and the improvement will surpass belief. "No under-shadow" is a great feature. But for the quality of its light alone it is superseding gas and electricity in city and country homes. Its light has all of their power with none of their glare and untidiness—soft, mellow, eye resting, and absolutely none of the smoking and offensive odors of ordinary lamps, either. There is nothing like it for convenience. It lights and extinguishes like gas, without removing globe—one fitting burns 16 to 23 hours, costing about 18 cents a month for oil. Compare that with the monthly gas and electric bills, or even the cost of that troublesome, smoky, smelly lamp you are using. For quality of the light, economy and satisfaction for all lighting purposes, there can be no comparison. It is the cheapest and the best kind of illumination.

ed as he discovered three crabs clinging to the curtains. "Where's the seventeenth?"

"I guess he's in my shoe," said Louis. Sure enough, Mr. Darcy found him there, and shook him out into the wash-bowl, which he hastily covered with a geography book.

"Now, he said, "get dressed; and after breakfast thank those seventeen animals for spending the night with you, and then take them back to the creek and throw them politely into the water."

So after breakfast, Louis and Joe, joined by Helen and Eunice and Phyllis, took a pailful of crabs down to the creek, and soon seventeen astonished crabs were back with their families, telling the story of their surprising adventures. — "Children's Magazine."

A "MAD DOG."

We take the following from the June issue of "Our Fourfooted Friends:"

One day this month the League was called by telephone and given a message to send immediately to a wholesale business house where there was a dog that had "gone mad." Our agent hurried to the house and found that the dog was shut up in a room by himself and no one dared go near him. The agent entered the room, found a small Boston terrier getting over a fit, and carried him to the League. Before the day was over the little dog was frolicing happily around and after a reasonable time, as he was not reclaimed, he was taken by some one who was going to give him a good home in the country.

It is so common a thing, now that the rabies scare has so weakened the minds of the public, to think that every dog who has a fit is suffering with that rarest of all dog diseases, rabies, that a teething puppy or a dog with colic or indigestion stands a very small chance of his life and is fortunate if he isn't cruelly beaten, stoned, or chased to death. It reminds one of the days of witchcraft—this hold that the fear of rabies has taken upon the public. Such epidemics of fear and dread are hard to resist. No doubt there is such a disease as rabies, but equally, there is no doubt that hundreds of dogs have been pronounced "mad" who were no more "mad" than the little Boston terrier we have just rescued and placed in a good home.—"Our Dumb Animals."

A really good man had rather be deceived than be suspicious, and rather forego his own right than run the venture of doing even a hard thing. This is the temper of that charity of which the apostle says that it shall never fail.

The soul that is full of pure and generous affections, fashions the features into its own angelic likeness. There is nothing on earth which so quickly transfigures a personality, refines, exalts irradiates with Heaven's own impress of loveliness, as a pervading, prevailing kindness of heart.

Wonderful Absorbing Power Of Charcoal

One Hundred Times Its Own Volume In Cases Rapidly Absorbed By It.

As a reliable remedy for stomach gases and intestinal flatulence, charcoal is without a peer. More than a century ago a French physician discovered the marvelous absorbing powers possessed by charcoal, and he experimented with it very extensively until he finally ascertained that charcoal made from willow wood possessed far more powerful and valuable medicinal properties than that made from any other wood.

Charcoal is a black, shining, brittle, porous, inodorous substance, insoluble, in water. It possesses to a wonderful degree the remarkable property of absorbing many times its own bulk in any and all gases, condensing and retaining them within itself. In addition to this, charcoal is a disinfectant and antiseptic and is used with great advantage in all cases of stomach and intestinal derangement, constipation, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus and true cholera, as the toxins which these conditions bring about in the alimentary system, are completely destroyed by its use.

Dr. Belloc recommended it strongly in gastralgia, as it abates the pain, nausea and vomiting from the functionally diseased stomach; while as a remedy for obstinate constipation, Dr. Daniel speaks of it in the highest terms. It has the advantage over other laxatives of acting mildly, though efficiently, instead of drastically, or harmfully.

Until the exclusive process by which STUART'S CHARCOAL LOZENGES are made, was discovered, people who suffered from stomach troubles, flatulence and offensive breath, were accustomed to use ordinary powdered charcoal, which is extremely disagreeable to the taste, and many persons after trying it once, could not be induced to resume using it.

Since the Stuart Company perfected their process of combining pure willow charcoal with sweet, palatable honey, all objections to the use of this powerful absorbent have been removed, and thousands of persons who were annoyed with stomach gases, bad breath, rumbling noises in the intestinal system, constipation, diarrhoea, liver torpor, etc., have voluntarily testified that not only do they find Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges extremely agreeable to the taste, and all that could be desired in that respect, but they also obtained complete relief from the above-mentioned diseases, after many other medicinal agents, previously tried, had failed completely.

If you are suffering from any of these annoying complaints, you cannot do better than to give this remedy a thorough trial, as relief from such troubles is absolutely assured. But be sure you get the genuine, as there are many imitations on the market, inferior in quality, and altogether worthless.

The foundation-stone of the new church of St. Wilfrid's, in Oldham-road, Newton Heath, was laid on a recent afternoon in the presence of a large gathering by the Rev. Canon Tancock, formerly head master of Rossall. Many years ago a Rossall Mission was established in Newton Heath, and the new church is the outcome, a separate parish having been formed out of the mother parish of All Saints'. The service was taken part in by the Rev. Ernest Hudson, the Rev. Dennis Fletcher, the Rev. F. J. Houghton (head master of Rossall, (the Rev. J. P. Wilson, and the Rev. Kenneth Maclure.
