THE AMERICAN

$8 DOLLAR $8

Typewriter.

THIS is a well-made, practical machine, writing capitals, small letters, figures, and punctuation marks (71 in all) on full width paper, just like a $100 instrument. It is the first of its kind ever offered at a popular price, for which the above claim can be truthfully made. It is not a toy, but a Typewriter built for and capable of REAL WORK. While not as rapid as the large machines sometimes become in expert hands, it is still at least as rapid as the pen, and has the advantage of such simplicity, that it can be understood and mastered almost at a glance. We cordially commend it to helpful parents and teachers everywhere.

Writes Capitals, small letters, figures and marks, 71 in all.
Writes just like a $100 machine.
No shift keys. No Ribbon. Prints from the type direct.
Prints on flat surface.
Writing always in sight.
Corrections and insertions easily made.
Takes any width of paper or envelope up to 8 1/2 inches.

Easy to understand, learned in five minutes.
Weights only four pounds, most portable.
Compact, takes up but little room.
Built solid and simple. Can't get out of order.
Capital and lower-case keyboard alike, easily mastered.
More "margin play" for the small letters which do most of the work.
Takes good letter press copies.

Packed securely in handsome case and expressed to any address on receipt of price, $8.00, in registered letter, money order or certified check. We guarantee every machine and are glad to answer all enquiries for further information.

SOUTHAMPTON.

Dec. 12.—Alfred Lenentine was baptized in the river after the morning service Sunday before last by Rev. H. A. Bonnell of Caverhill. Mr. Lenentine is quite an old man and at one time had a paralytic stroke losing the use of his right arm and leg. During the following week Mr. Bonnell held night meetings both here and over in Canterbury.

Miss Fannie Pickard of the Barony, is here visiting her friend Miss May Maxon. John Grant took a crew of men to the woods last Monday week. This "recreation" (as the gentleman who wrote the graphic and interesting account of his camp and crew last winter was pleased to style him) operates for Murchie Bros. at Deer Lake. By the way, if this paragraph should meet the eye of that writer he might be interested to know that the renowned Herman has given Amos a "licking."

Prof. Robinson, who as he has several times stated, is employed by our own local government to give instruction in farming, especially in dairying, gave one of his very interesting and instructive lectures in the Miller school house last Tuesday evening. W. S. Tompkins was elected chairman and F. C. Brown, secretary. The chairman happily introduced the speaker who said that he had been asked by the local government to come down from Ontario and look the province over with a view of seeing whether or not the condition of the farmers could not be made better. He came and found we had plenty of good, cold spring water, the first essential to successful dairying, good food for our cattle and a splendid climate. As a result of the move in this direction, the province had taken eight prizes at the "World's Fair" of Crows. He did not believe in "rotation of crops," but strongly advocated letting land rest by pasturing. He held that we plow our land to death; the plow was like doctor's medicine to a run-down horse (which simply needed rest and food), and the scythe coming after the plow, was like the whip on the back of the horse after the medicine had been administered. Better farm fires were well than both 300. He said we could not profitably raise beef, for as the prices ranged, it was not a fair wage for a fair day's work, but we should go into pork raising. We were not to feed the pigs on barley whatever we did. It spoiled the flavor of the meat and made it curl up in the pan and all or nearly all fry away to grease. But potatoes and oats (chopped) was the ideal food for "Mr. Piggie." In conclusion he gave an analysis of butter as follows: 45° of water fat; 40° of caseine; 45° of carbonaceous food and 87.0° of water. He explained how cream was forced to the top by the contracting of the particles of caseine or curd as they sank above the little oily particles up. Hence strain milk when warm, and not interrupt these natural laws. Time or space will not allow me to give a complete synopsis of all the topics he discussed, but surely the government made a wise choice in selecting him, for he at once puts himself on the best of terms with his audience without which we cannot successfully teach.

MARYSVILLE DIVISION.
An occasional correspondent sends us the following:
This division is now one of the most flourishing temperance organizations, not only in the province of New Brunswick, but also in the Dominion of Canada. Its membership now numbers two hundred in good standing, and large accessions are being constantly added. Eight new members were initiated a week ago Friday evening, and ten others were proposed, so that we can truthfully say ours is the banner division of the Dominion. On the same evening, after the business of the division was settled, a very lengthy program of entertainment was carried out, consisting of dialogues, vocal and instrumental music, also a reading, and added greatly to the enjoyment and pleasure of the members present. I must state here that a very interesting entertainment is in course of preparation, and to which the public will be admitted, and of which the division will hereafter be given. Marysville intend going to Kingsclear division Saturday, to exchange fraternal greetings.

This question has, and is frequently being asked to-day by doubting men and women, what good are our different temperance societies throughout the country, doing?
My experience of twenty-five or thirty years, justly me in stating that no man or woman living to-day can measure or conceive the amount of good that has and will be accomplished in our different communities by the several branches of the temperance organizations. I am personally acquainted with men who were once the victims of the drink habit, but I am happy to say are now, through the instrumentality and gracious influences of the temperance societies, staunch teetotalers, honored and respected, filling responsible positions in the world, and what is still better, good and faithful members of christian churches. "By their fruits ye shall know them." Our division consists largely of boys from fourteen years old, young men and young women, whose general conduct and moral habits can compare favorably with any community in the Dominion. The minds of these boys, young men and young women are being favorably impressed by reading temperance literature, hearing temperance addresses, and other matters in connection with the subject, which are calculated to bring forth fruit in the cause of temperance.

KINGARTH.
Dec. 6.—It will be of interest to readers of THE HERALD, to know that Isaac King has returned from Uncle Sam's territory, and being a native of Kingsclear, will remain here for the winter. He says times over the border, and says that the police realized what happened the night the galleries were closed and guarded, everyone therein being obliged to pass a close scrutiny of the guard.

REPULED WITH BIG LOSSES.
Insurgent Forces Brought Back by Loyal Troops at Bag.
Tex. Dec. 8.—The town of Ego was attacked Wednesday last by the rebel forces from Rio Grand de Sul under Gen. Tavares. As soon as the advancing troops reached the first houses on the outskirts of the town the loyal forces opened fire with such telling effect that the attack was quickly repelled with great loss to the insurgents.

COBRAS ISLAND ABANDONED BY PEIKOTO'S MEN, is now held by Mello. The Tamandara has been made ready for sea. She can steam five knots an hour.

Mello's flagship, the Aquilano, had made a tour around the harbor on November 27th, and anchored near the Nictheroy shore. During the night Mello attempted to land a force by means of launches and boats under cover of the fog of the Aquilano, the Trajano and the Jupiter. Peikoto's men, however, were able to prevent the landing. The Mello's gunners fired badly. They also regained possession of the Armaco, which Mello took a large part of his stores, and moved the rest of the stores from the island. This proved a serious loss to the insurgents.

Rumors were afloat that the rebel admiral intended to set fire to the war vessels and to other points on the city's water front. Several bodies of residents of Botofogo have sent crosses to Mello to discontinue his men as a token of their sympathy with his cause. Arrests of political suspects are taking place daily in Rio, and only two newspapers have escaped suspension, both prominent organs. The censorship over the telegrams out of Rio is being more vigorously imposed than ever.

A GHOST PHOTOGRAPHED.

The Remarkable Catch of a Kodak Friend in West Virginia.

The appearance of the astral or spirit encasement of a man who had been dead more than a year, in a photograph made with a kodak, was the cause for the almost total suspension of animation on the part of Mr. A. Allan Wheat, of Wheeling, West Virginia. He had made a lot of photographs of people and things about the home of his wife, near Danville, Va., and had sent them to the kodak factory to be developed, and received them back the other day.

Among the lot was a group composed of his wife, his father-in-law, Capt. Hase, Miss Maud Halcolm, and his brother-in-law, Master Charles Hase. The picture was taken at the home of Capt. Hase, about ten miles from Danville, and was made by the usual process of the kodak, about three weeks ago. When it was taken the party were ranged about the veranda of Capt. Hase's residence, the sun shining brightly, and Mr. Wheat, who operated the camera, was stationed about forty feet away by Miss Halcolm, who lives near Capt. Hase's residence, and who is a friend of Mrs. Wheat, called on the day in question, and as it was the first time she and Mrs. Wheat had met since the death of Miss Halcolm's brother Charles they naturally talked about him considerably. After dinner the party repaired to the veranda to make the picture. Nothing unusual was noticed by anyone, and no further thought of the picture was given by Mr. Wheat till he opened the package from the kodak factory, when, to his amazement, he found a perfect likeness of Charles Halcolm standing immediately back of his sister in the veranda.

The figure of Mr. Halcolm and his head are four times as large as those of the other persons in the picture, although he is further away from the camera, being in the extreme background. He wears the clothing which he wore in life; a stiff hat tilted back to show his forehead, as was his custom; a turn-over collar, with a small black bow; black coat and white shirt. He appears to be coming out of the double doors at the end of the veranda, although the picture shows the doors to be closed. He is smiling and appears to be in the best of humor.

Mr. Halcolm died of typhoid fever a little more than a year ago. He was not a spiritualist believer, nor was he interested in such things. His family were not spiritualist people, nor is Mr. Wheat or others who were present at the time the picture was taken. Mr. Halcolm was well known in Wheeling, and nearly all his acquaintances have had a look at the picture and all recognize the features of others have seen the wonderful picture and several photographers who have been called in are unable to give any explanation of the phenomenon.

Mr. Wheat who made the picture, is the head of the firm of Wheat & Hanger, jewellers of the city, and a man of stability and merit. He is not a photographer and merely took the camera along on his recent visit to get some views of his wife's homestead. The negative plate is in his possession, having been sent back by the people who developed the picture. It shows the same figures as the photograph.

BOMB THROWER CONFESES.

An Anarchist Who is Badly Mutilated Acknowledges His Guilt.

PARIS, Dec. 9.—Intense excitement was caused this afternoon during the debate in the chamber of deputies, when some person as yet undiscovered threw a bomb from a gallery to the floor of the chamber, where it exploded with a terrific force, filling the chamber with smoke, dust and flying splinters of wood and iron. An instant's calm, due to bewilderment, ensued and then followed scenes which are almost indescribable. Members with bleeding faces rushed madly for each door, tumbling over each other in the haste to get to the galleries the condition of the occupants bordered on a state of frenzy. When the first excitement subsided the business of the chamber was hastily continued, President Dupuy being the coolest man in the chamber. It is so soon as the police realized what happened the gates to the galleries were closed and guarded, everyone therein being obliged to pass a close scrutiny of the guard.

Nurses and doctors were quickly summoned and the building turned into a hospital. It is officially stated that forty-eight persons were wounded, but no fatalities have yet resulted or are any feared. Twenty-three of the gallery occupants were placed under arrest and tonight sixty more persons were arrested.

It is said by some that the bomb thrower had plenty of time to escape before the gates were closed, while others believe that the man is among the wounded who are now under treatment, whoever he is. His identity has not yet been established. Among the injured are two ladies.

PARIS, Dec. 10.—Augustus Vallant alias Marchal, a resident of the suburb of Choisy Le Roi, is the anarchist who threw the bomb in the chamber of deputies yesterday. He was arrested and made a confession this morning. When the bomb exploded his right hand was shattered, his nose blown off and his neck and chest lacerated. He is thirty-two years old and deserted his family because he was too lazy to support it. He has been convicted three times of petty crimes. He has been an anarchist since 1884.

THIS WAS PRIOR TO 1800.

The records in the Dutchess county clerk's office, dated prior to 1800, reveal some interesting proceedings in the courts of those days. An old paper was discovered the other day which relates to a time when a man named Hatch kept a tavern in the southern half of the court house, where the judges and jurors boarded during the sessions of the court. Frequently, and sometimes in company with prisoners on trial, they drank together at the tavern. On one of these social occasions the prisoner, a home thief, must have slipped away, for the records in the clerk's office credit the judge with the following remarks to the jury:

"Gentlemen of the jury: I am told that the prisoner has informally taken leave of the court and gone the sheriff knows not whither. This gives the case before you a more complex phase, as the statutes distinctly provide that the prisoner shall not at any time during trial, sentence or punishment, absent himself from the officers of the law. Therefore, it only remains for me to say that further prosecution in this case must be postponed until the return of the damned scoundrel who has thus informally trifled with the dignity of the court and the people of the state of New York."
