ORCUTT'S BRANTS DEFEAT WESTERN ONTARIO REGIMENT

Muir, in the Box for the Pros., Is Found Too Elusive by the Soldiers

London, June 24.—A big crowd of soldiers saw their baseball team's colors lowered on Saturday afternoon at Tecumseh Park by Del Orcutt's Brantford "pros." by the score of 15 to 0. The respective strength of the teams, however, cannot be measured as a result of that count.

The Western Ontario Regiment team was helpless with their bats against the pitching of Harvey Muir, the Hamilton boy, who years ago twirled a few games in the Canadian League. Muir kept five hits well scattered, and the balance of the Brantford team had comparatively an easy time in the field.

Kenneth Hagel, in the box for the pros., apparently was unable to hurl his best article of ball owing to the cold wind which swept the diamond, but these elements just seemed to be the liking of Muir. Hagel was touched up for 4 hits, in bunches, and coming with some loose fielding accounted for the one-sided trouncing. Team Captain Sergt. McLeod could not relieve Hagel in the first inning, as he had no relief pitchers.

The playing field was rough, but this did not handicap the Brants as it did the boys who were over.

A close decision at the plate by Umpire Fitzmaurice robbed the soldiers of the opportunity of not being shut-out. Fulton was on second in the fifth inning when Vandellinger singled to centre field. A smart throw from McKelvie got to the plate at the same time that Fulton slid across.

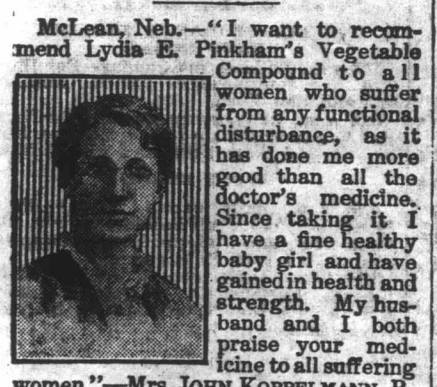

The Brants got busy with their bats in the first inning, found Hagel for three singles, and these coupled with a base on balls to "Dinny" Burke, and an error by Hagel, resulted in three runs, which resulted in being sufficient. The Brants added two more in the second and then some more. The scores:

MANY LIMBS SAVED. Ottawa, June 23.—W. E. Segsworth, administrator of the vocational branch of the British and Soldiers' Commission, is authority for the statement that 1,600 sufferers from the Halifax explosion of December 6 last owe "limbs" preserved from their limbs to three returned soldiers who lost their eye sight at the front, and who at the time of the Halifax disaster were training the course in massage at the school for the blind in that city.

Private Peter Donaldson, formerly a clerk at Fort William, Private Hopkins, a station agent at Stavelley, Alberta, and Private Stirling, a railway conductor at Maitland, N.S., are the three soldiers. They have since received diplomas at McGill and will take post-graduate courses in the Montreal Hospitals.
