Mrs. Whittaker was arrested. Mrs. Laechle's condition was pronounced critical last night. Mrs. Laechle is the wife of William Laechle, superintendent of tombstones at Rosehill Cemetery, and lives at 1,024 Farwell avenue. Mrs. Whittaker is the wife of James Whittaker, 1,028 Farwell avenue, who is a court stenographer. The homes of the two families are located in the center of the most fashionable part of Rogers Park, and their occasional differences were SLEEPLESSNESS.—When the nerves are unstrung and the whole body given up to wretchedness, when the mind is hed with gloom and dismal forebodings, are result of derangement of the digestive organs, sleeplessness comes to add to the distress. The outbreak yesterday occurred when the children were at home for the noon recess. Clarence Laechle and Helen Whittaker both attend the Eugene Field school. They met on the sidewalk in front of their home. As Helen started up the walk to the house the Laechle boy, she says, hit her in the back with an icy snowball, inflicting a bad bruise. The girl ran into the house and told her mother. Mrs. Whittaker went out into the yard and spoke to the boy. After talking for some time the lad is said to have thrown a can at the house in which

Mrs. Whittaker lives.

The quality of the stock was all that could be desired. Some exceedingly fine specimens were sold, and bidding was very brisk. In 7½ hours 114 animals passed under the hammer. Values were well maintained. The highest price paid was $345 for a yearling bull. Among those present were many leading American and Canadian breeders, of the Local Legislature and others. Seventy-seven Shorthorn bulls sold for $7,405 and 32 females brought $3,335.

was shot and probably fatally wounded by her neighbor, Mrs. James Whittaker, of Rogers Park, early yesterday afternoon. The shooting was the culmination of a long-standing feud between the two families, and was precipitated by a quarrel between 15-yearold Clarence Laechle and 8-year-old Helen Whittaker. Further bloodshed was prevented by the police, who overpowered Wm. Laechle, husband of the wounded woman. He had armed himself with a rifle and was battering down the door of the Whittaker home when stopped by the police and disarmed. Clarence Laechle was flourishing a revolver and threatening to mother. DAMAGED ONES Several Hundred Extra Ballots cian in general practice. Were Printed.

Employes of the Printing Shop Give Evidence at Municipal Election Inquiry.

Only two witnesses were heard at yesterday afternoon's session of the municipal election inquiry before Judge Edward Elliott. They were the two employes of A. Talbot & Co., under whose supervision the ballots were turned out. While their examination failed to elicit anything of a sensational nature, the judge was moved to express himself to the effect that there had been irregularities in the manner in which the ballots had been printed. Mr. James Thorpe, foreman of the composing room of A. Talbot & Co., was the first witness called. On Tuesday, Dec. 31, he received an order, signed by Chairman Greenlees, of No. 1 committee, for the printing of the ballots for the municipal election. A separate work ticket was made out for number of mayoralty ballots wanted was 10,500. The type-setting was done by Osmand and Ruse, two employes, on Tuesday. The form was taken to the pressroom and handed to Harry Talbot, foreman of the pressroom. The presswork was done by an apprentice named Garfoot. The ballots were printed by fours, and cut afterward. The printing was done on Friday. After printing the ballots were then counted by girls, in piles of twentyfive each, and then stitched with one staple in the end of each ballot. They were then cut. They were then parceled for delivery by Harry Talbot, before 6 p.m. on Friday, and sent to the city hall on Saturday morning, by Messenger Fred Riddell, being delivered to City Clerk Kingston. The type of the ballots would be taken from the form as soon as printed, and placed ready for distribution which took place on Saturday. Witness instructed all the employes to be careful to leave no ballots lying around, and gave orders that no outsiders should be allowed to go near the ballots. Witness explained that in printing the ballots there were extra sheets put in to allow for spoiled ones. In parceling the ballots, Harry Talbot said he had a few pads over and asked witness what should be done with them. Witness instructed him to send all the ballots to the city clerk. Mr. Harry Talbot had the means of access to the room where the ballots were left over night. The key of the composing-room was left concealed in the building to allow the workmen to get in in the morning. Keys to the main door of the building were in the possession of Harry Talbot, Alfred Talbot, James Charlton and witness, all having knowledge of the where-Other tenants of the building have keys to the front door. Judge Elliott commented on what he considered the ooseness of the manner in which the ballots had been printed and handled by Talbot & Co. With the ballots lying among the workmen, he said, a dozen or two packages might have been carried off. Care should have taken that only the number of ballots ordered were delivered—no more, no less. There was no satisfaction to the public, he thought, in having printing of ballots done in such a loose and careless fashion. In reply to Mr. McEvoy, witness said that the surplus of ballots to allow for spoiling was only about two or three to the hundred. He himself had no suspicion that anything was wrong in the printing of the ballots. "The whole thing, I think, has been irregular from start to finish," said Judge Elliott. Harry Talbot, foreman of the pressroom and binding department of A. Talbot & Co.'s printing office, was called to the stand about 5 o'clock. Witness had cut the paper for the printing of the mayoralty ballots on Friday, Jan. 3, before the form was put on the press. Witness cut enough sheets of paper to make 10,500 ballots, allowing some for spoiled. Mr. Thorpe instructed witness to be careful to get the proper number of ballots. The presswork was done by a boy named George Garfoot. After the ballots were stapled and cut into pads of 25 each, witness arranged the pads into 21 piles of 20 each, making 10,500. A number of pads left over were parceled up by witness for delivery with the re-

WHEN LIFE'S AT STAKE

The most timid man will take any chance of escape. The slender rope dropped down the precipice, the slippery log over the abyss, anything that offers a chance of life, is eagerly snatched at. The end the man seeks is safety. He cares nothing for the means to that end. There are thousands of men and women whose lives are at stake, who are hindered who are hindered from accepting the one means of safety by foolish prejudice. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been the means of restoring health to many men and women whose hollow cough, bleeding lungs, emaciation and weakness seemed to warrant the statement of local physicians-"There is no cure possible." Why should prejudice against a put-up medicine hinder you from trying what has cured thousands of suffering men and women?

and women?

"Only for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I think I would be in my grave to-day," writes Mr. Moses Miles, of Hilliard, Uinta Co., Wyoming. "I had asthma so bad I could not sleep at night and was compelled to give up work. It affected my lungs so that I coughed all the time, both day and night. My friends all thought I had consumption. My wife had taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it had helped her so much she insisted on my tring his 'Golden Medical Discovery'—which I did. I have taken four bottles and am now a well man, weighing 185 pounds, thanks to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose.

The author of "Under Palmetta and Pine," "Norma Trist," "Four Years on Wheels," etc., Dr. J. W. Carhart, of La Grange, Texas, in addition to his literary efforts, is a hard-working physi-

He writes interestingly of how his freedom from heart trouble was gained by leaving off coffee and using Postum in its place. "I drank coffee in the ordinary form for many years; nervous trouble involving disturbance of the heart's action resulted.

"On coming to Texas I fell into the habit of drinking coffee after hard, cold rides in my practice or when in camp on on the trail. My heart trouble soon became exceedingly aggravating, resulting in frequent attacks of what was pronounced angina pectoris, a severe, agonizing pain over the heart, extending to the back and sometimes down the left arm. "In some of these attacks, but for the timely administration of morphine injected hypodermically I could have survived but a short time.

"At different times I abandoned the use of coffee, believing it the cause of my troubles, and invariably improved, but as I had nothing satisfactory to take its place in the way of a beverage I returned to its use "The literature of Postum Cereal Coffee came to my notice and I resolved to try it. The directions for preparation were strictly followed, and I found it an agreeable, appetizing, invigorating table beverage. I continued its use in my family for the past year and a half or two years, during which time I have never had an attack of each variety of ballot. The total capable now at the age of sixty-seven years and do as professional and literary work as at any period of my life. I can endure physical exercise without weariness, but with zest and relish, and have gained in weight from 134 pounds to 165 pounds."

The doctor further refers to the widespread prevalence of heart trou-ble from the use of coffee and tobacco, and speaks of the advantage gained by patients when they leave off coffee and take Postum. It must also be added that the poison of the coffee does not affect the heart

in some patients, but shows its work in the stomach and bowels with one. perhaps in the eyes with another, and kidneys with another, and general neryous prostration with another. It is never possible to tell just where the result of the poisoned nerve centers will show forth. There is but one way to surely cure such cases, and that is by insisting upon leaving off coffee and using Postum in its place. Postum contains the elements for rebuilding the nerve cells and brain. Albumen is furnished in a variety of foods, but albumen cannot be made into the soft, gray matter of the brain and nerve cells except by the action of the phosphate of potash upon it, and the system will not always take up the crude phosphate of potash, whereas, it can be depended upon to take up the delicate particles of that element when present-

To Mr. McEvoy, the witness said the pile of surplus ballots was a little over one-half as high as the piles of twenty pads each, which would give 250 to 300 surplus ballots. To Judge Elliott witness said that he did not know how many sheets of ballots were spoiled, but he gave strict orders that all spoiled ballots be burned, and he saw this being done.

At 6 p.m. the inquiry was adjourned, to resume at 11 a.m. this morning.
