstitious, but, sir, she sat there last night, and she said, 'Roswell, I wish you would do better. I wish you would do better.' I said: 'Mother, I wish I could do better. I try to do better, but I can't. Mother, you used to help me; why can't you help me now?' And, sir, I got out of bed, for it was a reality, and I went to her and threw my arms around her neck, and I said: 'Mother, I will do better, but you must help. I can't do this alone.' I knelt and prayed. That night his soul went to the Lord who made it.But there is a man who will not rest. He says, "I won't reform." Well, then, how many acts are there in a tragedy? I believe there are five acts in a tragedy.
Act first of the tragedy: A young man, a son of a family, a person and sisters weeping to have him go wagon rising over the hill; farewell kiss flung back. Ring the bell and let the curtain fall.Act the second: The marriage altar; full organ, bright lights; long white veil trailing through the aisle; prayer and congratulation and exclamation of, "How well she looks!"Act the third: A woman waiting for staggering steps; old garments stuck into the broken window pane; marks of hardship on the face; the biting of the nails of bloodless fingers; neglect and cruelty and despair. Ring the bell and let the curtain fall.Act the fourth: Three graves in a dark place—a grave of the child that died for lack of medicine, grave of the wife that died of a broken heart, grave of the man that died of dissipation. Oh, what a blasted heath with three graves! Plenty of woods but no flowers. Ring the bell and let the curtain drop.Act the fifth: A destroyed soul's eternity; the great lights; long ness of darkness forever. But I cannot look any longer. Wo! wo! I close my eyes to this last act of the tragedy. Quick, quick! Ring the bell and let the curtain drop. "Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth, and let thy heart rejoice in the days of thy youth, but know thou that for all these things God will bring you into judgment." "There is a way that seemeth right to a man, but the end thereof is death."

Cars smashed.Birmingham, Mich., Oct. 18.—East and westbound freight trains on the gether head-on on the curve near Maple Orchard, five miles west of place, at 5 o'clock this morning. Three men who were riding in the first car on the westbound train were caught in the wreck and crushed to death.

They were:R. Moffatt, engineer, 315 Fort street east, Detroit.
H. Luce, fireman, 144 Orleans street, Detroit.
Otto Nuerenberg, brakeman, Clarkston, Mich.Moffatt has been in the employ of the road 13 years. He was 32 years old and belonged to Forest, Ont.
Luce had only been with the road four weeks. He was 25 years old and came from Owosso.The wreck is believed to be due to a misunderstanding of the train-dis-patcher's order on the part of one of the conductors, although the dense fog which prevailed, and the fact that the curve interfered with the vision of the engineers may have been contributing causes.The wreck is the worst ever seen in this section. Both engines were completely ruined and are lying at right angles to the track. An idea of the force with which they came together can be gained by the fact that all the spokes are torn out of the drive wheels of the engine which was northbound.There were two carloads of hogs just behind the engine and the animals were literally torn to pieces. A score or more of the beasts were badly maimed, and their squealing could be heard for a long distance. Webster Bray, a Birmingham butcher, was sent for, and he commenced the biggest sticking match he ever engaged in.
When he had completed his task he had put nearly 50 of the suffering animals out of their misery. They were seven cars derailed, and traffic on the road was blocked all morning. It is expected to have the tracks cleared for traffic early this afternoon.The freight train going west was a very heavy one and got stuck on the steep grade near Bloomfield. The engineer cut his train in two and took part of it to Pontiac. He returned for the other part and was on his way to Pontiac with it when the eastbound train came thundering along and struck his train with terrific force.A wrecking train with Derra Tibbals
