DON'T BE DUPED

There have been placed upon the market several cheap reprints of an obsolete edition of "Webster's Dictionary." They are being offered under various names at a low price.

By dry goods dealers, grocers, agents, etc., and in a few instances as a premium for subscriptions to papers.

Announcements of these comparatively worthless reprints are very misleading; for instance, they are advertised to be the substantial equivalent of a higher-priced book, when in reality, so far as we know and believe, they are all from A to Z.

Reprint Dictionaries, phototype copies of a book of over years ago, which in its day was sold for about $5.00, and which was much superior in paper, print, and binding to these imitations, being then a work of some merit instead of one of no value.

Long Since Obsolete.
The supplement of 10,000 so-called "new words," which some of these books are advertised to contain, was compiled by a gentleman who died over forty years ago, and was published before his death. Other minor additions are probably of more or less value.

The Genuine Edition of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, which is the only meritorious one familiar to this generation, contains nearly every page and bears our imprint on the title page. It is protected by copyright from cheap imitations.

Valuable as this work is, we have at vast expense published a thoroughly revised and corrected edition, the name of which is WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY.

LIFE'S PROCESSION.

It is often sad, as you will learn by this.

"And then the heartbroken, despairing girl fled from the house—fled down the street—on to the suburbs—out into the country lying bathed in the moonlight. She made straight for the precious, and with a sob in her throat and a prayer on her lips she took the awful plunge." (Continued in our next for a nickel. If you don't get the next number, you'll never know how many bones she had broken.)

"What! Marry you!" almost screamed the haughty Afrida as she drew herself up with queenly dignity. "Sir, I would die first!"

"Then die!" shouted the count as he stepped back and began whirling the crowbar around his head to give momentum to his blow. At the moment he was about to bring the terrible weapon down upon her thin and aristocratic skull the door opened and—(Don't fail to see our next week's issue. It will contain a war map and full details of why and how the door opened and what resulted.)

"Father, if you insist that I marry this man, for whom I have not a spark of love—if you are determined"— "I am determined," interrupted the father.

"And my happiness—my tears—my prayers—will not move you?"

"Not a move."

"Then, cold, cruel, heartless, selfish, unfeeling, unnatural father—then, sir, it only remains for me to—"

(What remained for her will be told in our next issue, and if you miss it you will miss a good thing. A nickel pays the bill.) M. QUAD.

Reasonable Hypothesis.

Demidoff—Why, I've only known the cweatchah faw three months, and when tawking to him lawst night the fwont of my eyes.

Mrs. Billings—Why, no, dear.

Mr. Billings—Yes, we have too. I

The Professors' Investigations.
Professor Brown is making an investigation as to how the peach stone got into the peach, and Professor Black is endeavoring to find out how the peach got around the peach stone. Professor Brown thinks that Professor Black is crazy, and Professor Black is sure that Professor Brown is underwritten.—Bos-

Urgent.
A Winfield lawyer received a letter from a client the other day urging him to hasten a certain collection. "I am hard up," concluded the writer, "and need the money bad. Hoping this will find you the same. I am yours," etc.— Kansas City Journal.

In Paris.
"What did you find to be the most entertaining exhibit at the Paris exposition?"

"My husband's exhibit of American French seemed to entertain everybody the most."—Chicago Tribune.

Always Fine.
"Sets a good table, eh? How's the meat?"

"Fine! Chopped steak"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Rather Different.
"My dear, won't you give me a lock of your hair?"

"With pleasure, my darling."

"And a nice gold locket to keep it in?"

The Haunted House.
Within a haunted house a man did dwell;
I wot that he was very ill at ease.
A gruesome tale of terror did he tell Of the full time that caused his blood to freeze.

Of how upon his threshold it did wait And waited and grumbled like the wintry wind In hopeless quest from early until late Of something it might never hope to find.

With quiverous complainings as he sat In the night and in the day He would manifest itself and rate And grudge till it drove them from the place.

Withal it was no unobtrusive spirit, Which, knowing not, all men would seek to shun.
No airy, vaporous visitant at night;
The house was simply haunted by a dun.

WOMEN WHO WEAR WELL.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life will make in the appearance of many women.

The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden.

There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. The general husband suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate, womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Half a million women and more have found health and happiness in the use of Dr.
Foster's Favorite Prescription. Sick women well.

Never strive vainly to keep up a flagging conversation. Better be silent and look pleasant unless you have something sensible and fitting to remark.

Troubles of a Minister.

To benefit others Rev. J. T. W. Vernon, of Hartwell, Ga., writes: "For a long time I had a running sore on my leg. I tried many remedies without benefit, until I used a bottle of Electric Bitters and a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly cured me." "Falls in eruptions, Bruises, Accidents and Piles. Cure guaranteed.
Only 25c. at A. I. McCall & Co's drug store."

A good name is better than great riches—and less common.

Ver-reads Right.
"Large ones covered the head and face of our child," writes C. D. Isbill, of Morgantown, Tenn., "that no treatment helped till we used Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly cured her." "Falls in eruptions, Bruises, Accidents and Piles. Cure guaranteed.
store."

Blessed is the bald-headed man. He never gets his hair out when the barbers hop is crowded.

Sentenced to Death.

"You are in the last stages of Consumption and cannot live more than a month," were the words of doom heard by Mrs. Rosa Richardson, of Laurel Springs, N. C., from her doctors, "but she began to use Dr. King's New Discovery," writes Dr. Richardson, "and that place," and was wholly cured by it. She is now a stout, well woman.
It's the supreme cure for desperate diseases of throat and lungs. Infallible for Croup, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1. Trial bot-

Blown to Atoms.

The old idea that the body sometimes needs a powerful, drastic, purgative pill has been exploded; for Dr. King's cleanse the system and absolutely cure Constipation and sick headache. Only

The Future of Our Legs.

Professor Yung of the University of Guelph, Switzerland, entertains great fears concerning the future of our lower limbs. This sage is of the opinion that within the next thousand years human beings will have forgotten how to use their legs, and that these limbs, if evolution will not do away with them, will serve as mere ornaments to the rest of the body.

Professor Yung states that at the present age human beings show a decided aversion to personal or physical locomotion, and this is more manifest every time a new automatic traveling instrument is invented and rendered practical. Steam, electricity, cable power and the different velocipede machines all bear an influence over us and create a dislike for walking, and the future generations will likely have the convenience of steerable airships at their windows and electric automobiles at their doors, and these conveyances will be so cheap that almost every one can own them, and this means the doom of our legs.

The latter will be regarded as superfluous appendages, no use will be made of them, and who knows but that they may disappear altogether? But so much more will our arms develop in length and strength. These are the cruel laws of evolution, and it will be due to the pranks that future generations will again resemble the apes.
There will come another epoch of short legs and long arms.

Complied With the Law.
"A certain well known Mobile lawyer, who was lame and had something of a reputation as a fighter," said a southern gentleman, was at one time attorney in a suit the suit for his client, feeling. He won the suit for his client, the loser vowed vengeance. "In pursuance of that same," in the language of Truthful James, he one day went into the lawyer's office and subjected him to a tirade of abuse that would have caused a salt water captain to die from pure envy, such was his talent in vituperation.

"The lawyer answered him nothing, to the surprise of two or three men who were present, but, getting out of his chair, began to hobble backward.
His enemy, thinking he was retreating, followed him up, with more abuse and threatening gestures.

"The lawyer's foot finally 'ruck against the wall, when he suddenly straightened up and saying, 'Gentlemen, I call on you to witness that, on account of this wall, I have retreated as far as possible.'"

"At the trial he was acquitted, his witnesses being the men present at the time of the killing, who testified to the lawyer's having retreated as far as possible."
