THANKSGIVING DAY, 1901.

The dedication of one day in each year to the duty of National Thanksgiving rests upon a conviction that the Supreme recognizes communities in their corporate relations as well as He takes note of individuals in their personal capacities. To believe in a Divine Ruler whose oversight is so limited as to render communal relations and national organizations invisible to Omniscience is possible, for man seems able to believe the impossible. Indeed, a great divine said he believed a certain dogma because it was impossible. But, those who accept the Scriptures as a divine relation know that the divine economy deals with nations as organic units.

It is then very meet, right and our bounden duty as Canadians to offer a service of Thanksgiving in the name of our country for the blessings so abundantly showered by Providence upon this Dominion. What we have to be thankful for as a nation would need a volume to narrate. There is not on the face of the earth, nor has there ever been a community so perfectly contented with its lot, its conditions, its prospects, as the people of Canada.

On this page will be found a table compiled from official sources showing the expansion of the trade and financial resources of Canada since Confederation. This exhibit of the nation's development justifies national pride and inspires national hopefulness. Peace and plenteousness are the characteristics of our country. These supreme, national blessings inspire gratitude to the Giver of all good, which finds expression in Thanksgiving Day, whereon we find it "a pleasant thing to be thankful."

AN AMALGAMATION CANARD.

The recent amalgamations of insurance companies seem to have set certain imaginative persons on the look-out for companies they consider likely to join their fortunes, or misfortunes together. Having picked out a pair they, in several instances, have started a rumour that these companies are considering amalgamation, or arranging for it, or have consummated the union. The latest couple they fixed upon, as about being fused, consisted of the Scottish Union and National and the North British and Mercantile. In reply to an enquiry, Mr. Duncan, general manager of the Scotish Union and National, has cabled, "Rumours of amalgamation with North British or any other company utterly without founda-Mr. Brewster, Hartford, United States, tion." manager of the Scottish Union and National, has also denounced the rumour as utterly false. Whoever started this mendacious report showed poor judgment in his selection of companies.
