Gladstone and Tennyson. According to the London correspondent of the Western Mercury Mr. Gladstone's first head of Lord Tennyson's death in a curious way. No telegram announcing the event was sent to Havard.

The contents of a paper which he saw from the railway carriage on his journey to Havard to preach the harvest festival sermon. The canon had no opportunity of seeing Mr. Gladstone before the service, and his allusion in the pulpit to the laureate's death was the first intimation passed away.

On the morning of that day he had received a letter from Mr. Hallam Tennyson, who said that his father had been delirious, and in this state had been murdered. Mr. Gladstone's first intimation of the death of Tennyson was the last regarded his great contemporary.

Disastrous Storms. LONDON, Oct. 27.—A heavy gale swept over the channel all day yesterday and during the night. The storm was particularly severe on the southeast coast of Ireland. The channel steamers are greatly delayed.

The steamer Jessie, of Dundalk, was driven on the Cleopatra rocks and several other vessels went ashore. Today a severe wind and rain storm rages off the mouth of the Tyne. The schooner Resolute while attempting to enter the harbor was driven ashore. A tremendous sea was running and the schooner soon pounded her bottom out.

A New York dispatch says: The Tenthredin left Quarantine this morning and passed up to her dock after one of the stormiest voyages from Liverpool she has ever encountered. It was reported this morning that two of the cabin passengers had become insane as a result of the stormy weather. It was said they were taken by the terrors created by the supposed imminent danger of the steamer foundering in the heavy gale that blew for two days.

A Liverpool pilot who took out the City of New York remains aboard the steamer, having been unable to land on account of the rough weather. The passengers remaining at Queenstown are complaining loudly of the City of New York's failure to take them, some being separated from relatives who embarked at Liverpool. These passengers will be obliged to wait for the Cunard steamer Auroras, which will leave Queenstown on Sunday next.

On the way to the gale and the sense of prevailing in the Irish Channel, the steamer City of New York, which sailed from Liverpool yesterday was unable to call at Admits His Guilt!

Neill-Cream Has Poisoned Several Canadian Girls. All Buried Without Suspicion of Unnatural Death.

His Awful Deeds on a Par With "Jack the Ripper's." One of the Most Startling Confessions of Modern Times.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Thomas Neill-Cream has confessed that from 1874 to 1881, when he was arrested in Chicago, he made a practice of poisoning dissolute girls in Canada. His numerous victims, he says, were buried without suspicion on the part of anybody that they had died unnatural deaths.

A medical expert who has examined Neill-Cream says that he suffers undoubtedly from satyriasis. All information as to Thomas Neill-Cream's confession comes from Mr. Waters, his solicitor. Mr. Waters says that he probably will not make the details public until after the execution. Cream confessed to him everything criminal in his Canadian career, his methods of killing girls and his devices to escape detection.

His statement made every hair on my head stand on end," said Mr. Waters last evening. "His story was startling beyond anything I have ever before heard." After his confession Cream became angry at Mr. Waters and threatened to "do him" after the trial. Mr. Waters refused absolutely to make any further statement.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—A morning paper prints an interview with John Patrick Haynes, a witness in the Neill-Cream case. Haynes says Neill remarked to him once, "I have killed more of the cattle (referring to dissolute girls). All of that class are made to be killed."

THE FIRE RECORD. GREELY, Oct. 28.—About 4:30 this morning the family of John Dunn, living on the old Greely Grange homestead, Waterloo avenue, were aroused by fire. They had just time to snatch up some clothing and make their escape.

Yesterday a fire broke out from a farm house some two months ago from a fire brought with him quite a quantity of this season's crop, which was destroyed, together with the household effects. The fire was burned to the ground. Origin of the fire unknown. Loss about $2,000.

Miss Dunlap was at the station with a party of wedding guests to meet Hecsey. When told of the shooting she fell in a faint, and is now lying in a dangerous condition. No cause for the attempt at suicide is known.

A Yankee Preferred. CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 28.—Miss Bettie Fleischmann and Dr. Christian R. Homrighausen have been united in marriage. Miss Fleischmann is the daughter of Charles Fleischmann, the millionaire manufacturer of this city. She will be remembered as the heroine in a romance that interested the nation last May. While spending the previous summer in the Catskill mountains with her father, she met an Austrian Count. They became engaged, and the Count frequently took time from his business in Chicago to come to this city.

He was the welcome guest of the Fleischmanns. During one of his visits last spring he affianced asked him to become an American citizen, but he refused to take the step. Miss Fleischmann then told she could not marry one who was not an American citizen, and the engagement was permanently broken. Not many weeks afterwards the Count was announced, and now they are married. The ceremony took place at the Scottish Rite Cathedral. The bride was attired in heavy white silk, embroidered in pearls and diamonds.

A Burglar Promptly Cared For. CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 27.—A case of unusual promptitude in the administration of criminal justice was that of Charles Boyer, who committed a burglary at 5 o'clock this morning in this city and ate his supper at Columbus. Boyer was caught in the act. He pleaded guilty, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment and was taken to Columbus this afternoon.

THE PRESIDENTIAL RACE.

Cleveland's Chances in New York Greatly Increased. The Democracy United—Effects of the Wisconsin Apportionment Bill.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The entire county Democracy ticket has been withdrawn from the local field. This ticket had been endorsed by the anti-snapper, Mugwump committee, who were opposed to the political methods of Tammany. Thus an important factor, which threatened to lose Mr. Cleveland the electoral vote of New York State, has been overcome.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 27.—The Apportionment Bill was adopted by the Democratic caucus with a single exception, and passed both Houses. The law will give the Democrats a majority of 12 or 14 on a joint ballot.

IN LABOR'S FIELD.

Trouble With Types in a Toronto Printing Office. Great Excitement Caused by the Carmaux Strike.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—The Carmaux strikers have telegraphed to all the miners' unions in France begging them to send coats for the use of the strikers. The strike committee, replying to a deputation of non-striking miners who asked how long the strike was going to last, said that they did not know when the strike would end, but that non-union men said they did not intend to remain idle much longer, that the intention to resume work.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—The Chamber of Deputies today by a vote of 324 to 198 rejected a motion to grant amnesty to the convicted Carmaux rioters. It also rejected a vote of 399 to 99 a motion to reject the troops now at Carmaux. M. Marce, a former Minister of the Interior, declared the strikers' rejection of M. Loubet's award was the first act of practical socialism that had occurred in France. The weakness of the Government had encouraged the Socialists. M. Marce further commented upon the situation growing out of the strike and declared that the trouble was now almost certain to end in a general strike.

CONCORD, N. H., Oct. 27.—The Concord branch of the Granite Cutters' National Union has rejected the offer of arbitration from the manufacturers.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Deputy Dally called attention in the Chamber of Deputies today to the recent conflicts between French and Belgian miners at Lens. He accused the mining companies of discharging their French miners because they had voted against replacing them with Belgian miners.

M. Vatte, Minister of Public Works, denied that the dismissal of French miners at Lens was due to political considerations, and added that it would be useless to make exceptional laws against foreigners.

M. Languet, an ardent socialist, interrupted M. Vatte, and maintained that capitalists were conspiring against universal suffrage. He proposed that masters who employ foreigners be required to obtain a special license. This motion the Chamber referred to a committee.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 28.—The Order of Train Dispatchers has been organized here with 152 charter members. The constitution and by-laws adopted embrace the protective features.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The impression is growing in Lancashire that the threatened strike of the cotton spinners will be averted. It is asserted that the negotiations looking to arbitration of the employers in dispute with the members of the federation of master cotton spinners upon finding that there was little disposition among the members of the federation to adopt a lock-out in view of the improved condition of the cotton market. This view of the situation appears likely, judging from the fact that Mr. Mawdsley, secretary of the Amalgamated Association of Operative Spinners, has declined to call a special meeting of the association to discuss the question of arbitration. The next regular meeting will be held on the date fixed for the strike to commence. A cotton authority in Lancashire, discussing the situation in the cotton market, said that the trouble is to be found in the fact that the cotton market is not so good as it was some time ago. The productive capacity of the British mills far exceeds the legitimate demands of trade.

TORONTO, Oct. 27.—The composers in the office of the Evening News are not at work today. The typesetting machines have been introduced in the office, and a difficulty has arisen between the manager and the men as to the scale of payment on a new basis. The men want to be paid by the hour, and the manager wants to pay by the piece. Only two machine experts are at work today, and it is doubtful if the paper can be produced.

Some four or five years ago, at fair time, when E. A. McDowell opened here in "Wedding Bells," which was a failure, he worked the city for two weeks. Since then he has been in Hamilton's "Fantasma." He was formerly treasurer of the Fifth Avenue Theater, New York.

Harry Williams' "Waifs of New York" Company will no doubt meet with a hearty reception at the Grand Monday next, and they deserve it, for without a doubt it will be one of the best attractions of its kind here this season. It is just the kind of an entertainment that our readers can take their wives and sweethearts to for an enjoyable evening.

To-night the "Hand of Fate" Company give their first performance at the Grand. This comedy-drama is sure to please every one, as it is given with a competent cast, while the scenery is said to be perfect in every detail. The blizzard scene is decidedly realistic and the effects produced are very striking. Some highly favorable criticisms of the piece have appeared, and anything with good scenery is almost sure of a full house in London. The company appear at a matinee to-morrow and also in the evening.

"Virginius" has maintained its popularity on the stage for many years by the sheer force of its own overmastering excellence. This great play has had many expenients, but none have been so successful as the Boston Journal and other metropolitan papers declare that Robert Downing is the greatest. The Woodstock Sentinel Review says of Sara Lord Bailey who appears in this city Nov. 3, Miss Bailey's presence is decidedly prepossessing. She walked on the platform like a Greek goddess, and her every gesture and motion was the perfection of gracefulness. In face features decidedly handsome, and she enabled her to depict with look as well as with words every motion suggested by her selections. As an elocutionist Miss Bailey is perhaps not excelled even by Mrs. Siddons. Her clear, sweet cultivated voice is held in perfect control and is capable of an almost infinite variety of tone and pitch and expression. Her rendition of "Life for Life" was magnificent, especially the rescue scene which thrilled her audience almost as the real incident would have done. Her humorous selections were also well given.

An Ottawa Conservative's Views. An Ottawa dispatch says: Mr. John Peter Grant, of New York, brother of Sir James Grant, M. P. of this city, and a leading Conservative, is here on a visit. He said today: "I am a full-fledged citizen of the United States now and think it a grand country. With its vast extent of territory, variation of climate and activity in business it is not surpassed by any country on earth. I tell you that notwithstanding the prejudice existing in Canada against annexation to the United States it is bound to come, and when it does come Canada will enter on an era of prosperity hitherto unheard of, and Canadians will be able to do as much at home as they are now doing across the line. What I have said is the solid truth, and Canadians will find it out."
