when you intend severing your connection with this section, and with your pupils. We have spent two years pleasantly together, and while we assure you that it has been with regret, we sincerely trust that the benefit has been mutual. We believe that you have earnestly endeavored to instill into our minds a good foundation for future building, but at the same time we realize that you were more willing to impart to us instruction than we were to receive it.

"In your future career we wish you the greatest measure of success, and we shall watch with interest your steady advancement. May the Almighty guide and direct you in your every day life, and lift you to still higher positions and greater usefulness than you have yet attained, and in return for these benefits, may you be ready at all times to do your Master's will. We shall miss you in the school, in the church, and in the neighborhood, but we know your loss will be others' gain."

"Your new field of duty is not far distant, and while we part with you now, and you sever your official relationship with us, we hope to welcome you back many times, not only in our public gatherings, but also in our homes. Nevertheless, as a slight token of our kindly feelings, and esteem for you, we beg of you to accept this 'sui-case' from our hands."
