

OFFICERS CHOSEN FOR NIAGARA CAMP

LT.-COL. W. C. Macdonald
Will Be in Command of Training Corps.

LT.-COL. F. W. MARLOW
Recommended as Assistant
Director Medical Service
Second Divisional Area.

Lt.-Col. W. C. Macdonald, formerly commander of the 48th Highlanders, has been chosen as camp commander of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps at Niagara starting May 1. The staff officers will be Maj. J. A. Curran, 12th Rangers, camp quartermaster; Maj. H. C. Bick, military instructor; Lieut.-Col. C. A. Johnson, chief medical officer; Lieut.-Col. W. C. Macdonald, commander of the 48th Highlanders; Lieut.-Col. R. Starke, divisional commander of the McGill division; Capt. Lyndon, ordnance officer; Lieut. Durham, A.S.C., and Lieut. J. W. McCullough, in charge of the training corps.

Lt.-Col. Acheson visited headquarters at the Exhibition camp yesterday morning to complete arrangements for the C.O.T.C. camp hospital of 25 beds. A laboratory is to be established for the purpose of testing the drinking water.

Lt.-Col. Fotheringham's successor, Lieut.-Col. F. W. Marlow, has been recommended to Lieut.-Col. J. T. Fotheringham as assistant director of medical service for the second divisional area. Lieut.-Col. F. W. Marlow is going to the front as chief medical officer of the second contingent. Lieut.-Col. Marlow is already acting as divisional director, with Maj. C. A. Watson of Toronto assisting him as deputy A.D.M.S. for the administration of the local department. Confirmation of the appointment is expected in a few days.

The 5th Battalion was the first to make the route march to Long Branch yesterday. The march was made in heavy marching order and was headed by Lieut.-Col. J. A. W. Allen. The battalion remained at Long Branch last night, and this afternoon will be joined by the 18th Battalion, under Lieut.-Col. J. I. McLaren, and will be accompanied by their band.

The Mounted Rifles, commanded by Lieut.-Col. Vaux, Cheshire, will march out to the Humber and back yesterday morning. The officers and men were in their shirt sleeves and without kit equipment.

The minister of militia has issued a special order appointing three prominent military band leaders to form a committee to arrange a code of martial and patriotic airs. The committee will comprise Lieut. John Waldron, Royal Grenadiers; Lieut. Light of the Artillery, Kingston and John Slater, 48th Highlanders. The order was made owing to the incident which occurred at the review at the Exhibition camp last week, when Major Hughes had to stop the band playing "The Girl from Old Ontario" for the march past. The standard for various events in military circles heretofore has been "Regimental Marches" by Lieut. Slater, compiled several years ago. This book may be adopted as the official set of selections.

Pull military honors will be paid to the memory of Lance-Corporal J. A. McKinley, Canadian permanent force, at his funeral, which will be held at Prospect Cemetery this afternoon. Lance-Corporal McKinley was at the front in the 48th Battalion, and was killed in action on the 23rd of March. He was 23 years of age.

Repeated appeals to the Toronto board of health having failed, residents in the west end have applied to the provincial board of health for a nuisance, and assistance has been promised.

The nuisance is known as the Clendenen avenue dump, and is occasioned by the filling of a ravine to make a new street. The place is known for blocks around by a fearful stench, and rats as large as kittens and as numerous as flies, are said to swarm about it at all times.

SCENTED TROUBLE BUILDING REVIVES IN WEST TORONTO

Liberals at Organization Meeting Drop Proposed Censor After Discussion.

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

Major Mulholland to Lead Newly Organized Body in North Toronto.

Forty Liberals met in St. Paul's Hall last night and organized for the new federal riding of North Toronto. Major Mulholland, after some demur, accepted the position of president. W. H. McGuire was elected secretary, and four vice-presidents were chosen—George Ball, Ald. Ramsden, D. T. Mcintosh and W. A. Quibell. James H. Spence was chosen treasurer and the executive committee is composed of J. McGrath, G. L. Gladwin, A. W. Balfour, R. J. McLaughlin, Jr., C. W. Livingstone, with Dr. B. E. McKenzie and C. A. Moss as members ex-officio. After the officers were chosen, the meeting, under the chairmanship of A. E. Dymott, president of the Toronto Reform Association, listened to a speech by Dr. McKenzie, who condemned the election proposals. He went so far as to put a motion that "it is a highly deplorable proposition to bring on an election contest in Canada while the war is at an acute stage." The motion found a seconder in William Britnell, and was concurred in by other speakers, after which Dr. McKenzie added a rider to his motion condemning the government for carrying the vote to the trenches.

Wiser heads scented trouble, however, and Robert McKay took exception to it on the grounds that if such a resolution passed the Liberals would be accused of a desire to disfranchise the soldiers. J. F. Edgar also counselled delay, pointing out that the course which the government in England would follow could be watched with profit. He moved an amendment to Dr. McKenzie's motion approving the action of the opposition in facilitating and supporting the government in all measures proposed by them towards carrying on the war. The amendment was carried, and the meeting ended. The selection of a candidate was left over for action by the president and executive.

SUSPENSION BRIDGE ON EAST HEATH ST.

Extensive Developments Under Way in Rosemount Subdivision.

A walk out thru the northeastern section of the city and the suburbs bordering thereon, these fine days, indicates that the spirit of optimism is returning, and that a good deal of activity will prevail along certain lines this summer. Up in the Moore Park district, and further east towards Leslie, there is striking evidence of this in the fine new suspension bridge now under construction in Rosemount, spanning the ravine just at the foot of the new bridge, in fact, of Heath street. The new bridge is designed to give a direct connection between the two sections, and the suspension bridge now under construction in Rosemount, spanning the ravine just at the foot of the new bridge, in fact, of Heath street. The new bridge is designed to give a direct connection between the two sections, and the suspension bridge now under construction in Rosemount, spanning the ravine just at the foot of the new bridge, in fact, of Heath street.

The new bridge, which is of the suspension type, has been designed by Frank Barker, York Township engineer. The main span is 150 feet in length, with a 45-foot approach at either end, while the height from the floor to the bottom of the gorge is about 10 feet. The end of the structure rest on cement piers founded on bedrock, and steel cables will support the timber floor. The bridge will be a 45-foot driveway, with a four-foot sidewalk on each side. The bridge will have a load capacity of from twelve to fourteen tons, but it is not designed for street cars.

C. P. R. GOING AHEAD WITH YONGE SUBWAY

The C.P.R. are making fair progress on the work of the subway on upper Yonge street, but the character of the work does not allow of the employment of a large gang of men at this stage of the proceedings. Later on, when the excavation begins in earnest, the present force will be largely augmented. Workmen are now engaged in tearing down and removing the old building which for years has stood immediately south of the McIntosh works and when the latter company complete the erection of their new workshops in Deerpark, almost opposite Christ Church, the present plant will be dismantled. There will then only remain the office of the British Supply Company, but this firm also is to find a new site. Within a few days a temporary wooden sidewalk will be built along the west side of Yonge street, giving free access from the Dominion Bank northward, and eliminating the present dangerous crossing to the east where a number of near-accidents have occurred. The vehicular traffic will be taken care of by the case of the present driveway, after which excavation of the new 12-foot subway will start in earnest.

WESTON

The application of Mr. Brooks for a two-inch water supply main to his house on Victoria street was approved last night by the Weston Hydro Commission. The main will extend some 210 feet from Main street along Victoria street.

Number of Permits Issued for Residences—News of Ward Seven.

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

Major Mulholland to Lead Newly Organized Body in North Toronto.

Building is beginning to increase in West Toronto with the coming of spring, and already this month 33 permits have been issued for the western district. These are chiefly residences and include three brick detached houses, which William Rowntree is about to build at 222, 224 and 226 High Park avenue at a cost of $9000. Work is being proceeded with at many unfinished buildings, which were not completed last fall.

Shower For Bride.

On Monday evening, forty members of Toronto Junction Council, No. 299, Royal Templars of Temperance, visited one of their fellow members, Miss Grace Brooks, at her home, 489 Clendenen avenue, and gave her a miscellaneous shower in view of her marriage today with Mr. Joseph Sanderson of West Toronto. Miss Brooks is a past councillor and has always been an enthusiastic worker in the lodge. She also holds a gold medal for election. The evening was spent in music and games. After their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson will live at Lillington.

WANT WATER SUPPLY FOR MOUNT DENNIS

A tour of the Mount Dennis district was made last night by E. A. James, engineer to the highways commission, and the executive of the Mount Dennis Ratepayers' Association, and the points noted in the obtaining of water from Weston, from the Humber River, and from artesian wells which might be bored in the district. Mr. James considers all the schemes practicable, Weston being favorably situated for supplying water, and the Humber, from which Weston draws its water, being conveniently placed. In the event of drawing water from the Humber, filters would be necessary.

Mr. James will make his report to the executive tomorrow night.

The division of school sections Nos. 25 and 29 will come up for consideration before the York Township Council this afternoon. The Mount Dennis Ratepayers' Association has decided that no opposition on its part will be offered to the withdrawal of the Silverthorn district and the formation of a new section, the difficulties may arise owing to the withdrawal of a site on the northeast side of the Rowntree property for a new school having already been secured for the ratepayers.

Opposition to detaching that part of section No. 39 north of No. 39 and adding it to the Mount Dennis section will, however, be offered by Runnymede and Scarlett Plains.

TODMORDEN

The funeral of the late Mrs. Rebekah Gonder Sherk, who died at her son's home, 115 Deerpark, on Monday, will take place this afternoon at two o'clock to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Mrs. Sherk was born 27 years ago about six miles from Chippewa, on the Niagara River, where her family, who were United Empire Loyalists, settled in 1796, coming from Pennsylvania at the conclusion of the revolutionary war. This homestead was the military headquarters during the war of 1812. General Drummond, being taken over by the government to form part of the Victoria Park boulevard.

Mrs. Sherk had many recollections of the Mackenzie rebellion, and her mother was the sister of Benjamin Waite, one of the patriots on Navy Island with Wm. L. Mackenzie.

She is survived by her husband, Rev. A. B. Sherk, and two sons, A. E. and M. G. Sherk, who all reside at Todmorden.

MADE WELL AT SEVENTY-FOUR

Old Scottish Lady Cured of Long-Standing Dyspepsia by DR. CASSELL'S TABLETS.

The British Remedy with the Largest Sale of its Kind in Britain.

That age is no bar to the curative power of Dr. Cassell's Tablets is proved by the statement of Mrs. Thompson, who lives at 26 Queen street. Inverkeithing, a little Fifeshire town not far from Dunfermline, where the great Bruce lies buried.

In an interview recently she said: "I feel so well since I took Dr. Cassell's Tablets that I want to tell everybody how good they are." These words express the joy and gratitude of old Mrs. Thompson for her recent wonderful cure by this great remedy. "I had been ailing for a long time," she continued, "but about three years ago I became so thoroughly ill that I had to leave my home. I had no strength at all, and I was in constant pain with gnawing at the stomach. There was pain also between my shoulders. I had to get up and work for me, for I was too weak even to try. They told me I could not expect to be any better at my age (74), but Dr. Cassell's Tablets made me better."

Trust to Dr. Cassell's Tablets for nervous and other forms of Dyspepsia, for Nerve Weakness, Nerve Failure, Nervousness, Neuritis, Anemia, Palpitation, Debility, Wasting, Kidney Trouble, Lame Back, Vital Depletion, and for weak digestion and indigestion. Mr. Gauthier has an almost national reputation as a stump speaker. He went to Manitoba for the Liberals for the first Macdonald by-election. He is eloquent in both languages. At Hull he spoke in French, but the excerpts that follow are from a literal translation. In opening he said:

"While the house is in session the government always threatens us with gag and closure, and between the sessions, thanks to its ingenuity and cunning, the government found a means to 'gag' the gag—I mean the truce."

Mr. Gauthier touched upon several of the scandals growing out of the war expenditure and did not hesitate to attribute personal corruption to members of the government.

"Those ministers," he said, "take their ease and spend without counting. They tax you without any proportion to satisfy their desire for an easy life, to waste public money in every manner. . . . Those ministers are vampires, who fatten themselves out of the public funds, while our soldiers in the trenches are badly clothed and have shoes that do not meet their requirements."

And in the same connection Mr. Gauthier said:

See the government pass, circulate in public places, in motor cars purchased with your money, conducted by chauffeurs paid with your money; they take their ease at your expense; you are the ones to starve, but never mind, they are happy and contented. Never did they dream to sit at such a banquet, and they will come out of that only when the people take in hand its own cause and remembering the passage of that administration in the affairs of the country will see everywhere that the present regime has been one which one would characterize as Borden and depression. Borden and failure, Borden and bankruptcy and Borden and misery.

Messieurs Boyer and Gauthier both dwell on the scandals and did not allow the speaker to escape accurately. They both appealed to the people to turn out the Borden Government and welcomed the prospect of an early election. The former devoted considerable attention to the Manitoba question, and reproached the government with not preserving the separate schools of Keewatin when that territory was absorbed by the Province of Manitoba. They touched lightly upon the Ontario bilingual school situation, but did not ignore it altogether. That Mr. Gauthier did not scruple to appeal to race and creed prejudices as a factor in the coming election will sufficiently appear from what follows. It is a literal translation from a part of his speech, delivered at Hull on April 7, while parliament was still in session:

In Canada you hear ovals of discord which claim that the French language has no rights. That 280,000 French-Canadians in Ontario have no right whatever to speak their own language and to have it taught to their children; here in Ontario, in this place, as at the time of the Orange lodge convention, you see all the Orangemen with their insignia in front of the government buildings. In the Speaker's department there are people subjected to all sorts of persecution because the owls of discord are always there to keep up the passions and provoke prejudices, and you see that a general uneasiness prevails in the country.

Mr. Gauthier, having proved to his own satisfaction that Major-General Sam Hughes was utterly unfit to be in charge of the department of war at this critical time, quite properly voiced his desire for an election as soon as possible. Even the Tories, he said, agreed with him, but Sir Robert Borden dared not remove the minister of militia, and the member for St. Hyacinthe proceeded thus to tell his audience why:

Mr. Hughes will not leave. He is the master of all. Do you want to know why? Because when Laurier was defeated in 1911 the Orange lodge imposed two men on the government—Mr. Hughes to the militia to hold the Canadian in the ranks, and Mr. Sproule on the Speaker's chair, and those two men will remain, they stick to the sides of the government, like Nessus' tunic; those tunic burn and consume the life flesh of the government, and when the people are called to cast their vote, and that which with a quick sharp movement we tear up, you will see that what the lodge did not consume will have been rotted by the gangrene which infects them, and I hope for the future of my country that the elections will take place at an early date.

This School Girl Had Bad Fainting Spells

Was Weak and Run Down, But Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Made Complete Cure.

The most critical time in a girl's life comes during the school age, when she is impelled by rivalry to put forth her best efforts at studying for examinations. At the time she should have healthful outdoor exercise and abundance of fresh air, to keep the blood pure and rich, she is confined to her studies. Is it any wonder that she becomes run down in health and suffers from headaches, indigestion, loss of appetite and spells of weakness or fainting?

The case described in this letter is a good illustration, and you can read here the splendid results of using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to help through this critical period.

Mrs. H. Houston, Highland Grove, Ont., writes: "While attending school my daughter became weak and very much run down. She was frequently troubled with bad fainting spells, and nothing we tried seemed to do her any good. We were advised to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and did so with most satisfactory results. I am pleased to tell you that after using five boxes of the Nerve Food she was completely cured, and has no return of the fainting spells."

This statement is certified to by Mr. Hamilton Houston, Justice of the Peace.

The reason Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is so effective in cases of this kind is because of its extraordinary blood-forming influence. By creating an abundance of rich red blood it strengthens the action of the heart, revitalizes the exhausted nerves and builds up the system in every way. The appetite is restored, digestion improves, you rest and sleep well and the new vigor and energy is felt in every organ of the human body. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is doing wonders for men, women and children whose systems have become weak and run down. It costs a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.
