Showing the Newer Men's Suit Fashions

"As Worn by Him" is the miniature booklet presentation of the larger right angle notch collar lapel, though frowned on a year ago, have made their way, though each style "as been modified and can now be said to conform to a true line of artistic expression." Some of the earlier peaked lapels were crude and inartistic. The coats are shorter by a fraction of an inch, though several inches shorter than they were two years ago. A quarter-inch difference in the height of a silk hat, a fractional inch off a coat makes a very noticeable difference. A 30 or 36-inch coat today is quite conservative. The back is made form-fitting, and some slightly form-fitting, though some adhere to the full box back. In materials the favorites are grays in all varying autumn shades, browns and dark blues, with an almost rigid taboo on brightly colored. Ed. Mack, Limited, of 167 Yonge street, show the new fall and winter fashions in Semi-ready tailoring. The values vary from $15 to $30, according to the cost of the cloth, all of which is imported from Great Britain. The wide rounded lapel and the fashion portfolio of the new fashion designs for men as modeled by the Chief Designer of Semi-ready tailoring.
