THAT NEW OFFER.

The latest proposition which the Street Railway Company has laid before the aldermen presents a somewhat difficult problem for their solution, and one that will require much careful study to thoroughly analyze it and guard the interests of the ratepayers, if any action is to be taken along the lines it lays down. Whether it is likely to be regarded as more attractive than former propositions discussed, we are inclined to doubt.

As it now presents itself to us, it is, in a sense, a partnership proposition. But the partnership is not a full one. The city is made a partner only in relation to the net profits; it is not given any representation on the directorate, or any voice in the management of the property. This, we fancy, will be regarded as an arrangement that will not satisfy the people. Liberal as is the proposal to give the city 35 per cent. of the net profits, and crediting the company with all good faith in making the offer, it must strike any one who studies the terms that under them the city would always be at a disadvantage in not being able to direct in any way the company's policy and operations, which have so great a bearing on the question of how much, if any, shall be the net earnings to be divided after all charges are met. Indeed, but for the single stipulation that the city's share shall not fall below present receipts, it is conceivable that many would be prepared to read the new proposition as likely to guarantee us nothing.

Objection was made by some to previous propositions on the ground that there was "too much of a gamble" in them. Yet the aldermanic one guaranteed the city its present income from the street railway, plus 5 per cent. on increase of gross earnings, while Col. Gibson's offer but cut off 1 per cent. on that increase. We cannot but think, with our present understanding of the latest offer, that either of the others are less complicated, leave less (from the point of view of the city) to chance, and more fully safeguard the city's interest in the railway's earnings. Perhaps the proposition may be capable of being presented in a more favorable light; but on the face of it, that is the way it strikes us at present.

Beyond these features, too, it is to be noted that the acceptance of this latest proposition would mean the abrogation of the present agreement, instead of its amendment; and to that there will doubtless be strong objection by many citizens. The effect of the proposals for financing improvements and extensions would be to revolutionize the arrangement dealing with the situation at the end of the franchise term; and that alone makes it a matter that must be very cautiously approached. It is conceivable that the proposition might form a basis for a new deal, acceptable to the city, if her partnership rights were carefully guarded; but we are at present of the opinion that the former proposals—assuming, of course, that the city's present and future street railway requirements are fully secured—are less complicated, leave less to contingencies of the future, and involve fewer chances of serious mistake than the one just made. If we are in error we stand ready to be enlightened.

NORTH WENTWORTH.

The Conservatives of the North Wentworth riding met in convention on Saturday at Dundas and chose Gordon C. Wilson as their standard bearer in the coming Provincial elections for that constituency. Mr. Wilson carried the banner of the party once before, but he carried it to defeat, being counted among the "also-rans" at the close of the battle. The candidate was not chosen without opposition, several names being mentioned for the position, but all, with one accord, except Mr. Chub Collins, refused the job. The chances of success being far too slim to tempt them to run. Mr. Collins allowed his name to go before the meeting, but it was not received with favor, and he was unanimously turned down. Mr. Collins is known to be in every way a more able man than Mr. Wilson, and perhaps has fewer personal enemies than he has, and his rejection cannot help but antagonize his large number of supporters. What most incenses his friends is the open secret that Mr. Collins was "batted out" because of his religion, many prominent Tories alleging that on that account he could not be elected in the constituency—outside of Dundas he would have "no show" was the way it was put. The Times will leave this matter for the party to fight out among themselves.

The Liberals, however, are quite well pleased to have Mr. Wilson as an opponent of the present popular member, Mr. R. A. Thompson. He defeated him before, and will do so again. Mr. Wilson is weaker to-day than he was when he last ran. The party is divided, hopelessly divided, we understand, and Mr. Wilson has been, to a great extent, the cause of the division, and his selection will not help in any way to heal the breach. Mr. Thompson's sickness comes at an unfortunate time, but the Times and his constituents hope for his speedy recovery, and it goes without saying that his many friends will see to it that his interests do not suffer in the meantime by his unfortunate illness.

Chub's announcement that he may run whether endorsed or not, shows the size of the split in the party, and that it is far from being in good fighting trim. As far as the Liberals are concerned, it is a case of "the more the merrier."

WHITNEY VS. DOWNEY.

Poor Joe Downey got his bumps last week in the Legislature. Joe has fathered a bill, which has many good points, to discourage bonus-giving by municipalities, and he has received many compliments for bringing it forward. When the measure came up on Wednesday for its second reading, and after its sponsor had spent some time in defending the principles upon which it was founded, Hon. Mr. Whitney arose, declared himself in favor of the bonus system, and asserted that he did not believe in a single clause of the bill. Mr. Whitney cannot get over the good old Tory idea that the money of the individual should be liable to be taken from him by the vote of the majority, and without his consent, to be given to somebody else who may have obtained the favor of that majority. His reproach of Downey was quite in keeping with his whole course in dealing with the Hydro-Electric and many other matters in which municipalities are concerned. Mr. Downey is on the right track in this matter, and the only objection to his bill is, that it is not thorough enough. The bonus should go.

TROTS OUT SIR JOHN.

The Winnipeg Telegram, in its effort to glorify the Ottawa Opposition, represents it as boldly making charges, according to Parliamentary usage, the Government forces determinedly refusing it the opportunity of investigating them. Then it proceeds to contrast the Government's attitude with that of Sir John A. Macdonald who, it asserts, would never have denied investigation. As illustrating the old chieftain's openness, it refers to the "Pacific Scandal," and declares that "when parliament desired to probe the matter to the bottom, Sir John A. Macdonald gave parliament all the assistance in his power."

Investigation was not merely refused, it was courted by the great leader. If the adolescent who attacked the Liberal financing, it is even constrained to admit that the showing made is an excellent one, and it falls back upon fears for the future—dread of the necessity for continued great outlays for national needs—as the only peg upon which it can hang an adverse criticism.

Hon. Mr. Fielding's proposal with regard to the issue of emergency currency to give greater elasticity to our banking system appears to meet with the approval of leading financiers. It seems to offer great advantages at crop-mowing times, and if surrounded with proper restrictions, as it would doubtless be if adopted, will prove to be a valuable amendment to our excellent banking laws.

The Hamilton Herald speaks of the "Catastrophe papers." That is a favorite subject with it. It likes to convey the impression that it is the only paper in Hamilton that looks after the interests of the citizens, and in doing so shows its contemptible meanness. The Times has no interest in the Catastrophe Company, is not indebted to it in any way, looks for no favors from it, expects none, and would take none.

The Ontario Railway Board was not appointed for the purpose of helping to make agreements between municipalities and corporations, but to interpret them and give effect to them.—Hamilton Herald.

The Ontario Railway Board does not seem to think that it is precluded from helping to avert trouble by assisting municipalities and corporations in arriving at agreements. If it can do so, as even High Court Judges frequently do by advising litigants to get together, it does a great deal better work than in seeking to patch up difficulties after the parties are at daggers drawn. The Board is the arbitrator, in any event, and Ald. Sweeney and those who, like him, would welcome the Board's assistance in the city's interest, are well advised.

The Toronto World praises Manchester, England, and holds it up as a brilliant example of courageous and successful public ownership, citing the Manchester Canal in evidence. It is to be borne in mind, however, that the Manchester Canal is essentially a private venture, and was designed, projected and carried out by a private company. True, after the work had been well advanced, the City of Manchester became a shareholder, to the extent of about $25,000,000, and obtained representation on the directorate. Had there been a Manchester Canal under similar conditions, it is highly probable that it would have been "under the hammer" long ago.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

However, Gordon C. Wilson is accused to defeat.

The South Wentworth Tories appear to draw the line at Chub Collins.

There need be little complication in the offer to buy or sell the street lighting plant.

The honest newspaper advocates what it believes to be right, rather than what is popular. The popular side is not always the right side.

Four new constituencies for Northern Ontario. The country which the Tory organs used to sneer at as not worth $5 a square mile, and on which Ross ventured so much, is growing into its own.

A California Chinese is said to have produced an odorless onion equal in all other respects to the ordinary vegetable. One more excuse gone for chewing coffee and cloves!

But if Hon. Adam Beck's denial that he received any money from the Government for expenses of transportation of horses to the International Horse Show in London is as full and candid as the Legislature had a right to expect, and if it is true that no other horses were sent there from Ontario, save those belonging to Hon. Adam Beck and his wife, how comes it that three items—$811.85, $756.81 and $142.33—appear in the Public Accounts charged as expenses of transporting such horses?

The liquor license by-law passed by the Toronto City Council has been quashed on a technicality. Now the temperance people are discussing whether to appeal the case or start a local option campaign.

Mr. Thompson, member for the Yukon, who has worn the mask of an independent during the session, has announced his adherence to the Tory party. After his disgraceful anti-British tirade of a few days ago, decent Liberals will feel somewhat relieved at his confession of faith.

Nova Scotia papers admit that British Columbia grows great fruit, but they challenge that Province's title to "the orchard of Canada." How would it do for the partisans of the Provinces of the coasts to take a drive through the fruit district of Ontario before getting too warm?

Justice Mabee will be Chairman of the Dominion Railway Commission in place of the late Judge Killari, the question of pension having been arranged to his satisfaction by the Government. The country at large will be pleased to hear that Mr. Mabee has accepted the position.

The Toronto World seeks in vain the Budget Speech for an opening for attacking the Liberal financing. It is even constrained to admit that the showing made is an excellent one, and it falls back upon fears for the future—dread of the necessity for continued great outlays for national needs—as the only peg upon which it can hang an adverse criticism.

Speaking of Whitney's much boasted "approved schools" system from which students may be sent forth as teachers, without any examination, the Toronto Globe says:

It is obvious that such a system, while it lessens the evils inseparable from written examinations, make possible other evils of an equally objectionable character, and that if these are to be prevented the Department must devise effective safeguards and supply them without fear or favor.

The evils which this irresponsible system may bring in its train quite overshadow any that may have grown out of badly managed or inefficient examinations, as time will demonstrate. What is an examination? Why does a teacher "examine," that is, enquire into whether or not the student has acquainted himself with the subject which he has been studying? Is it an evil to attempt to ascertain whether the teaching and the study have had good results—to satisfy that the student is capable up to that point, or not? A lot of nonsense has been talked about this examination evil, and some of it by men who might be supposed to have sense enough to come in when it rained.

"Who," asked the minister, "gives this woman away?" "Hold on, mistaire, if you plis," said the titled foreigner; "zis woman is not given away—it is a trade."—Chicago Record-Herald.

OUR EXCHANGES

Won't Call Them.
(Toronto Globe.)
Mr. Burrows has been a lumberman in the west for thirty years, and the Imperial Pulp Company was started before he became a member. Does Mr. Ames desire to establish the principle that a lumberman cannot be a member of Parliament? Mr. Burrows has been asking the Opposition managers to call him, and so has Mr. Turill, but they are as shy as school girls about it.

A Case of Bridge.
(Toronto Star.)
The Bishop of Ottawa has canonical objections against allowing Frederick Bridge, the great of Westminster Abbey, to give his performance in the cathedral. It is not a case, we understand, of not playing Bridge, but much as not letting Bridge play.

Pleasant to See.
(Oakville Record.)
Many stations along the G. T. R. are surrounded by nicely kept grounds adorned with flowers and foliage. The Port Credit station ground looks pleasing to the eye of the traveler as he passes by. There's nothing beautiful around the station, and yet this is a great summer resort, with an immense trade being done by the railway. Only a little more attention would be pleased to see the railway company "pretty up" their property here.

SAY THAT GRECO CONFESSED.

and his brother is seven years his elder. They have neither been in this country long, and did not intermingle much with the other workmen at the quarry. Their method of settling disputes is hereditary, and in this case the authorities will try to show that it was planned and executed in cold blood.

Dr. Rennie performed a post mortem at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones, on Saturday afternoon, and will make known his report at the inquest, as a witness. Before the death of the Italian it was stated that the operation had been successful, and Dr. Rennie held out hopes for the recovery of his patient. When pneumonia set in it complicated matters, and considerably lessened the chances of the injured man's recovery. The cause of the pneumonia may have been exposure after the injured man had been working for some time in the shaft in which he was employed, as he was rendered him, and then bringing him miles on the car.

Twiss Found a Letter.

Another story the police have handed out about the tip as to the whereabouts of the Greco brothers reflects much credit on the work of Chief Twiss, of Dundas. On Friday last about the time the Chief Constable of Police wired to this city re the influx of foreign address, Brantford, and the possible arrival of the Greco brothers in the bunch, Chief Twiss heard that one of the employees at the quarry was writing and receiving letters from both the Grecos. He investigated on Friday afternoon, and got a letter from the men giving their address and exact whereabouts. He wired Chief Slemin, of Brantford, to investigate, and the address was found and five Italians discovered in the house. The chief then got busy, and it was on this tip he arrested the men.

The Inquest.

The inquest into the death of Antonio Riesz was opened at the city morgue on Saturday afternoon under Coroner Anderson. The jury unannounced by Constable Staton was as follows: William Henry, George Brett, Thomas Tough, James Berryman, William Jones, Fred Menhennett, William Deahie, William Leatham, William Gordon, George Robinson, John Morgan, Henry J. Hammond, Harry George and Lewis Ketchum. After viewing the remains the jurors adjourned to meet again on Wednesday evening in the Police Court room.

In the Police Court.

Guiseppie and Bruno Greco sat quietly in the dock at the Police Court this morning, and spoke hardly a word. A number of their friends were in the back benches, and the police had to speak to the younger brother several times to keep him from calling to them. They stood up together when their names were called, and Chief Smith asked for a remand till next Thursday morning, which was granted. The two men were not represented by counsel, and no lawyers have been to see them. Through an interpreter they said they could not get the little money they owned, as the Crown will, in that case, supply competent counsel. Guiseppie (George) Greco, who is said to have confessed to stabbing the deceased, is a small man, and looks like the ordinary run of foreigners. He has a little light moustache, and shambles a bit. The jury taken to the city hall, and the case adjourned till next Thursday morning.

Riesz's Remains Buried.

The funeral of Antonio Riesz took place this morning at the Holy Sepulchre Cemetery. A large number of the friends of the deceased and the prisoners are in town, and a number attended the funeral.

MURDER TRIAL.

Woodville Boy Charged With Killing Detroit Woman.

Detroit, March 23.—The trial of Percy Bowin, the 18-year-old Indian boy charged with the murder of Mrs. Welsh, who was beaten to death in her home one night early last January, began this morning. Bowin's parents, who reside near Woodville, Ontario, will be present on the stand. Assistant Prosecutors handle the case for the people, and Attorney Edwards H. Kennedy will represent Bowin. More than 50 witnesses will be called. It was claimed by the police during the preliminary examination of Bowin that the youth had made a full confession of the murder, his motive being to get the old woman's money, so that he might follow a woman considerably older than himself, with whom he had become infatuated, to Buffalo.

FATALLY HURT.

Sarnia, March 23.—Telford Adams, employed in fitting out the steamer Huron, missed his footing and fell into the hold of the boat. Two ribs were broken and other internal injuries sustained. Adams was removed to the hospital, where slight hopes are held for his recovery.
