THIS EVENING

The Every Day Club. "Six" in New York, at the Opera House Motion pictures, illustrated songs and orchestral music at the Nickel.

LATE LOCALS. Allan line steamer Carthaginian, arrived at Halifax this morning from Liverpool.

Norwegian steamship Ragnarok, Captain Paulsen, sailed today for Windsor, N. S. to lead.

All members of Company A, Loyal Crusaders, are requested to meet in the Temperance Hall, Market building, this evening at 7.15.

British steamship Dominion, Captain Dawson, 2389 tons arrived today from Sydney, C. B. with a large cargo of coal.

Owing to the death of young Frederick Goran, the reception planned for tonight for Mrs. John Goran will not take place as arranged.

An important business meeting of the Every Day Club will be held this evening at the close of the singing lesson, to consider other features beneficial to the club.

Miss Alice Dalton, Sydney street, who has been serving a probationary term in Newton Hospital, Newton Mass., has successfully completed her term and has entered on a three years course in professional nursing.

Steamer Pandora arrived at Genoa today from Cardiff. Stmr Trebia arrived at Barry yesterday from Manchester, for Genoa; and steamer Tanagra arrived at Middlesboro today from Carthaginas.

G. S. Mayes states there is plenty of water for all steamers between Sand Point and No. 5 berth. Some dredging by the Beaver remains to be done at low water where the cribs are now moored at No. 5 and also at the approach to the wharf.

The members of the Every Day Club wish to thank the person or persons who left a parcel of magazines on the club doorstep Saturday, thus showing their sympathy and appreciation for the club's work. "To help men to be men."

Auxiliary schooner Francis, Capt. Gesner, arrived this morning from Bridgetown with her first cargo consisting of apples, etc. She is now at north market wharf. The schooner proved herself to be a fast one under her motor power and sails.

Schooner Ina B., Captain Sullivan, went ashore this morning on the round reef, while bound out with a general cargo for Meteghan River, and remained there. The schooner seemed to be lying in an easy position. The tug Nereid will tow her back to the market slip when she floats.

At a meeting of the Lancaster council held on Friday evening it was suggested that an audit should be made of the parish books, as is now being done at City Hall. There was a clash between Councilors Fox and Hodge over the payment of a bill for road work, incurred by the former and the councilors refused to pass it.

Mrs. J. Verner McLellan has donated a very handsome cut glass water pitcher—which is now on exhibition in J. & A. McMillan's window, Prince William street—for the best decorated stall at the Kennel show on Monday morning. Exhibitors will have from 8 a. m. till twelve o'clock (noon) to get in their dogs and decorate their stalls.

A special event will take place at No. 1, Wellington station, Charlotte street, tonight. E. L. Jewett, on behalf of the Bangor firemen, who visited this city during the tournament, will present No. 1 company with a beautifully framed picture of the firemen of that city. The Bangor firemen made No. 1 Wellington station, their headquarters while here, and they made many friends, and tonight the ladies of No. 1 will again honor their friends across the border.

On account of the fresh water freshets and high tides the waters of the upper part of the Annapolis River have been very high this week. From this cause a rather pathetic sight was witnessed by travellers through the valley on Thursday. In the vicinity of Bridgetown the tide and over-flowed the dykes, and the marshes were submerged. One lot, enclosed in a wire fence, contained several head of cattle. They were unable to cross the fence, and as the train swept by were viewed by many on board trying to keep their heads above water till the tide went down.

Relative to a rumor that she had secured a divorce from her husband, Mrs. Florence Ray (nee Randolph), who is now at the home of her mother, Mrs. Albert J. Goss, 24 Pitt street, when seen by a reporter, said that an absolute divorce had been granted from her husband, George E. Day, in New York city by Judge Clark, she being given the custody of the children. Mrs. Day was formerly Miss Florence E. Randolph, of Fredericton, and lived there many years. Mr. Day was also a Fredericton man. It is understood that the case has been pending for some time.

Hon. L. J. Tweedie, the lieutenant governor, who will address the Canadian Club here tomorrow evening on Our Forest Lands and Their Preservation, has given the best years of his life to a study of his subject. Every member of the club owes it to himself, his business, city and province to be conversant with the vast forest resources of New Brunswick and their economic effect on the future and consequently cannot afford to miss his honor's instructive address. The report promised by the King's Daughters at 6.15 p. m. with all its sociality and good cheer should add to the pleasure of the occasion. The luncheon will be in the Keith assembly room.

PERSONALS. Geo. V. McInerney, K. C., who has been seriously ill at his home in King street east, was reported better Saturday and much improved Sunday night. Hon. William Pugsley is expected to arrive from Ottawa today on the noon train. J. E. Gannon, of St. Stephen, was registered at the Royal Saturday.

THAT U. N. B.

ALGONQUIN GAME

That irresponsible sport writer of the Fredericton Gleaner hands out the following which is as false as it is foolish: "Some frenzied financing and the stringency of the money market once more affected St. John football circles and with-tail it need only be said that the Algonquins did not come to light at the proper time with the necessary guarantee of $200. They first wanted to make it $15, but as a final offer they raised it to $20, that happened over the long distance phone between St. John and Windsor, N. S., where the U. N. B. team was playing on Wednesday. But the Algonquins had to make a final offer and unfortunately that press note made until about the time for the train to leave St. John last evening for Fredericton, and Manager McNaughton was having the tickets for the team. It came too late for the U. N. B. team to change their plans and remain over the night game."

As the stone conversation in question seems to have been an unfortunate misunderstanding, it would have been the wisest course to have gone further and given the St. John end of the conversation. This could have been obtained from Mr. McNaughton who is gentleman enough to appreciate fair dealing. But the comment from the Fredericton paper in question might give a wrong impression to those who do not know of the sport writer it would not be worth while noting. There are those here who exaggerate the feeling that there are other reasons why the collegians did not play here, but this matter has not been run into Manager McNaughton's explanation was taken as the word of a gentleman.

A REPORT ON GALES

The Dominion Meteorological Service has issued the following notice to mariners:

In November during the thirty-four years, 1873 to 1906 inclusive, 214 gales were fresh to heavy and 75 moderate. In 72 cases the winds backed, in 99 they veered, and in 18 they backed in some localities and veered in others.

In the Lower St. Lawrence Valley and the Gulf of St. Lawrence, 103 gales were fresh to heavy and 75 moderate. In 72 cases the winds backed, in 99 they veered, and in 18 they backed in some localities and veered in others.

In the Maritime Provinces 170 gales have occurred, 83 fresh to heavy and 87 moderate. In 31 cases the winds backed, in 115 they veered and in 24 cases they backed in some places and veered in others.

DR. HILL WELCOMED

(Yarmouth Times)

A large number of members and adherents of St. John's Presbyterian church, as well as many of other denominations were present at the social held last evening in the vestry of that church, in honor of Dr. Hill. The evening was spent in a pleasant way with music and social intercourse. The chair was occupied by C. G. Gove, and the following program was carried out:—Piano duet, by Miss Shaw and Miss Grace Pelton, solos by T. M. Seelye and J. J. Clark Robbins, reading by Mrs. Putnam and a piano solo by Miss Grace Pelton.

The chairman spoke briefly welcoming all who were present. He read a letter from the Rev. W. E. Young, P. P., in which that gentleman regretted his inability to be present and welcomed Dr. Hill to Yarmouth. Rev. C. W. Lane, in a few well chosen remarks, welcomed Dr. Hill to Yarmouth on behalf of the ministerial association. Dr. Hill made an appropriate response. During the evening refreshments were served and the gathering dispersed with the singing of the national anthem.

TODAY'S MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL

Considerable business will have to be considered at the postponed meeting of the common council, which is being held this afternoon. There will be a discussion as to whether the city shall proceed to call for tenders for timber for a new wharf to extend from the Clave & Adams wharf to the harbor line. There is a considerable difference of opinion regarding whether the city should undertake any more work of such a magnitude in view of the efforts being made to have the government take over the harbor properties. Ald. Bullock, chairman of the treasury board, will report on the action taken concerning the suspension of the chamberlain and the employment of an auditor to examine the accounts. The White Candy Co-Street Railway will also likely be heard. There are a large number of recommendations and reports from the various boards to be considered.

THE LATE J. A. MOSES

(Yarmouth Times)

After a brief illness of a few days, Judson A. Moses, vice-principal of Central school, died at his home in Hebron on Wednesday. He was sixty-three years of age and had been a member of the staff of Central school for five years, during which time he greatly endeared himself to teachers, pupils and the public generally. He was a man of splendid scholastic equipment, which had been seasoned by wide traveling. Naturally capable and painstaking he was a most successful teacher and will be long remembered not only because of this, but likewise because of his excellent personal qualities. During the South African war he spent some time in the field as a member of the local guards and after returning to Canada went to the west, through which country he travelled extensively. Returning to his native county he joined the staff of the Yarmouth school. He was an enthusiastic and practical agriculturist and was in charge of an experimental orchard at Hebron, which was entrusted to him by the provincial government. He was a son of the late Thomas Moses and is survived by a widow, formerly Miss Perry, of Port Maitland.
