Mr. Wallace Arbing, the well known and popular barber of lower Queen Street, had an elegant sign placed in front of his tonsorial apartments on Monday. The sign is quite an unique one. It is a triangular structure placed on a round pedestal and is surmounted by a large hand pointing towards the owner's establishment. Above the hand a short barbers pole, painted in the usual manner is placed horizontally. The main triangular portion of the sign is beautifully painted and ornamented with landscape views on every side. The sign is quite a work of art and reflects great credit on the painter and designer Mr. Crossman of this city.

We regret to have to chronicle the death of Miss Evelyn E Morris daughter of Thomas Morris, Esq., which occurred at her father's residence on the the Mairpaque Road, Sunday morning. It is only a few days ago that Miss Morris was full of life and health; her illness was of but short duration. She was a gentle and winning little girl and beloved by all with whom she came in contact. Her age at death was about 14 years It is only a few years ago that Mr Morris lost his eldest daughter by death and about thirteen years ago his wife died. Miss Evelyn was the only daughter he had spared to him and her death makes him almost disconsolate. We extend to him and his family our sincere sympathy in their sad loss.

A largely attended meeting was held in the hall at Miscouche last week to take into consideration the new oyster regulations issued by the Department of Fisheries. The regulations were submitted to criticism and discussion. Different opinions were expressed as to the cause of the falling off of late years in the oyster cultch, and all the speakers agreed that further restriction was necessary to stop their entire destruction. Several parties spoke including Mr G MacRoche, Mr Nelson Howatt, Mr Geo Inman and Mr C McLellan, after which the following resolution was carried: That this meeting views with alarm the recent attempt on the part of the government to interfere with mud digging on the old grounds where it has been hitherto carried on and that as farmers of this province we assert our claims to the continued enjoyment of our accustomed and established privileges. Further resolved that the drags used in the fishing of oysters should not be used henceforth and that the close season extend from June 1st to 20th September. The meeting then adjourned.

Charlottetown, January 17, 1894.

THE PREMIER'S FIAT.

Premier Peters Outlines His Policy.

DIRECT TAXATION THE PANACEA FOR OUR WOES.

According to the announcement made last week Premier Peters on Monday night at Mount Stewart unburdened himself to his constituents, and likewise to the people of the whole Province. A special train conveyed the Premier, his party and those others who hied themselves east to hear his momentous words. After the election of W. H. Douglas, Esq., to the chair, and the introduction of the Premier the ball was opened. For the summary of the speaker's remarks we are indebted to the Guardian.

In the course of his address, he said, was one of the utmost importance, not to the people of Mount Stewart alone, but to the people of the whole Province. He thanked the people of Mount Stewart for the victory they had given him in the last election a victo ory of principle and a party victory that would yet be consummated by the Liberalization of the whole Dominion. He dealt first with his opponents. He said they never believed that they could carry on the government of the Province without taxation. Their promise to do so was but in keeping with their general policy of deceit. Their figures were made to lie, trickery and sophistry was their stock in trade. Money from Ottawa furnished their "sinews of war." And promises of to-morrow were their modus operandi. That was the substance of the opening arraignment.

Now what, he asked, was the need of the people of Prince Edward Island today? First, good markets, which a Liberal party in Ottawa would soon give. And secondly, they wanted good wharves, good bridges and good roads to reach these markets. And lastly but not least they wanted to maintain a good system of education, and they would have to pay for it (cheers). But his hearers should distinguish between promises and deceit. Senator Ferguson admitted the need of direct taxation and Mr. Blake had preached strictest economy. But when the party that these gentlemen represented had the power to enforce that policy of direct taxation and economy, did they do so?

Well, Mr. Peters did not think so, and he smote his enemies hip and thigh. But he (Mr. Peters) and his party had given the Province a system of public works well and honestly built and apportioned. Were the people willing to pay a reasonable sum of money for these works? He believed they were. (Applause).

He reminded the people of his promise to consult them as to the necessity and method of taxation. He reminded them also that Senator Ferguson had refused to define the method of taxation he favored if his party should win power. Then Mr. Blake's scheme was locked in his breast. He (Peters) had asked Blake to "spit it out" but he refused. Before announcing his own views however, Mr. Peters, in terms of fervid pathos extolled the school system of today and emphatically pronounced against the destruction of that system. Free schools for the poor as well as the rich must remain as a sacred institution. He would never desert it. Were the people ready to desert it? If they were, and if that were Liberalism then he was no longer Liberal. Against the loss of this system a few "dirty dollars" should never count. Next year he proposed to spend $130,000 on the school And the system would have to be still further improved till it was on a par with the very best. And the teachers, themselves, must be taught. A normal school would have to be sustained. He would be a coward, and worse than a coward; he would be untruthful if he told them that the the Province could go on without some measure of taxation. He would prove the need for a direct tax. The total amount of revenue that the Island would need outside of the Land Office and outside of direct taxation was $200,000. The necessary expense with the closest economy was $120,000 for the schools, $17,000 for the Insane Asylum, $3,000 for the Poor House, $3,600 for Poor Grants, Administration of Justice, $17,000, Exhibitions, $4,000, and other considerable items. Legislation last year cost $14,000, next year it would be only $7,500. Outside of all public works $200,000 was needed and there was only $200,000 to meet it with. A road machine would be provided for every electoral district. A tax must go on.

government would spend $300,000 on public works. Last year they spent over $300,000. Next year and for years thereafter they would need less, because the work was nearly done. The "public wrecks" of the last Government were repaired. Less would now be needed. That, he said, was not a pleasant story which he would go home and laugh at. It was the truth. (Applause)

He would economize at every point. He would begin right at the top, at his own salary. But the men who do the actual work, the subordinates, shall be fairly paid. Every man in the Assembly who had an "ornamental" position would have his salary reduced.

As to the school supplement he would not decide the matter now. He would leave it open for discussion. He invited every teacher to write him and give an opinion on this question. He would treat these opinions in strict confidence under the seal of privacy and he would weigh them well. But even though the supplements were withdrawn a revenue would still be needed.

He proposed to devote the proceeds of the Land Office to reducing the debt. Now, how were they going to raise the revenue? He declared it a wrong principle to tax Industry, thrift and enterprise. (Loud Applause). That was a fault of the Davies Act. And another fault was the great cost of raising the tax He saw that, and he saw back in the history of the Island that the old Land Tax was what the people approved. The men who formulated that tax struck the modern idea, the approved system of the leaders of thought. He proposed to send no man to the doors of the taxpayers and he proposed to tax no improvements. He would revert to the old system a tax of about 2½ or 3 cents an acre less, than the price of "a good spree in town."

There would be no discounts, no commissions, each taxpayer would keep his commission in his pocket. He proposed in some way to classify the values of the farms in $500, $1,000 and $2,000 classes and make them pay accordingly. He proposed to abolish the statute labor and impose a poll tax in its stead. (Applause).

No system would be absolutely fair. Providence did not give perfection in this matter to man. If his system was not fair, he was willing to hear remonstrances and advice from any farmer or any man who was competent to give it. And as to Charlottetown, he said, this city must be made to bear its fair share of revenue or to arrange with the government by compromise or otherwise. He asked the people to trust him to make Charlottetown pay its share, to give the city fair play and the country too. He proposed also to license banks, insurance companies and commercial travellers. These taxes would be raised by the Government on its own responsibility without the subterfuge of the cumbrous machinery of a municipal system.

That was the dark side. The bright side was the promise of the future. Colonel Davies (loud cheers) a member of the federal Government next to the premier himself. The tariff would be swept away and the Province would be free and prosperous and happy.

Messrs. A. E. Warburton, C. H. Cummiskey, L. E. Peters, A. McLaughlin and A. Peters, M. P. P's, followed the Premier supporting his policy, while James Rose, Esq., opposed it. A resolution approving of the new policy, as outlined by the Premier, was carried.

St. Joseph's Day.

Owing to St. Joseph's Day falling this year in Holy Week, the celebration of the feast has been transferred to the 4th of April. On that date it will, as usual, be fittingly observed by the ladies of St. Joseph's Society in their chapel in St. Joseph's Convent. The exercises will begin with Community Mass at 7 a. m., at which the members of the Society will receive Holy Communion. At 7 o'clock in the evening an appropriate sermon will be preached by Rev. D. B. Reid, the Society Chaplain; and the ceremonies will close with a grand Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Apart from the religious aspect of the exercises, St. Joseph's Day celebration has always been one of the most popular and attractive observed in this city. The music furnished on the occasion, and the altar decorations have always been excellent; and we understand, that this year, special preparations are being made to celebrate the feast with more solemnity than in past years.

This being Holy Week, the usual services will be held in the Cathedral. On to-morrow, Sandy Thursday, Pontifical High Mass will be celebrated at 8.00 o'clock and the Holy Oils will be blessed by His Lordship the Bishop. The Blessed Sacrament will be removed to the repository where it will be kept till Friday morning. At 7 o'clock in the evening devotions in honor of the Most Blessed Sacrament will be held and a suitable sermon preached by Revd Father Reid. On Friday morning at 8 o'clock, Mass of the Presantified and the Adoration of the Cross will take place. In the evening at 7 o'clock the way of the cross will be gone through and a sermon, on the Passion of Our Lord, preached by Rev Father Hogan. The usual exercises of Holy Saturday will commence that morning at 7.30. This evening, tomorrow and Friday evenings the office of tenebrae will be recited at 4 o'clock. On Easter Sunday, Pontifical High Mass will be sung and a sermon on the Resurrection preached by Rev Father McAulay. The choir have excellent music prepared for the occasion and will be assisted by an efficient orchestra.

TENSION OR SPRING.

We have the word of Alfred Tenayson for it that in the spring the young man's fancies lightly turn to thoughts of love. It is singular that the great laureate omitted to mention the fact that it is in the spring that a considerable portion of the human race turn to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Probably nothing but the difficulty of finding a good rhyme for that invaluable remedy deterred him. Certain it is that the old-time domestic remedies are generally discarded in favor of the standard blood purifier. Deaf for a Year

Caused by

Catarrh in the Head

Catarrh is a Constitutional disease, and requires a Constitutional Remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla to cure it. Read:

"Three years ago, as a result of catarrh, I entirely lost my hearing and was deaf for more than a year. I tried various things to cure it, and had several physicians attempt it, but no improvement was apparent. I could distinguish no sound. I was intending putting myself under the care of a specialist when some one suggested that possibly Hood's Sarsaparilla would do me some good. I began taking it without the expectation of any lasting help. To my surprise and great joy I found when I had taken three bottles that my hearing was returning. I kept on till I had taken three more. It is now over a year and I can hear perfectly well. I am troubled but very little with the catarrh. I consider this a remarkable cure, and cordially recommend to all who have catarrh." Herman Hicks, 30 Carter Street, Rochester, N. Y.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, and do not purge, pain or gripe. Sold by all druggists.

Common Sense.

This invaluable quality is never more apparent in man or woman than when shown in his or her choice of periodical reading matter. First in order should come the Local Newspaper so that pace may be kept with the doings of the busy world. It should be a paper like the Herald which gives all the latest Home News as well as all the General News, Political News and Market News, with reasonable Editorials on current topics. No one can get along without his home paper. The newspaper should be supplemented by some periodical from which will be derived amusement and instruction during the evenings at home, where every article is read and digested. Such a paper to fill every requirement should possess these qualities.

First—It should be a clean, wholesome paper that can safely be taken into the family. It should be illustrated with timely engravings.

Second—A paper that is entertaining and instructive while of sound principles. Its moral tone should be beyond question.

Third—A helpful paper, one that tells the housewife of home life, thoughts and experiences, and keeps her in touch with social usage and fashion.

Fourth—A paper abounding in origina character, sketches, bright sayings, uactuous humor, and brilliant wit.

Fifth—It should contain good stories and pleasing matter for young people, that the children may always regard the paper as a friend.

xth—Literary selections and stories suitable for older people should be given, for they, too, like to enjoy a leisure hour.

Seventh—In short, it should be a good all round Family Journal, a weekly visitor which shall bring refreshment and pleasure to every member of the household.

We offer to supply our readers with just such a paper; one of national reputation and circulation. It is the famous

"The Detroit Free Press.

The largest and best Family Weekly in America.
