

INDEX TO DU LAC'S TRAVELS.

- American females, their character preferable to that of the men, 30.—Americans, character, manners, and customs of these inhabiting the maritime provinces, 29.—Adventure, account of a singular, 53.—Arkansas, description of the river and village of the, 83; fertility of the soil, 83.—Assembly of the state at Lancaster, account of the, 32; its manufactures, &c. 33.
- Baltimore, its population and important commerce, 24.—Bears, black, description of hunting them, 61.—Bowles, G. A. biography of this remarkable man, 102; his retirement among the Creek Indians, his marriage with one of their women, 103.—Brown, Col. his propensity for solitude, 39.—
- Calumet-dance, description of the, 75.—Canada, its increasing prosperity since it has been in the possession of the English, 54.—Chaguyenne Indians, coolness and firm resolution in the most perilous moments, 72.—Chawanons, account of the savages, 45; homage paid by them to the Supreme Being, 46; treatment of their prisoners, ib. courtship among them, 47.—Cincinnati, the grand depot for all the merchandize of the back settlements, 40.—Constitution, American, partial sketch of the, 27.—Cottages, structure of some Indian, 42.—Creoles of Louisiana, account of the, 90.—Crozat M. de, his attempt to establish a colony in the province of Louisiana, 86.
- English, their fur-trade with the savages of Louisiana, 98.—English, the importance of their fur-trade with the savages of Canada, 55.—Objects of this trade, ib.
- Fur-trade, brief account of the, 57.—France, necessity of her possessing a large colony in Louisiana, 100.—French, their monopoly of the fur-trade on the right bank of the Mississippi, 56.—Federal city, account of the, its situation, 25.—Extravagant plan of the palace of the Congress, ib.
- Genevieve, St. account of the establishment of, 44.—Government, the Spanish, its conduct towards the natives of Louisiana, 95.
- Halitanes, their encounter with a party of Chaguyennes, 72.—Harrisburg, dismal appearance of the town and its vicinity, 34.
- Iberville, his attempts to establish a settlement on the Mississippi rendered abortive, 88; his unfortunate death, ib.—Indigo, frequent destruction of a fine crop of this plant by a peculiar insect, 86.
- Jefferson, Mr. public character of, 27.—Junction of the Missouri with the Mississippi, description of that phenomenon, 49.
- Kanées, account of this Indian tribe, 50.—Kentucky, its trade and commerce, 41.
- Lancaster, the county of, excellence of the soil, remarks on the inhabitants, &c. 34.—Lexington, topographical description, its trade, &c. 41.—Life, civilized and savage contrasted, 80.—Louis, St. its situation, fertility of soil, &c. 48.—Louisiana, Upper, the government of, 57; its importance to Spain greatly neglected, 58; the trade with the savages carried on by exclusive privileges, ib.—Louisiana, produce and commerce of the com-