RAILWAY ACCIDENT .-- We learn from th

the accident, a Rev. Mr Joalyn, who received some slight injuries.

Among the passengers were the following Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church, who were on their way to the General Convention to be held in Cincinnati next week:—Bishop Meade and Assistant Bishop Johns, of Virginia; Bishop De Lancey, of Western New York; Bishop Whittingham, of Maryland; and Bishop Eastburn, of Massachusetts. We are happy to learn that none of them were injured. Bishop Johns returned to Rochester with his family for the night, while the others proceeded to Buffalo. It is a wonder no lives were lost by the fearful accident.

The last cannon had not been first from the wails of Quebec, and the foot-prints of Astirican soldiers were yet impressed on the mands of that fortress, when the Surprise and Isis frigates appeared, with reinforcements in the harbor, and gave renewed hopes to its long besieged inhabitants, that the power of England would be exerted on their behalf. And yet how manfully, how heroically, did their brave enemies dispute every inch of ground, swan as they receded before undaunted bravery and overwhelming numbers. How one lingers over that page of history which recounts the deeds of American warrious, under their brave and gallant leaders, harrassed by the privations of a long winter's campaign, sincountering the hardships of war and the rigors of a Canadian elimate, to accomptish the success of the cause in which they were engaged! What higher, what nobler motive of action could animate men 1—their own breasts imbued with sentiments of liberty and of love and affection for their race!

What a sight it must have been, in June, 1776, to see a few regiments only of American militia, under the command of the gallant Thompson and Maxwell, leaving the beautiful village of Nicolet, where they had been joined by a small detailment under Coloniel St. Clair, sailing down the St. Lawrence in open boats or batteaux, regardless of the cannon holes in the sides of British frigates then riding at anchor between Three Rivers and Nicolet, and officially also been seen and Nicolet, and officially a serious a triangle, the Lotte Nt. SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 1st.

Great excitement prevails here this evening, on account of the support of presence of slave catelens. The colored people are arming, and the Fown Hall is througed by thousands of excited people, who are determined that not a slave shall be carried frow Springfield— Law or no Law? There will be hard against if the thing is attempted. There are about faity fugitive claves residing here.

The meeting was addressed by several fugitives and citizens,—among them was the venerable Dr. Oacood, who made some remarks against the bill, and pledged himself to do all in his power to defeat its application and protect fugitives. Recolutions were adopted declaring the "Bill? unconstitutional, and organg an organization against it, and declaring no fugitives should be carried from Springfields.

A large committee of safety was appointed.—It is supposed the meeting will be adjourned with the increw night. People have been standing inagase about the streets all day. Nothing else talked of Baltzmone, September 30, 1856.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.—We learn from the Rochester papers, that on Thursday evening the express train, consisting of six cars, filled with passengers, which left that city for Buffalo, was thrown off the track by coming in contact with a cow, and falling down an embankment, became a perfect wreck. The engineer and fireman escaped unhurt. A boy named Oliver—son of the keeper of the water station six miles West of the city, who acted as bell-ringer on the engine, had one leg badly broken, but was doing well this morning.

The tender and baggage cars were pretty much used up. One of the latter was thrown into a field near by. Of the passenger cars only two gene displaced from the track, and one of these process. and two or three passengers slightly injured. Only one, we believe, was detained by the accident, a Rev. Mr Joslyn, who received some slight injuries.

Among the passengers were the city. M., and at HALF-PAST FOUR e'clock, P. M.

Punch says that the camel has a particular way of renovating when too much is being put upon her back. She turns round and sighs. If sighs take no effect, she weeps. The tears are generally irresistible, and she is allowed her own way. We have heard of the same expedient being resorted to when ladies consider themselves "too much put upon." They turn around and weep, and instantly they are allowed their own way. The strongest thing in the world, is decidedly a woman's tear, for we never knew a man yet who could stand up against it. ISLE OF SHOALS.—The census of these Islands has just been taken by the Marshals of New Hampshire and Maine. One of them reports that the inhabitents of there islands are about as hardy a race of men as can be found in the world. The Islands themselves, situated tee miles out in the ocean, are nothing but a mass of bristling rocks, on which nothing but a few potatoes are raised. In severe storms from the East, when the surf dashes up to a great height, the keeper, of the onter ligot-house boarps up his windows and chimney, takes in his pig and cow, and lives a "retired" life, till fairer weatier. The population subalsts wholly by fishing.
