LONDON AND DISTRICT

—Miss Tootsie Burns and Miss Hattie Carnell spent the holiday in Sarnia.

A pleasing event took place at the Hamilton Road Methodist parsonage, 373 Hamilton road, when Mr. Charles Caven, of this city, and Miss Edith J. Wigglesworth, of St. Mary's, were united in marriage by Rev. D. E. Martin.

—Mrs. A. Mason, of Horton street, accompanied by her sister, Miss Lillie Bowman, of Grey street, have left to join the former's husband, who is a local engineer on the C. P. R. at Chislehurst, Ont. They will also visit North Bay, Sudbury and Copper Cliff. Mrs. Mason will remain at Chislehurst for the summer.

—Mr. L. S. Hancock, of Ridgeway, has just returned home after a short visit with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. Doyle, 91 Wharncliffe road, South London. Mr. Hancock is one of the oldest postmasters in this part of the Province, having held that position for 50 years. Mr. Hancock is remarkably well preserved for his age, being now in his 89th year. He was sent on a Baptist mission from New Jersey in the early 'fifties,' and has been a resident of Ridgeway ever since. He was married to Sarah A. Sumner, daughter of the late Captain L. Sumner, of Westminster, in 1895, and is still a hale and hearty man.

JERMYN-ROWE
The home of Mr. F. W. Cowan, 900 Queen's avenue, was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday at noon, when Miss Minnie Rowell, of Granston, became the bride of Mr. Alton B. Jermyrn. Rev. W. G. H. McAllister, pastor of the Centennial Methodist Church, conducted the ceremony. The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of cream silk and lace insertion, while her going-away gown was of blue lady's cloth. Upon their return from a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Jermyrn will take up their residence in this city.

London Big and Little Was Out for a Holiday

The Various Dominion Day Festivities Were Largely Attended.

Though the weather man entered into a conspiracy to spoil Dominion Day, the holiday proved the most enjoyable of the year. Early morning found ominous clouds lurking in all directions in the sky, and there was an occasional splash of rain toward noon. The day was very warm, however, and people were induced to take a gambler's chance on spending it at some point of amusement. They went out, too, for it was not until after 9 o'clock at night that the rain came on. And when it did come on, how it poured!

It appeared as though a cloudburst had occurred over London. In the heaviest part of the storm two big Springbank cars pulled up to the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, and began unloading passengers.

It was pitiable and laughable to watch the ladies scheming how to get to a doorway without spoiling their finery. Parasols shot out as if by magic from the side of the car, and it was no uncommon thing to see three or four young ladies crowded under a piece of lace eighteen inches in diameter.

The rain also drowned out a part of the vaudeville show and concert at Queen's Park under the auspices of the East End Athletic Association, and quite a number of people were disappointed.

At Springbank.
Springbank Park did a very big business yesterday. The company found it necessary to run seventeen cars on the line, and it is estimated that about 3,000 or 4,000 people were at the park. The matinee at the theatre was well patronized in the afternoon, and at night the theater played to capacity only.

Big Railway Business.
The Pere Marquette had the largest patronage of any holiday for some years. About 3,500 people from London and 1,000 from St. Thomas were carried to Port Stanley, and it was necessary to place three specials in commission. The Grand Trunk Railway did a tremendous single-fare return trip business yesterday. Several hundred people were carried to Detroit alone, while business to all other points was reported to be heavy. The C. P. R. and the Michigan Central also had their share of the holiday traffic.

The sports at Queen's Park attracted a large crowd in the afternoon, but not quite as large as had been expected. At night the attendance was none too large, either.

Tecumseh Park stands were filled with baseball enthusiasts in the morning, when the first game was played, but in the afternoon the audience was only fair.

The lively business was only fair yesterday, the threatening weather keeping many people at home who otherwise would have enjoyed a drive.

A GOOD BILL
Springbank Vaudville's Bill Up to Mark This Week.

The best bill of the season at Springbank is at the theater this week, and yesterday afternoon and last night the show attracted large audiences, the attendance at night being very large.

The show-liners are Jules and Marzon, who have what is undoubtedly one of the cleverest novelty acrobatic troupes ever seen in this city. This act alone is worth the price of admission.

The song and dance act of Doyle and Gage is pleasing, the wooden-shoe dancing turn being very successful.

Miss Doyle also sings well. The illustrated songs this week are being sung by Mr. Wm. Dyer, of this city, which is a guarantee that they are well sung. The moving pictures are excellent.

RAINFALL WAS LIGHT
Only 3.36 inches Recorded at the Local Observatory in June.

Compared with the same month of 1906, June was somewhat dry in London. The rainfall a year ago amounted to 4.38 inches, while last month the fall amounted to only 3.36 inches, a decrease of 1.02 inches.

The warmest day of the past month was the 18th, when the thermometer registered 87 degrees above. The lowest reading was on the 7th—36 degrees above.

India, the land of mystery, is rapidly coming to the front in various fields of industry. The Indian empire possesses no fewer than 15 coal fields, while iron is worked on an extensive scale in three districts, two of which are situated in the immediate vicinity of Calcutta. Nor are oil fields wanting; 17 more or less important centers are engaged in this industry in the provinces of Bengal and Assam, while tobacco cultivation is another valuable asset to Assam, as well as to Madras.

LEAGUERS HAD GOOD TIME
Dundas Center Young People Spent Day in London Township.

The members of the Epworth League of the Dundas Center Methodist Church spent a most pleasant outing at the summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. John White, concession of 4 London Township, yesterday, the event being the annual picnic of the league. Early in the forenoon, several "bus loads of the leaguers, with all the necessary provisions for such an occasion, drove out to the White home. The greater part of the day was spent in sports and games of various kinds including a baseball match, which resulted in a victory for a team captained by Mr. L. Skinner over Mr. F. E. Perrin's team. The score was 9-2. Both dinner and tea were served by the league, and in every way the picnic was the most successful ever held.

The great attraction in Emperor William's stable, at least for the general public, is the gorgeous coronation coach, which cost $150,000. There is a set of harness for eight horses, ornamented with gold, which cost nearly $125,000.

KAISER ECONOMIZING
Cuts Down Stable Staff and Gets Rid of Many Horses.

Berlin, July 1. — Emperor William, who owns horses enough to mount a cavalry regiment, has begun to economize in his stables and carriage houses. In Berlin alone he has 240 horses, and a staff of 800 men, including titled masters of the horse and stable-boys.

He went to the equine department here one day and noticed a group of men loitering about without any particular object in view. He called one to him and asked what his duties were. The man answered that he was head plaster of the horses' manes.

"And how many assistants have you, if you are the chief?" inquired the inquisitive Emperor. The man replied that his staff consisted of three men and two apprentices.

"All engaged in plaiting manes?" asked his majesty. "You and your assistants please take a month's notice and I shall be glad if you find a less exacting occupation."

Then he called the master of the horse, and went into matters with this official, giving him a very bad quarter of an hour. In a few days the staff was reduced by a hundred men. Then the Emperor turned his attention to the horses, and found that he had several
