

Kaiser, Like Napoleon, Will Soon be Fighting for Very Existence

The American military officer writing a daily review of the war for the New York Herald says in Tuesday's paper.

The German situation at this writing betrays a marked resemblance to the position of Napoleon following the great battle of Leipzig. In that memorable action the French were defeated and Europe rose in a coalition against the French. From that time on the armies of Napoleon were compelled to fight for Napoleon were compelled to fight, not for further conquest, but to serve their own lines of retreat to the Rhine. In the following spring, 1814, Napoleon was battling for his very existence on the ground where the Germans and allies are now locked in battle.

less known for days that heavy reinforcements are coming forward to the allies, and that the logical point for disembarking a new army is at the Channel ports, which in itself would place those new troops right across the German line of retreat.

The rigid censorship which has been instituted by the allies at this moment would in itself portend, that some movement of great importance is taking place. It has been reported that strong forces have been passing to the northward west of St. Quentin, and it is not improbable that this movement involves "East" Indian troops. The belief is strong that since the Germans fell back on the Aisne the British have brought into being a formidable force for striking at the point where it will count the most.

Headache, Colds, Costive Bowels, Take Cascarets

To-night Clean Your Bowels and End Headache Colds, Sour Stomach.

Get a 10-cent box now. You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, bad taste and fœid breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have a bad cold.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and fœid gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular, and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

CANADA'S FIRE LOSS.
TORONTO, Oct. 2.—The Monetary Times estimate of Canada's fire loss during September amounted to $226,288, compared with August loss of $202,329 and $146,834 for September of last year. Fires at Berlin, Ont., on September 28, and at St. Stephen, N. B., September 29, account for one-third of the loss. This is the smallest monthly total reported since October, 1911.

HOW 'GAY GORDONS' FOUGHT

Four Battles in Five Days—Only 170 of Regiment Left to Answer Roll Call.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—From a letter written by one of England's wounded heroes in Alexandria Hospital, Cosham, Hants, a lucid idea is obtained of the spirit of intense patriotism which actuates every officer and man of Great Britain's forces in the field. The letter was written by Samuel Smiley, one of the pitifully meagre remnants of what was one of the nation's crack regiments of the line, the Gordon Highlanders, known throughout the service as "the gay and gallant Gordons." It appears that more than seventy-five per cent. of the command either perished or were wounded in the first fierce fighting on Belgian soil. Some extracts follow:

Hurricane of Shell.
"At Mons I got a crack on the knee with a shrapnel splinter. I knew nothing of it until my officer pointed it out to me. I dug it out with a pen knife and now I assure you I feel no ill effects. Of course there is a wound, but I'll be surprised if it is not healed within a week."

"I'll tell you about the fighting at Mons, but I have absolutely no coherent recollection of Cambrai. The hurricane of shell there has left me benumbed, and I do not yet realize that I am home. We marched out of our billets at four o'clock in the morning and took up a position on the main Paris road. Mons itself was somewhat what left on our rear."

Their Busy Days
"At four o'clock on Monday morning they attacked so again, so we left the milk (303) on the doorstep and retired again. Two fights and fifteen miles in thirty-six hours. On Tuesday at 2.30 p.m. the Gordons were sent to out some German infantry from a position on our left front. We had to cross a long turnip field, and I twisted my bad ankle. It was a damned fine state of affairs, and my company officer got me a seat on the limber of the 128th battery. Royal Field Artillery. I had not been up ten minutes before they galloped into action with me. I was beginning to feel the reverse of cheerful when, after they fired a few rounds we got our order to make our getaway."

Made the Best of It
"Accordingly I attached myself to the Royal Fusiliers, B. Company. At 6.30 on Wednesday morning as they were going into action, I thought I might as well make the best of it, so I went into action with them. I fought all that day and marched all night and when 8 o'clock Thursday morning came I saw all that was left of the gallant and gay Gordons—170 men answered their names. God knows how many more were alive. I joined up there and carried on retiring until we arrived at Noyon. Four engagements and fifty miles in five days.

"I was compelled to go sick there. The pain in my leg was unbearable, and the doctor dangled me on a Red Cross train and sent me to Rouen. I was there an hour when came the command, 'Hurry up, hurry up, we've got to quit,' so we were chivvied up to Havre, and well, there you are."

Headquarters 38th Regiment D. R. of C.
Regimental Orders by Major H. A. Genet Commanding in absence of Lieut.-Col. F. A. Howard, on Service

Brantford 3rd October, 1914.
No. 130—Captain for the week ending 10th October, Captain M. E. B. Cutcliffe; next for duty, Captain E. H. Newman. Subaltern of the week, Lieut. W. M. Paterson; next for duty, Lieut. W. A. Burrows. Regimental Orderly Sergeant, Sergt. F. Pearce, next for duty, Sergt. G. Kellogg.

Simply Blasted Away.
"They occupied the wood to our left front. We opened on them with a terrific maxim fire. Poor devils, they advanced in companies of quite 150 men in files five deep. As our rifle has a flat trajectory up to 600 yards, you can guess the result. We could steady our rifles on the trenches and take deliberate aim. The first company of them was simply blasted away to heaven by a volley at 700 yards, and in their insane formation every bullet was sure to find two billets."
