"OLD HOME WEEK"

Mr. John F. Masters, of Boston, who spent the week end in Kentville and is always a welcome visitor to his native town, states that great interest is manifest throughout New England in the "Old Home Week" to be held in Nova Scotia in 1924. He says whether or not there takes place a "World's Fair," but instead a Maritime Exhibition, the "Old Home" idea has taken a firm and picturesque hold upon the public mind of the people of Boston, and in fact all over the United States. Already some firms are printing on the envelopes the trite statement "Go to Nova Scotia Old Home Week, 1924."

THE GOOD ROADS QUESTION AGAIN

To the Editor of the MONITOR:

DEAR SIR: I might say that that something will be doing on our roads that our road expenditure per annum is increasing year by year, but our roads are on the decrease. I claim there is a wrong somewhere, there is no chance for argument about that.

For instance, some of our mountain roads have gone down altogether, and the rest have been terribly neglected. I know from personal experience of some districts in our region where the taxes have been paid for three years, and not a shovelful of dirt put on, nor a rock taken out.
Some of our roads are so rough that they are not fit to drive sheep on, unless the sheep are shod. I'm no blacksmith, but I suppose that their feet are too small for that. But under Council control there was great complaint.

They tell me, those who are supposed to know, that under the old system the councillors drew a percentage on the commissions that they issued, that amounted to as much as our county engineer gets. If that is so, they were more successful in the matter than the way things are run at the present day. The man who laid out the money then drew no more pay than the man who worked on the road. I know this from personal experience. And seeing that there are some of our districts where two bosses getting $4.50 a day, and if a man wants a day's work he gets $2.50 so I hear. Last year he got $2.00. If these things go on, our region here will soon be like the Shelburne Gazette says: "Nothing left but the bosses."

I don't claim to be writing this for political purposes, because a liberal I've lived and a liberal I'll die, but I represent that element of the people that has commenced to think. Of course the criticism of our opponents we expect. But matters are going wrong and seem to be getting worse every year.

We read in the Bible to pray for those in authority, and I think it is high time for those who are in a position to pray to be praying.
If you're good for this much you can stand more.

I feel very much embarrassed, and I feel to apologize for taking up so much room in your valuable paper.

A LOYAL SUBJECT.

The Mayor had no objection.

Mayor Mitchell, of New York was talking at a dinner about office-seekers.
"A good man had just died," he said, "and with unseemingly haste an office-seeker came after his job.
'Yes, sir, though the dead man hadn't been buried, yet this office-seeker came to me and said breathlessly:
'Mr Mayor, do you see any objection to me being in poor Tom Smith's place?'
'Why, no,' said I. 'Why, no, I see no objection, if the undertaker doesn't.'"

The fleet of handliners out of La Have are being made ready for the season's fishery getting painted and salt and supplies stored on board.
The majority of them will leave about the 1st of May.

The Local Council of Women of Toronto has pledged themselves to do without postage for one month, as a protest against the high price charged.

ORA MILLINERY OPENING

"I saw De Castro, the magician three minutes."

"That's nothing. You ought to see my wife with a $20 bill at a church bazaar."

PTE. MON-TA-000

It was roll call and the sergeant was reading out the names. Finally he came to one that gave him pause, but he roared in his bull voice:
"Mon-taig."
No answer.
"Mon-taig!"
No answer.
"Mon-taig!"
No answer.
A pale youth stepped from the ranks.
"I think you mean me, sergeant.
They pronounce my name Mont-aig-ue."

The sergeant gave him the icy eye.
"O-h, do they? All right, Mont-aig-ue. Take three paces to the rear and do two hours fatigues."

LATE COPY

The newspaper humorist went courting. He stayed very late, so late that the old man called down to his daughter, "Phyllis, hasn't the morning paper come yet?"
"No, sir," answered the funny man, "we are holding the form for an important decision."

And the old man went back to bed wondering if they would keep house or live with him.

BACK TO PANTIES

(Washington Star)
"Did you see daughter's bathing suit?" asked mother.
"No," answered father. "I scarcely noted the suit. Most of what I saw was daughter!"

MONTREAL WOMAN GAINED 20 POUNDS

Had Spent Hundreds of Dollars Without Benefit. Like New Woman Now.

"Tanlac has brought me health, strength and happiness, and I am glad of the opportunity to give my testimonial, which I sincerely hope will be of benefit to others," said Mrs. Phil-eas Coude, residing at 72 Massue St., one of the most highly esteemed women of Quebec, in an interview, a few days ago.

Mrs. Coude in relating her experience also reported a gain of twenty pounds in weight and her statement, while indeed remarkable, is by no means unusual, as many thousands nobody had a chance for any very great complaint.

They tell me, those who are sup-

PRETTY WEDDING AT DEEP BROOK

HARRIS-SPURR

A very pretty wedding took place at 10 a. m. Wednesday morning at the "Colonial Arms," the residence of Capt. and Mrs. John D. Spurr, Deep Brook, when their daughter Marion Florence was married to Mr.
Warren Lester Harris, son of Mr.
Arthur Harris, of Annapolis Royal.

To the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Pauline Harris.
The charming bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her father.
Then amid a large circle of relatives and friends under an artistic arch of evergreen and Mayflowers, the Rev.
A. M. McIntosh, performed the wedding ceremony.

Miss Olive Morgan, of Marshalltown, was bridesmaid, while in the inavoidable absence of Mr. Spittal, Mr. Wm. Spurr, brother of the bride, supported the groom. Dainty refreshments were served and amid showers of congratulations and confetti the happy couple left on the noon express for their honeymoon.

The bride's dress was white satin and georgette. She wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of Mayflowers. The bridesmaid wore pink silk and georgette and also carried a bouquet of Mayflowers.
The bride mother's dress was white coloured embroidered voile, while the mother of the groom wore black silk. The bride's travelling costume was navy blue suit with hat to match.

The collection of presents was large and dainty including silver cut glass, china, furniture, linen, gold pieces and checks. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome club bag; to the bridesmaid, a pearl pendant, and to the groomsmen, a scarf pin. The bride's father's present was a piano and her mother's a silver service, while the groom's parents presented the couple with a handsome check.

Among out of town guests present were: Messrs. Eugene, Arthur, and Harding Morse, of Bridgetown; Mrs. Hugh Fowler, of Bridgetown; Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Morgan, and Miss Mildred Morgan, Marshalltown; Miss Hilda Longley, St. John; and Mr.
Reginald Longley and Miss Edith Longley, Paradise.

A POPULAR SERVICE

A Yarmouth correspondent writes: Owing to the continual increase in travel by the D. A. R. through freight between Halifax and Yarmouth, the management has added a service and the possibility of the service soon to be made nightly, great efforts should be made at all points along the line to urge upon the department at Ottawa the positive necessity of a mail car being attached to this train.

THE SONG OF A TELEPHONE LINEMAN

I've repaired lines in the Summer.
I've repaired them in the Spring.
I've repaired lines in Wintertime.
And still you hear me sing.
I've repaired lines in halistorms.
In sunshine and in rain—
I swore I'd never do it—
BUT—
I suppose I'll do it again.

I've worked in the heat of Summer.
—Summer, the season worth white I've worked on the line in Winter.
And still I'm there with a smile.
I've stood on a pole with a test set
And waited it seemed in vain—
I swore that I'd never do it—
BUT—
I suppose I'll do it again.
