

INDEX

A.

- Accident, Darwin's use of the word, 334-340; beauty due to, 408, 409.
 Achromatin, 126-134.
 Acquired characters, see Characters.
Acræa curila, 328.
 Adaptation, facts of, in relation to theory of natural selection, 401-403, 411.
 Adaptive characters, see Characters.
 Aesthetic sense in animals, 380-385; see Beautiful.
 Agassiz, Prof. A., on fauna of the Mammoth cave, 70.
 Alpine plants, 209, 210, 440-442.
Amauris niavius, 328.
Amblyornis inornata, 381-383.
Amphioxus, 137, 138, 145, 146.
 Analogy, 38, 50-65, 176, 177, 347-350.
 Anthropoid, see Apes.
 Antlers, 98-100, 167-169.
 Ants, co-operative instincts of, 268; leaf-cutting, 332; keeping aphides, 292.
 Ape, eye of, 75; appendix vermiformis of, 84-86.
 Apes, ears of, compared with those of man, 88; muscles of, 77, 82, 83; feet of, 77, 78; tail of, compared with that of man, 82-84; hair of, compared with that of man, 89-91; teeth of, compared with those of man, 92-94; flattening of tibiae of, 95, 96.
 Aphides, 292.

Appendix vermiformis of man compared with that of orang, 84-86.

Apteryx, 68, 69.

Archaeopteryx, 171-173.

Arctic plants, 209, 210, 440-442.

Argyll, Duke of, on natural selection, 334-362.

Aristotle, his idea of scientific method, 1; on classification, 23, 24.

Arm, distribution of hair on, in man and apes, 89-92.

Arthropoda, embryology of, 155.

Artificial selection, analogy of, to natural selection, 295-314; pictorial representations of products of, 298-312.

Artiodactyls, 182-191.

Association, principle of, in aesthetics, 404-407.

Aster, 129-133.

Attraction-spheres, 128, 132, 133.

Australia, fauna of, 204, 205; thriving of exotic species in, 286; portrait of wild dog of, 304.

Azores, 224, 225.

B.

Bacon, Lord, on scientific method, 2.

Balanoglossus, 147, 148.

Baptanodon discus, posterior limb of, 179-181.

Barriers, in relation to geographical distribution, 216-224.

Bats, 56, 224, 226, 240.

Battle, law of, 385, 386.

Baya-bird, 381.