WHAT a glorious country is the East, where they have no such thrilling winds, and cold stormy blasts, to wreck the constitution. But yet, although the climate here is milder than Nature has kindly endowed mankind with the conquering power of wielding an all-sufficient weapon against the enemy Disease, Diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive Organs, &c., are here most prevalent, and for their cure we have nothing to compete with the great Swiss-ness Remedy. Purify the Blood.—If the blood be pure the body which is formed from and by the blood cannot be diseased. But if there be in any part of the body any affection, such as a boil or ulcer, even a bruise, the blood circulates through that part takes up impure matters from the local affection and carries it to the general system. This is the cause often of sudden death to persons of full habit afflicted with boils and ulcers, and who use no medicine; the matter gets into the circulating system and chokes up the fine blood vessels which supply the brain with vitality, and life ceases as if

COUGHS AND COLDS.

Sudden changes of climate are sources of Pulmonary, Bronchial and Asthmatic affections. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should be at once had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges. Few are aware of the importance of checking a cough, or "common cold," in its first stage. That which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon attacks the lungs, and "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Cough Lozenges, allay irritation which induces coughing, having a direct influence on the affected parts, as there are imitations, be sure to obtain the genuine. Sold by all dealers in medicine at 25 cents a box.

THURSDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 17.

Local News.

FOR NEW ZEALAND.—This (Thursday) morning three families of the name of Dickie, from North Dunfries, left by the Grand Trunk en route for New Zealand. The adventurous band, comprising seventeen individuals, came to Guelph last night accompanied by a number of their friends who watched with tearful eyes, until she had disappeared round the curve, the train that bore those whom they loved, on one stage of their long journey towards the genial clime of that far distant isle of the Pacific.

"NO MORE SUNDAY SHAVING.—Hereafter every gentleman among us who has a beard (as almost every gentleman has), will be obliged to have it shaved on Saturday, if he does not intend to wear it over Sunday, or what his razor and go to work himself. The law gives barbers the privilege of shaving people six days and nights in the week, but prohibits them from putting soap on the face, or scissors in the hair of any person on the seventh. This law will henceforward be strictly enforced in Guelph, so that those who neglect to go through the necessary operation to their heads or faces on Saturday, and that do not look for admittance to the shops of any of the knights of the razor on the following morning. This is no hardship; it would be a far greater pity if barbers were to be compelled to accommodate on Sunday morning those who might have had their hair dressed or their beards shaved the previous day or night without the slightest inconvenience. Every barber in town was notified this morning that the law will be rigidly enforced.

The Fox Hunt.

To the Editor of the Mercury.

Sir,—I noticed in your issue of Tuesday evening, under the heading of "Honour to whom honour is due," a statement that Mr. Hall did not join the chase until the finale, and that he was last in the hunt and did not take his fences. Now, I was present and made one of the party, I am not a member, and am certainly astonished that any one could make the statements contained in the letter, as I saw Mr. Hall join the hunt when we got into the second field, after starting, and saw him take all the fences, which Mr. Gaughan did not do. As I rode the latter part of the hunt with Mr. Gaughan and myself got down at a fence and levelled it to enable him and me to get through. There was no question about Mr. Hall's being first at the death; the dispute was simply that he sat on his horse over the fox and did not dismount and cut off the brush, which he could easily have done had he wished. Yours, &c.

A SPECTATOR. Guelph, Oct. 15, 1867.

Mr. Stone's Annual Stock Sale.

Mr. F. W. Stone's annual sale of thorough bred stock, sheep and pigs took place yesterday afternoon at his farm, Moreton Lodge. There was, as usual, a very large attendance, some of the parties being breeders from the States, as well as from the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec. There were also present most of our prominent local breeders and farmers.

Mr. W. S. G. Knowles was auctioneer, and discharged his duties with his usual ability. Only a few short horns were offered, which brought fair prices. There was little demand for the Herefords, and only a cow and heifer were sold out of the list. The Cotswold sheep sold well, large prices being obtained for some of the shearing rams, which were all sold. There was not the same demand for Southdowns, which did not fetch anything like the same prices. We give below a list of sales.

Garibaldi's Latest Words to the Italian People.

The official Gazette of Paris, alluding to the release of Garibaldi, says that, as he had expressed a desire to return to Caprera, and that intention conforming to the wishes of the Government, the ministry at once agreed to it, and the General forthwith left for that island in a state vessel. Before embarking at Genoa the Esploratore for Caprera, Garibaldi stopped a short time at the house of a friend near the railway station, where an immense crowd had assembled. He afterwards drove in a carriage to the city with Gen. Indica, his son-in-law Canzio and Gen. Fabuzzi. Addressing the people, whom he prohibited from drawing his carriage, he said he was perfectly free, and was going to Caprera without any condition whatever. Speaking sometimes in Italian and sometimes in the Genoese dialect, he told the people never to forget Rome—to continue the common work of that succouring their brothers at Rome. They might rely upon him being at his post; he would go to Rome in spite of any demon, whether he was clothed as a priest or here the support in the Movimento abruptly closed—saluted by the officers of the navy and by the troops, who presented arms to him, he shortly after embarked on the F. Verbeke. Three of Garibaldi's friends, M.L. Liberio, Bottero and Pugno, who obtained permission to see him at Alessandria, have published in the Turin Globe an account of their interview. They found him reading the Decade of Livy. The narrative says: Not a word of anger escaped from him against the authors of his arrest. During the two hours we were with him the conversation turned upon the Roman question, history and literature. "They talk," said he, "of getting to Rome by moral means. Do you believe that such means will ever cut the Gordian knot?" "No," he answered. "Well," said he, "I tell Italy by every means in your power, that the Roman question will be settled by Italian steel, and not by the moral paths of any Ministry whatever. Above all, let it be known that the Roman question is not solved by any arrest. Tell Turin that she knows what she has to do; she has given proofs of it at many times." Then, turning to Mayor Chiesa, he said: "Tell Milan that I have never ceased to be with her, and that now I hope much from the Milanese. Believe, despite the efforts of governments and unfriendly and perfidious plots abroad, Italy will be the first nation in world, were it only through its noble past. Stand on the place of St. Peter; question with the look and mind those eloquent souvenirs; carry yourself back to the time of the Brutuses and the Camillas, and say to yourself with pride, 'I too, am an Italian.' O what a noble Republic was that Roman Republic! What men it contained! Think of the time when poor Rome, the battle lost, sent its legions to Spain, and on the same day put up to public auction the Roman territory occupied by Hannibal, and there were great citizens who bought it at the highest price. We, on the contrary, hesitate to approach the Eternal City, where we are defeated by feeble and contemptible enemies. I assure you, my friends, that when the day comes on which we put our foot upon the Vatican, that day will be the most beautiful of my life, when I shall be willing to die." The General at this moment seemed inspired, and his face to be transfigured by his enthusiasm.

Break-up of Mormonism.

The recent disturbances among the Salt Lake Mormons are regarded in England from whence many converts have come, as premonitory indications of a general break-up in Brigham Young's "Dynasty." The Pall Mall Gazette, after arguing that the Mormon system contains the seeds of its own dissolution, affirms that the growth of the most startling religious imposture of modern days is about to witness its collapse and utter abolition. It continues:

"The reports which reach us of the internal dissensions of the chief men in the community, and of the rebellion of sundry unquiet spirits against the authority of the 'prophet' are not only full of details, but they are so exactly what might be looked for in the present stage of Mormonite history that we should scarcely be surprised if we were suddenly to learn that a formidable schism had actually taken place, and was sending in twain the most highly disciplined body of people in the whole western world. That such a schism, ending in a total disruption of the whole Mormonite body, is sooner or later a practical certainty can, in truth, hardly be doubted 'by any reasonable person who will take the trouble to compare the phenomena and position of Mormonism with the history of two religious communities to which it bears the most striking resemblance, that is Judaism and Mahomedanism, to the former of which, indeed, it appeals as supplying a precedent for its most characteristic practice. The reports of difficulties at Salt Lake City will doubtless place a check upon European emigration thither."

Police Court.

Before T. W. Saunders Esq., Police Magistrate.

THURSDAY, 17th.—Robert Hopkins who has been for some time engaged, in Guelph, in the manufacture of a certain fluid patented (we presume) under the name of "Dominion Bitters" was, this morning charged with having obtained goods under false pretences from Mr. N. Croft. It turned out, however, that Mr. Croft was not the only person who had come of complaint. Landlords, grocers and printers were interested in the integrity of Hopkins, and so when it came to be suspected that he was likely to bid adieu to Guelph he was watched, and prevented, this morning from taking his departure by the 2:45 o'clock train, which he intended to do, as he was at the station awaiting her arrival. The prosecutor did not appear against him, the Magistrate telling him that it was well for him he did not, and the case was dismissed. But here his troubles did not end; he was assailed by a host of creditors, for whom he had but one reply, that he "couldn't pay now," and with that they were obliged to be satisfied.

Rumored Plan to Kidnap Queen Victoria!

ITALY IN FAVOR OF SUPPORTING THE INVADERS.

London, Oct. 16.—There is a wild rumor that the Fenians are planning an attempt to seize the person of the Queen, at Balmoral. Although little or no credence is given to the report, precautionary measures have been taken and the household guard at Balmoral has been doubled.

Florence, Oct. 16.—The last advices received from the Roman territory report that the Papal forces are falling back toward Rome.

Paris, Oct. 16.—It is reported that Marshal Narvaez, the Spanish Prime Minister, has offered to the Emperor Napoleon the assistance of Spain in sustaining the temporal power of the Pope.

The Emperor Napoleon, accompanied by the Empress Eugenie, has arrived at St. Cloud from Biarritz.

London, Oct. 16.—The Fenian alarm is spreading. The government is in receipt of many despatches announcing the possible plans of the brotherhood. Troops and gunboats have been despatched to Ireland, and the entire western coast of that island is guarded with extraordinary vigilance.

The despatches received from Italy this evening are very important. The entire press of Italy, almost without exception, favor the seizure of Rome by the government. The strength of the party of action increased hourly, the recent successes having given them courage. Sharp fights have occurred near Forze and Alfino, as well as at other points
