It is Easy to Keep Well If We Know How-Some of the Conditions Necessary to Perfect Health.

The importance of maintaining good health is easily understood, and it is really a simple matter if we take a correct view of the conditions required. In perfect health the stomach promptly digests food, and thus prepares nourishment. The blood is employed to carry this nourishment to the organs, nerves, muscles and tissues which need it. The first estessential for good health, therefore, as pure, rich blood. Now it is certainly a fact that no medicine has such a record of cures as Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is literally true that there are hundreds of people alive and well today who would have been in their graves had they not taken Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is depended upon as a family medicine and general regulator of the system by tens of thousands of people. This is because Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the blood pure. This is the secret of its great success. Keep your system in good health by keeping your blood pure with Hood's Sarsaparilla, which absolutely cures when other medicines fail to do any good whatever.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The Prisoner's Plea for a Postponement of Proceedings.

Affidavits by the Chief of Police and Other Parties in the Case

TUESDAY EVENING.

The judge, according to appointment, sat at 6 o'clock, to receive the verdict of the jury in the case of Geo. Lewis vs. the London Street Railway Compay, an action for $5,000 damages. At that time the jury, after five hours' deliberation, declared their inability to come to a decision, and were discharg-

There was a large crowd present at the court at 9:30, owing to the an-nouncement that Marion Brown would appear, but they were disappointed. The argument on the motion for postponement of the trial having been delayed until 12 o'clock.

A. B. Graham vs. Squire McIntyre, of Lobo—Action for slander arising out of a promissory note. Postponed on account of illness of one of the parties. Costs in the cause. Meredith & Fisher for plaintiff; Stuart, Stuart & Ross for defendant...

At 5:30 last night the grand jury, as expected, returned a true bill against Marion Brown, charged with the murder of P. C. Toohey on June 24. He appeared in the court looking fresh, his confinement apparently agreeing with him. Brown looked around the court, but no smile played about his face. He wore a dark gray tweed suit, which some time ago was sent to him by friends in Texas, and a white shirt. When the true bill was announced,

Mr. McPhillips, prisoner's counsel, stating that he had been making application to have the trial postponed on more than one ground, but had failed. Application had been made to have sel. the prisoner returned to Washington That State, and the right of the crown to proceed was questioned until that matter was disposed of. The case of Brown was now being considered by the governor-general. Sufficient time had not been given him to complete his defense and locate his witnesses. He would move for an order postponing the trial, and would submit an affidavit sworn to by the prisoner. His lordship suggested that the motion should be made as soon as possible, as the crown was at a great expense keeping such a large number of witnesses waiting.

Brown swore to the affidavit before Mr. N. P. Graydon, and signed it. Mr. McPhillips said he would read the affidavit in the morning, and Brown was then led back to the cells.

At 9:30 this morning, Mr. Lount, Q.C., not having had time to read the document, asked for an adjournment until 12 o'clock, which was granted. Following is a synopsis of the affidavit submitted:

PEG-LEG AFFIDAVIT.

The sworn affidavit of Brown is to the effect that he is at present in jail charged with the murder of P. C. Michael Toohey, on June 24, last, in this city. He declares that on Sept. 22 he arrested in the town of North Yakima, Wash., charged, not with murder, but with selling liquor to Indians, and he had no suspicion that he was charged with such a crime until he arrived on Canadian territory, and he had no idea he was coming to this city to be tried. That he was, on Oct. 20, brought before Police Magistrate Parke for preliminary examination, which continued for several days, and was concluded on Nov. 4, when he was committed to stand his trial. That 42 witnesses were examined before the said police magstrate, and 677 pages of typewritten evidence taken. Mr. Coo, whom he be-lieved was the court stenographer, had on Nov. 4 struck off all the copies of the evidence, but not until Dec. 24 had his counsel received a copy. Owing to the delay, his counsel, for this, if not for any other reason, was not prepared to go on with his defense, and meet the evidence of the crown.

Brown then goes on to state that he arrived here on Oct. 15, and that on Oct. 18 he engaged counsel, to whom he explained his arrest at North Yakima, 4,000 miles away, and directed him to lay the fact of his (Brown's) arrest and the manner in which he was kidnapped into Canadian territory, from the United States, without ever hav-ing been given a chance to defend himself before an extradition judge, which, he says, he certainly would have done had he known that he was to be arrested for murder, and brought four thouand miles away, to be placed upon trial for his life.

born American citizen, and until my arrest had always resided in the United States, and was never a citizen of Canada, and not naturalized as a British subject, and I claim all the rights of an American citizen and the benefits of the treaty existing between Canada and the United States for the extradition

Washington, dated Jan. 5, 1899, stated this his complaint and demand to be returned to his own country were under consideration, and that he should not be put upon trial until the matter was decided; that up to the date of this affidavit no communication had been received by his (prisoner's) coun-

That as the crown authorities had matter had been disposed of by the United States Government, he should at least be given time to prepare his defense. He proposed calling witnesses to prove that he was thousands of miles away from the city of London when the murder was committed, and that as it was only a short time until the next assizes, which would be held on March 20, no injury could come if the trial were postponed.

That he had been informed since being in jail here that circulars had been sent broadcast throughout the United States and Canada by Chief of Police Williams, describing him (the prisoner) as an all-round thief and burglar, that he was the murderer and did the shooting with a 44-calibre revolver, and that he could be found at any low dive, negro or white, gambling, or on race tracks. These statements, he declares, are as false as they are malicious, and by reason of the circulars, the public mind has become poisoned against him and so impressed with his guilt that he believes that he cannot get a fair trial by a jury of this country. That he also has been informed, and he believes, that the public press of this country, since his arrest, has teemed with invectives against him, describing him as a desperate scoundrel and mururer of P. C. Toohey, and by this means the public mind has become prejudiced and inflamed against him, and that before the trial comes off sufficient time should be allowed for the public mind to revert to its normal condition. That an impartial trial will not be accorded him, on account of the statements of the public press of this country. That 43 persons answering the same description were arrested on the charge. That the following witnesses are necessary and material to his defense, and that he cannot proceed to any trial unless they are here, or a commission appointed to take their evidence: Zella May Harkins, of San Saba, or Lampassas, Tex.; William Griffin, barber, Lampassas, Tex.; George McEnelly, farmer, San Saba, Tex.; Washington McEnelly, San Saba, Tex.; James Cook, San Angelo, Tex.; Alla Adkins, Sum-merville, Tex.; Dennis Jackson, Boonville; Wm. Franklin and Sarah Ryan, Temple; Wm. Glidden, North Yakima, Wash.; John Brydges, Austin, Tex.; T. Wilson, North Yakima; Taylor Piles, of the same place; Clearendy Montgomery, Perry, Okla.; Jefferson Lane, San Angelo, Tex.; the postmaster of Perry, Okla.; Clem ——, of San Angelo, Tex.; Nellie Burnham and Mr. Cole.

The prisoner further says that these witnesses, or the majority of them, have to be located. Letters sent to some of them have been returned, "Uncalled Replies have been received from Eva Lane, Zella May Harkins, and one from his mother, Mrs. Montgomery. That Eva Lane, in her letter, said that many of the witnesses named had removed, and she was unable to trace them. That his mother had informed him that she would supply funds for the preparation of his defense. chain of evidence will show that he was not in Canada at the time. That his counsel had just received very important information tending to prove his innocence. That his counsel had objected to the proceedings from the beginning of the trial, and that should it now proceed, he might be placed in such a position as to render it practically impossible for him to take such further proceedings as he had been advised by his counsel he could take in the event of a verdict of guilty being rendered against him.

CHIEF WILLIAMS' DEPOSITION. An affidavit was read by Mr. Lount, the crown prosecutor, as made by Chief Williams, to the effect that after the shooting of P. C. Toohey he had sent out circulars giving the description of Marion Brown; he was not aware that these circulars were ever published in any newspaper in Canada or the United States, excepting "The Chicago Detective" and "The London Advertiser;" that he did not recollect hearing of a single inflammatory article calculated to prejudice the public against the prisoner; that from the fact that the report of a one-legged man having been the slayer of P. C. Toohey had been widely circulated in the press since Toohey's death, the fact of the case, together with the evidence, at the inquest and the preliminary hearing and information gleaned by the newspaper reporters, much had been said; but so far as he had seen there had been nothing in-

Nothing more was said to Brown. That neither of the detectives said anything to Brown about taking him to Seattle to be tried on the charge of selling liquor to Indians. that nothing was ever said to Brown about being taken to Olympia.

CROWN ATTORNEY MAGEE'S AFFIDAVITS.

Mr. James Magee, Q.C., submitted his affidavit. He swore that he had attended the preliminary hearing before the police magistrate; that Mr. McPhillips, prisoner's counsel, was also there and personally cross-examined the witnesses. That the copy of the deposiwhich was furnished to Mr. McPhillips was not received until some days after Nov. 15; that he examined the same and compared it before delivering it to Mr. McPhillips. That in no way, to the best of his recollection, did prisoner's counsel complain that he was being prejudiced by non-receipt of such copy; that on Nov. 26, he had read the letter from Mr. Cartwright to Mr. Mc-Phillips, and then asked him (Mr. Mc-Phillips), to write the names of the witnesses he desired to attend, and what he expected to prove by them, to enable the crown to judge of their materiality. That he had never received any intimation of a desire, either by Brown or anyone else to have any wit. nesses in Canada produced for the defense of the prisoner, nor had any information been given to the crown regarding witnesses for the defense, more than appears in the letter of Mr. Mc-Phillips, of Nov. 15, and 28, and Dec. 1.

Robbed the Grave. A startling incident, of which Mr.

John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: 'I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continu-ally in back and sides, no appetite gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters'; and to my great joy and surprise the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents a bottle, every bottle guaranteed. For sale by W. T. Strong & Co.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Released Him From the Tortures of Lumbago-No Other Remedy Had Given Him Any Relief.

Hamilton, Jan. 9.—The Christmas season of 1898 was a significantly happy one for Mr. Harry Bawden, toreman of the Simcoe Canning Factory, and who lives at 40 Hess street north, in this

For six years past Mr. Bawden, had been in the grip of Kidney Disease, as was indicated by frequent and agonizing attacks of Lumbago. Those who have surfered the miserplaint will understand what a burden his life was made by it. Mr. Bawden consulted the most eminent physicians, and used various so-called "special" cures for his trouble, but experienced no benefit from any of ies and pains attendant upon this com-

About a year ago he was strongly advised by a friend to try Dodd's Kidney Pills for his trouble. He did so, and found the most wonderful relief from the first box he used.

This promising experience gave him fresh courage, and he continued the use of the pills, until he had taken five boxes in all. After having used this quantity of the medicine there was no need for a further use of it. Mr. Bawden was sound and well in every respect. Every symptom, every vestige of Kidney Trouble had left him, and he was cured. For the first time in six years he was able to spend Christmas and New Year's Day without a twinge of pain, thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills and to them alone. Dodd's Kidney Pills are making thousands of Hamiltonians happy, by making them healthy. No other medicine on earth can cure Kidney Disease of any and every type. Dodd's Kidney Pills have never failed in a single case, They always cure. Steamship Arrivals. Paris Southampton New York
