Big Four Meet In Toronto On Monday

The Big Four Lacrosse Union will hold their organization meeting at the King Edward Hotel at ten o'clock on Monday morning. This is the decision arrived at by the various delegates.

Querre seems more convinced than ever that the league is assured, now that George Kennedy has decided to enter a team. Kennedy claims to have several players, but they have that happy facility in Montreal of claiming things, so we will wait until further convinced.

Bobby Pringle, the former Ottawa lacrosse player, is reported to be a party to the Kennedy franchise. It was known some time ago that Bobby had aspirations to become a manager, and he may have jumped at this chance.

GEORGE KENNEDY IN OTTAWA Speaks Confidently of Big Four League.

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.—George Kennedy, the Canadian manager, who in the last night at the wrestling bout between Courdell and Shad Link, and while he gave out some information about the new lacrosse league now forming, he said: "I'm in favor of it. Wouldn't you be in favor of it if you saw a chance to make a wad of money where you were losing last year? The Capitals, Cornwall and Shamrocks did not bring in any money to the other teams last season, and it is quite right that they should be dropped. If I can convince my directors we will be in that league, because they are going to make money, and that's what we are all after."

Kennedy also gave out the information that it was not a Canadian team for which he would take out a franchise, but a combination of the Montreal and Shamrock teams, and claimed to have already secured the players for the new club. This will make the fourth club that the new league are after, and from all accounts the new league is in evidence. The teams will be the Toronto, Shamrocks, Nationals and the new club headed by George Kennedy.

THE USE OF PERFUMES.

The use of perfumes, from the standpoint of good breeding, is a subject much discussed. An important feature generally overlooked, however, is the fact that perfumes have decided medicinal characteristics, a fact well known to the ancients. One Latin writer listed more than a hundred ailments as remedies for disease, the place of honor being given to the violet. It is essential, of course, that the essence be pure and actually made from the flower.

Most of the "violet" extract and toilet water on the market today is merely a chemical imitation, and most chemical imitations of perfumes are irritating to the nerves. The lavender-scented sheets of our grandmothers were delightfully soothing to the nerves of the persons sleeping between them, for lavender has a decided sedative effect and a remarkable sleep-inducer and having the exceptional merit of combining refreshment and relaxation. Most refreshing perfumes are stimulating. Old writers assert that jasmine alone is a most valuable general tonic, but that in most compounds it is injurious, producing nerve exhaustion and depression.

The compounding of perfumes is a delicate branch of chemistry, and a perfume maker may be regarded as an artist of chemistry, blending his ingredients with the care of one and the taste and skill of the other profession. Almost all perfumes have as a basis ambergris or civet, and while these materials are most necessary, great care must be exercised in their use, for a grain too much will make the perfume distressingly irritating to the nose. The same is true of many combinations of scents, such combinations even producing hysteria in a mild or severe form. If indulged in at all but one distinct scent should be used.

Tyre Doot: I am unfortunate, mum. I had to quit my profession on account of my health.
Lady: But you look rugged. What was your profession?
Tyre Doot: Dat's just it. I was too rugged. I was in the venetianist, an' a good one, lady, an' my voice got so strong I couldn't throw it—Harper's Bazar.

Tommy Boyle in Bad Shape.
MONTREAL, Nov. 18.—Tommy Boyle, at one time featherweight champion of America, is a patient in St. Patrick's Ward of the Hotel Dieu Hospital, and in a few days is to be removed to the incurable hospital at Notre Dame de Graces. Tommy Boyle was one of the best known sporting men in the country twenty-five years ago, when he was proprietor of the "Horseshoe" in prominent sporting man who came to Montreal was a visitor.

The old-time weak to sit up in bed, but he still believes there is a chance for him to "come back."

FARMING WITH MACHINERY HAZARDOUS.

The substitution of power machinery for hand labor has made agriculture a hazardous industry. Corn shredders, grain separators, gasoline engines, threshers, cream separators and other forms of machinery have changed the character of agricultural processes, until much of the labor in the industry has become more analogous both in method and in danger to factory work than to earlier agricultural practices.

Don D. Lesholmer, of the Minnesota State Bureau of Labor in the Survey, avers that "much of the machinery used is far more dangerous than that used in most factories, for sufficient attention has not yet been paid to guarding it. The public has not known enough about the number and the causes of accidents on farms to realize that farmers need legal protection against unguarded machines as badly as do factory workers. Prevention is further retarded by the fact that the accidents are distributed over so wide an area that the persons injured do not combine and crystallize a sentiment for protection. When five men in a factory are killed in a year the operatives begin to ask why these accidents are happening and how they can be prevented; but when as many occur among the same number of farmers they do not realize that they have need to co-operate for protection."

Sixteen fatal accidents, two likely to result in death, 81 serious injuries and 22 severe ones—a total of 119 accidents—were reported from Minnesota's agricultural districts during the past 20 months, 18 of them, including four fatalities, in the last eight months. The reports for the first twelve months were especially incomplete, but there is reason to believe that the records even for the last eight months are not complete toll of the accidents. The figures given must be considered as illustrations rather than statistics.

"If you bow to any one passing by, do it in this manner: raise the right hand to your forehead as far as the crown, and your thumb under the brim, and then raise it from your head gracefully and easily."

"Look at the person you bow to, and hold your body gently forward."

"Hold your left arm straight down at your side, neither drawing it forward or backward."

"Move the right leg, if the person goes by on the right side, and keep the other firm."

Testing the Sensitiveness of Taste.

In tests of the sensitiveness of taste, Dr. Glotzbach, a German, has found that a solution of 0.000115 per cent. in water is the weakest that the tongue can detect. In dilution to this degree sulphuric acid and hydrogen sulphide could be still recognised. Cupric sulphate could be tasted when forming only 0.00007 per cent. of the solution. Common salt could be traced in proportion as small as 0.015, and even less was necessary of calcium sulphate, ferric chloride and ferrous sulphate.

With 0.12 per cent. of sugar, water was distinctly sweet, the sweetness being still perceptible in a solution of half of this strength. Sodium nitrate, potassium nitrate and calcium nitrate affected the taste about the same as cane sugar, and the same proved to be true of sodium nitrite, magnesium sulphate and sodium sulphate.
