and school, in the home and the social life, in drudgery and in care, in temptation and in sorrow. It is a prayer for doing, not suffering, God's will. We ask, if we offer it sincerely, that our heart may be so changed that we shall learn to love the will of God, that we shall incline more and more to do it, and that it shall gain fuller and fuller sway over us, until it has become a great dominant force in all our life.—Dr. Miller.

OUR HEROES.

Here's a hand to the boy who has courage

To do what he knows to be right,
When he falls in the way of temptation

He has a hard battle to fight,
Who strives against self and his comrades

Will find a most powerful foe;
All honour to him if he conquers,
A cheer for the boy who says
"No!"

There's many a battle fought daily
The world knows nothing about:
There's many a brave little soldier Whose strength puts a legion to rout.

And he who fights sin single-handed
Is more of a hero, I say

Than he who leads soldiers to battle,

And conquers by arms in the fray.

Be steadfast, my boy, when you're tempted

To do what you know to be right;
Stand firm by the colours of manhood,

And you will o'ercome in the fight,
"The Right" be your battle-cry ever
In waging the warfare of life;
And God, who knows who are heroes,
Will give you the strength for the strife.

Observer.

HE STUDIED HIS PUPILS.

Dr. Edward Thring, next to Arnold of Rugby, was considered to be the most successful teacher of boys in England. The duller the lad, the more eager was Dr. Thring to take him in hand and develop him.

On one occasion a despairing father brought his son to him.

"John must do everything his own way," he said. "He opposes his teachers, his school-fellows, me in everything. He will not take it for granted that twice two are four until he has counted for himself."

"John is in far more hopeful condition than the amiable boy who always goes with the crowd," said the shrewd teacher, "provided he has common sense enough to find out some time that he is not infallible."

After two years the father went again to Dr. Thring.

"What miracle have you worked upon John?" he asked. "He is happy, affectionate and sensible."

"I taught him how to lead, and suffered him to be a leader," was the reply. "Boys are like sheep. One finds the path, the others follow. The masterful, strong boy can be trained into a wise captain. It is the weak lad who always copies his fellows that is not worth drilling."

The theory of this famous teacher is more worthy of attention because education too often treats boys and girls in the mass, neglecting individual development. Dr. Thring, by careful attention to boys of peculiar character, has given to the England

HAPPY LIVING.

Cultivate faith, obedience, service. The secret of holy and happy living is gathered up in these three words. There are a great many things we cannot understand, but these lie within our reach, and if we hold to them they will bring us through the darkest night beneath which the soul of man ever wrestled, into the perfect day.

1. Faith. If you cannot see God clearly look toward the spot from whence His voice comes, as a child instinctively turns in the dark toward the place from which its mother's voice issues; and remember that the mountains which soar the highest in the dark will be the first to catch the glint of the morning beam at dawn. From the east, though you be in the dark. Following on to know the Lord. Faith is the motion of the soul God-ward.

2. Obedience. Every time you obey you pull up the blind and let in more light. Every time you obey you break down the restraining reef and let more of the sea into the bay of your life. Obey the voice of God in the Book, the voice of God in your heart, the voice of God as He speaks through circumstances and His servants—obey.

3. Service. Never let a day go by without making the world a brighter, happier place for others, and, as you do so, the life abundant will gush out. A friend once told me that while he stood in the old Forum at Rome, watching the workmen using the pickaxe, one of them happened to strike away some rubbish and debris which had lain for centuries, and, as he did so, a fountain of water, well known in classic times as the Virgins' Fountain, but which had been imprisoned for centuries, found glad utterance again; the imprisonment was over, the stone was taken away from the sepulchre, and the beautiful fountain gushed into the Italian sunshine.

It may be that to-day such an experience is to be yours, and that some debris which has accumulated upon your heart, choking your life, by the grace of God and by the act of your own choice, shall be put away, so that the life which has been checked and restrained may become abundant, and you may know the fulfillment of our Lord's word: "It shall become in them a well of water, springing up into eternal life."
