Farmers clubs were the next subject discussed. The chairman thought farmers should get together every two weeks, and the experts in roots, in cattle, in sheep and other lines could give their experience for the benefit of those who worked under similar conditions.

Hon. Robert Jaffray excused himself is having been born on a Scotland farm. The exhibition board yesterday decided that Saturday should not alone cided that Saturday but also a repetition in attempting to speak to farmers. He commended what Mr. Smith had said to be Citizens' Day, but a'so a repetition the attention of the minister of lands of School Children's Day. All childthe attention of the minister of lands and mines. He thought it a misnomer to speak of the clay belt. The so-called belt was 200 miles wide, and contained 16,000,000 acres of arable land. He believed there was there a country which would yet produce as much wheat as Manitoba. He thought the land wheat as Manitoba.
