The Cobourg Side of It

Sporting Editor London Advertiser, London, Ont.

Dear Sir:—My attention has just been called to two letters from Mr. Anderson, of Bowmanville, copied in one of your recent editions. In regard to the final of the Lakeshore Baseball League. On behalf of the Cobourg baseball club, I am very sorry to notice the fact that Mr. Anderson has been so small as to only give one side of the story, and thereby endeavor to show up the Canadian League. In order that the readers might not be entirely misled, we would just mention that there is positively no credit due Bowmanville for the winning of either game mentioned, owing to their having played six outside men, whose names and location are as follows: Hickley, Toronto; Chandler, Toronto; Ryan, Toronto; McGrath, Toronto; McTigue, Galt; Craven, Galt; and three of Bowmanville, and we understand only one of these was properly home-brewed. Still further, we would just mention that it is hardly to be wondered that Bowmanville were successful in carrying off the trophy, when you consider that Mr. Anderson, who was supposed to be a fair-minded man, had charge of the umpiring staff, and in consequence used Bowmanville men wherever they would be allowed, and in this connection we doubt if you will find any one team who will speak at all favorably of the work of his Bowmanville umpires.

You may exercise your own discretion in regard to publishing these few lines. Yours truly, The Cobourg Baseball Club, E. C. Hilliard, secretary-treasurer.

ECHOES FROM THE "Y"

Basketball is the only topic talked of at the "Y" these days, and the players are looking forward to a good season.

The City Basketball League will be a big success this year if the number of teams putting in applications is any criterion; no less than eight teams wish to enter.

It is likely that a cup will be given for competition again this year by a local jewelry store.

The Alpha Club, of the First Methodist Church, will enter a team, and with Burridge, McKay, McGeehan and Hunter should prove a strong combination.

The Tigers, last year's runners-up, will be back in the game again this season with a stronger team than before. Wells, Thomas, Eastwood and Crosby, of last year's team, and Wilson, a new man from Buffalo, should just about turn the trick.

George Bartlett has gathered together a good team for the Bankers that should give a good account of themselves.

The Meds have not been saying much, but it is said that they will be "there" again this year, although a number of last season's team will not be available.

A number of city league players held a workout on the Y floor Saturday afternoon, and showed a lot of "pep."

The Y Juniors expect to make a good showing in the O. B. A. this year. Four of last year's players being eligible to play junior again.

With the coming of cold weather, the "Y" members will look forward to the opening of classes on the floor again.

FRANK B. HOUGH DEAD; A NOTED SPORT WRITER

Was Sporting Editor of Philadelphia Inquirer and Once Part Owner of the Athletics.

[Canadian Press.]

Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—Frank L. Hough, sporting editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer, died at his home here today after a long illness. He was 55 years old. Hough as a sporting writer was known from coast to coast. At various times he had a financial interest in both boxing and baseball. When the American League expanded to the east in 1901, Mr. Hough was instrumental in placing it on a firm foundation in this city, and had much to do with bringing players from the National League over to the rival organization. He held an interest in the Philadelphia Athletics until last fall, when he sold his stock to Connie Mack.

NOTHING DOING.

Two young women went to the theatre. They could not get seats together, but were told at the box office that each could have an end seat, in the adjoining rows, and most likely somebody who came alone and had a small next to one of them would oblige them exchange seats. Near the close of the first act one of the young women timidly whispered to a heavy, middle-aged man at her side, who had been sitting stiffly and looking straight ahead:

"Are you alone, sir?"

The man buried one side of his face in his program and breathed:

"Sh! Wife!"

WHIZZ! THERE HE GOES! ZIZZ! SPEEDY ROBINSON, RECORD-BREAKER

Here is the newest jack-rabbit of the cinder path, A. S. Robinson, of Mercesburg Academy, who is expected to shatter Dan Kelly's mark of 9 2-5 seconds for the 100 yards. Robinson has equalled Kelly's mark and has broken the long-standing 220-in 20 4-5 seconds.

Robinson stands 5 feet 10 inches and weighs 140 pounds. He has the bulging chest that denotes great lung capacity, and a pair of sturdy legs. Last year he ran on the Mercesburg relay team with Ted Meredith.

Coach Curran, who developed both boys, predicts Robinson will smash records before the end of the year. He is about the only youngster in sight who promises to bring the century mark nearer nine seconds.

Charley Van Loan, the writer of baseball stories, knows a frugal German who runs a delicatessen store in the Flatbush district of Brooklyn, where Van Loan lives. One evening Van Loan dropped in to buy a Camembert cheese and found the proprietor absorbed in a deep study.

"What's ailing you?" inquired Van Loan.

"Well," said the German. "I got a friend named Vellx vor has sent me an invitation to his golden wedding, and now I half got to send him a present. Und—I hate it—gold is so expensive!"

"Must it be something in gold?" asked Charley Van Loan.

"Sure!" said the German. "Ain't it a golden wedding?"

Van Loan went away, leaving the German still thinking hard. The next night, when he passed the store again, the delicatessen man was smiling broadly.

"I fixed it," he said, "and it didn't cost so much neither."

"Did you send him something that was gold?" asked Van Loan.

"Sure—for forty cents!"

"What could you get that was gold for forty cents?" inquired Van Loan.

"A glass globe, mit zwel goldfish in it!"
