Tales From the Selkirks.

The first of a series of delightful sketches by Ralph Connor under the above general title appears in the January issue. Nothing finer of this kind has been produced in Canada.

The Apostle of the Red River.

John Black was one of the missionary pioneers of Manitoba, and perhaps one of the most picturesque figures in the early history of the province. His life by Prof. George Bryce will be a feature of THE WESTMINSTER for 1897. The first instalment appears in the January issue.

Great Enterprizes and Industries.

This series will be continued throughout the year. "The Making of a Bible" appeared in a recent issue, and in the January number will be found "The Making of a Newspaper." Among others to follow will be "The Making of a Highway," and "The Making of a Hymn Book."

Great Preachers of To-Day.

The first article in this series appears in the January issue, and will be followed at intervals by others, dealing with the foremost men in the pulpit world to-day.

Foods and Their Preparation.

This most important subject has been placed under the charge of Mrs. Mitchell, Principal of the Toronto School of Cookery who will deal with some practical features of the subject each month.

We are proud of Canada every time we pick up THE WESTMINSTER. Solid and patriotic to the core, we wish it long life.—The Courier, Digby, N.S.

One of the most excellently conducted home papers published anywhere.—The Herald, Montreal.

THE WESTMINSTER is a publication of which Canadians have good reasons to be proud.—The Expositor, Brantford.
