mighty strong man to look pleasant when he's feelin' ugly or give ye a glad handclasp of welcome when he wishes you and yer carpet-bag were in Jerico. But jest the same if ye care to look around ye'll find the fellers who get by air them that have mastered the art of holdin' their feelin's under. It pays ter get a grip on oneself and hold it ter!

No Paupers in All Monaco

Monte Carlo's Profits Last Year Were Over Four Millions - Neither War Nor Business Depression Could Keep Place From Flourishing.

(By J. B. Brandeth in the London Financial Times.)

The official statement, issued after the recent annual general meeting of the "Societe des Bains de Mer de Monaco," of "Monaco Sea Baths Co.," showed that the net profits for the working year 1913-14 amounted to $4,096,729.58, an increase of $320,000 over the net profits for 1912-13.

This handsome profit is not by any means made out of the bathing establishment on the sea front under the shadow of the rock of Monaco, and which by an amusing piece of fiction, is supposed to constitute the reason for the company's existence. Indeed, though I have been to Monaco a good many times, and once lived there for four months. I never discovered any foreign visitor who went to the sea bathing establishment to take his bath, and as for the natives.....

House of Recreation.
 The profits which enable the Monaco Sea Baths Company to pay such substantial dividends are exclusively derived from the Casino, a club-house which belongs to the company, and which is erected on the adjoining promontory of Monte Carlo. Pursuing the pleasant fiction which gives the company its name, it may be pointed out that when erecting the bathhouse half a century ago, the directors in their wisdom, came to the conclusion that a physical reaction generally occurred after a sea bath, and that it would be well to provide possible bathers with some form of mild excitement which, while stimulating the nerve centres, would not raise the temperature unduly. Prompted by such a praise-worthy motive, the directors obtained permission from the little principality—namely, Prince Charles III.—to build a "house of recreation," in which a number of games should be installed, and especially a game known as "roulette."

Very Much Like Gambling.
 I have heard it stated, but cannot of course, guarantee the truth of the story, that when the late M. Blanc called upon the Prince and showed his Highness the little cylinder or wheel, with its red and black "spokes" and its numbered edge, and explained the working of the game of roulette, Charles III., who had received a Christian training, looked distressed. "Dear me" he is reported to have said, "I am afraid this seems very much like gambling"; but the Bishop of Monaco, who had had some previous conversation with M. Blanc and who was present at the interview, intervened opportunely. The right reverend gentleman suggested to the Prince that it seemed to him, judging from M. Blanc's explanations, to be rather a scientific form of propounding, in a recreative manner, the interesting theory as to the laws which govern chance."

Prayers for his Success.
 The Prince, who was probably less innocent on the subject than his Bishop, asked no better than to be convinced, especially as he was to receive a very substantial annuity in return for the concession. So on May 13, 1858, the foundation stone of the Casino was laid, and the Bishop attended and read prayers for its success.

THE HARVEST HAND

Triumphantly the toiler roared, "I get three bones a day and board! That's going some, eh, what?" And on he labored, brave and strong; the work was hard and the hours were long, the day was passing hot—that sort of thing appeals to me—and watched him as he toiled; the sweat rolled down him in a stream, and I could see his garments steam, his face and hands were broiled. He chuckled as he toiled away. "They're paying me three bones a day with board and washing too!" That was his dream of easy money—to stew and simmer in the sun, for that, the long day through! And I who earn three iron pennies with sundry scratches of a pen, felt sorry for the jay; but as I watched his stalwart form, the pity that was growing warm within me, blew away. For he was getting more than wealth—keen appetite and rugged health and blessings such as those; and when the day of toil was through, no doubt the stalwart worker knew a weary child's repose!

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

Kept her locks youthful, dark, glossy and thick with common garden Sage and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it comes so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Remedy." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger. Agent T. George Bowles.
