OLYMPIC GAMES REGATTA.

LONDON, June 22.-Signorinetta, the Signorinetta before the King and was rank outsider, the 100 to 1 shot which won the Derby and two days later was victorious in the Oaks, has brought her Signorina, one of the best animals of wictorious in the Oaks, has brought her by the standard of the Dest administration of the Dest adminis

The stakes of the two classic races in which Signorinetta claimed victory were alone worth over $60,000, and the word after never lost faith in Signorina. prospects of that amount being tripled and repeatedly asserted he would one tefore this season is ended are bright.

Signorinetta has, like some beautiful was ridiculed, but his prophecy has fairy tale, repaid the kindness of her master to herself and to her mother, the equally-famed Signorina, by ensur-ing his old age against penury and want, that were loudly knocking at the doors of his little racing stable at New-

The winning came just at the opportune moment. The day of the Derby advertisements appeared in the English papers offering Signorina Villa, the home of Ginistrelli, for sale. Ginistrelli, broken-hearted by many disappoint-ments, unable to further stand the excenses of running even his small racing streturning to his native Italy and passing his remaining days on the very little that remained to him.

Now Safe From Penury.

Signorinetta changed all that. Ginistrelli will now remain in England, of which country he is a naturalized citizen. He will keep his little Signorina Villa and his few beloved horses and dogs, and his advancing age will not be darkened by the pressing of creditors.

Ginistrelli was good to Signorinetta. He was good and kind to her mother, the famous Signorina. His love for his famous Signorina. His love for his have as knows no price, and when, years the apogee of the stream of the st ago, Signorina was in the apogee of her fame some one offered the chevalier $100,000 for her, he simply scorned the offer, altho at the time he needed money badly.

It contains the elements of an old-time Drury Lane melodrama. As far as known there is no villain in this case unless it be an importunate creditor, and there is no beautiful heroine, but the story does not lack beauty, because Ginistrelli saved his beloved Signorina one who might love her less.

Wins Twice With No. Thirteen.
Beltevers in superstition have a few choice morsels to crunch in Signorin-telli case. In the Derby and the Oaks she drew the hoodoo number, thirteen. In the Derby, when Norman III., belonging to August Belmont, had the race well in hand some other horse interfered and cut his fetlock, thereby in her owner's opinion costing Norman the race. Another distinguishing characteristic of the chevalier is his disregard of appearances. He defied all conventions appearing on Derby day wearing a large Panama hat of a shape long passed out of fashion. Most owners of raceorses affect a black morning coat on Derby day, but the chevaller had on a le-grey tweed suit. and it was in this suit and Panama hat that he led

It is a great pity that rowdy lacrosse broke out again on Saturday in the Tecumseh-Montreal game. Toronto is taking to lacrosse, but clean, fast lacrosse is wanted, and the public will not go to see scraps. The first half of the game was clean and fast, with honors even in the first quarters, and the Indians much the better in the second, but the third quarter was one long scrap, and the fourth as well, until the eastern men settled down and scored a couple of goals, and the probability is they might have evened up in a short time, as they were playing by far the most aggressive game of lacrosse in the final quarter.

Judge of Play Menary came in for a lot of criticism, but he was in a difficult position, and one might question the choice of President Thompson in putting him on to act in a local game, owing to the hard feeling always existing between these two teams.

Says Taft is a Cinch.

NEW YORK, June 22.—William J. Conners of Buffalo, chairman of the state Democratic committee, who was in New York to-day, said to several newspaper men that he telieved Mr. Taft would be an easy candidate for the hard feeling always existing between these two teams.

It seems too bad that the 5000 people at the game on Saturday should have seen such a rowdy exhibition, and its effect may probably be noted at the next game. A certain element likes that kind of thing, but at best they are not the kind of men the management want at the games, and, besides, they're in the minority. The Indians had better look after themselves when they go down east.
