J. W. HOLLY OF ROTHESAY DEAD

Well Known Lumber Dealer Succumbs After Illness of Months

Esteemed Citizen Was Member of Prominent North Saint John Family

THE death of J. Walter Holly occurred at an early hour this morning at his home, "Hollyholme," Rothesay, and will be learned of with regret by a very large circle of friends in the city and province. Mr. Holly had been ill for some months, and was for a time under treatment at the General Public Hospital. He was taken to his home some weeks ago, and since that time had gradually failed.

Mr. Holly was a son of the late Shadrach Holly and Hannah Tapley, the only male child of a large family of children, born of a union of two prominent families engaged in lumbering and lumber rafting operations in and about Saint John at that time and for years after. Although still in life's prime, he was one of the few survivors of a group of families who for many years formed the backbone of the lumbering trade in this part of the province. The father, Shadrach Holly, bore the distinction of being the first mayor of the old town of Portland, now North End, Saint John, and J. Walter Holly, of Rothesay, as the only son, was reared in an atmosphere of active citizenship and public-spiritedness that became natural to him as his responsibilities increased.

OF SAYRE & HOLLY
Educated in the public schools of Saint John and later in the Baptist Academy in Wolfville, N. S., Mr. Holly was prepared to join his father in the timber mercantile business, which partnership existed until Shadrach Holly's death in 1900. Fred E. Sayre then joined with J. W. Holly in the formation of the Sayre & Holly Lumber Company, Limited, at Chipman, N. B. In 1908, Mr. Holly and Mr. Sayre established a second business in this city under the corporation name of F. E. Sayre & Company, Ltd. Since the destruction of the Sayre & Holly sawmill at Long Wharf, some years ago, the activities of the firm have been confined to the Chipman district in Queens county, and their accounting and sales offices in this city.

In the last few years, Mr. Holly had spent considerable time and effort at his home at Rothesay, and in visiting the city and his home at Rothesay during the week-ends. The vigor with which he plunged himself into his renewed effort exposed him, it was thought, to the subtle progress of the malady to which he succumbed and which he little suspected.

THE FAMILY
In 1898, Mr. Holly was married to Regina M. Murphy, daughter of Captain Regina M. Murphy of Yarmouth, N. S., prominent shipbuilder and owner of the marriage there are four sons and two daughters. The sons, Lieut. James Walter Holly, who is in the life in the Great War; John S. Holly, associated with his father in the lumber business; George F. Holly, lawyer at Port Elgin, N. B.; and DeBlavier Holly. The daughters are Kathryn, wife of H. H. McLean, son of General H. H. McLean; L. Annette, wife of C. M. Bostwick. Two sisters, Mrs. A. Sorrell, of Woodman's Point on the Saint John River, and Miss Marion Holly, Douglas avenue, are all who survive of the Shadrach Holly family.

THE HAPPY HOME
The social side of J. Walter Holly and his family has been happily linked with the life of the community since the family moved from their Yarmouth home to this city in 1897, when Mr. Holly purchased the splendid Parsonage property in Coburg street, now absorbed by the Saint John Infirmary group of buildings. Mr. Holly's hospitable nature and his wife's equal amiability made the home a happy center for a large circle amongst club members and adults. Eight years ago the family removed to Rothesay where Mr. Holly erected a large modern residence, one of the finest in that suburban resort.

HIS ASSOCIATIONS
For a number of years Mr. Holly was an active member of the Union Club until his absence from the city prevented local associations. He was an ardent angler and hunter and part of his yearly routine was that of fishing and stalking big game. He was a member of the Crescent Lake Fishing Club and the Theobald Lake Fishing Club. His participation in field sports was largely confined to golf, especially in previous years when he was one of the early members of the Saint John Golf Club, the links of which were then located on the Millidge property back of Mount Pleasant. This club was the nucleus of the present Riverside Golf and Country Club, on whose roster Mr. Holly's name still appears. Fraternally, he was a member of Hibernia Lodge No. 3, F. & A. M.

HIS ILLNESS
During the past few weeks when Mr. Holly's state of health was a matter of deep concern to relatives and immediate circle, widespread expressions of sympathy and regret were voiced and prayers for his recovery entertained. Professional advice, local and from important outside sources, was sought but the disease had been too deeply seated.

TAXI MAN FINED.
Thomas Parks, a local taxi driver, appeared before Magistrate Henderson in the Police Court this morning charged with driving past a street car while it was discharging its passengers. He was fined $10. The occurrence happened in Mill street, near Paradise Row yesterday afternoon. Testimony given by Policeman Corner was corroborated by the motorman of the street car, but would not confirm this under oath and the magistrate struck the penalty as he thought taxi drivers should know better.

PLAN BRIDGE AND DANCE
Moulton Temple, No. 14 Pythian Sisters, at a meeting in Pythian Hall last night made plans for holding a bridge and dance at the Castle in the near future. Mrs. D. Cameron, M. E. C. presided.

POLICE FINDS.

A sum of money and a large bunch of keys, found on the streets, await the owners at police headquarters.

HAD DEPARTED.

A report was received at the police station last night at 11:30 o'clock to the effect that two suspicious characters were loitering in the vicinity of Canterbury and Duke streets. Detective Kilpatrick and Policeman Gault responded to the call, but all was serene on their arrival.

LITTLE WANDERERS.

John Dearing, aged three, and Edward May, the same age, were picked up yesterday by Police Matron Adams, wandering about Queen Square. They were taken to police headquarters, where Mrs. May called for them later and took them to their home at 115 Erin street.

PLEASANT EVENING.

The Booster Club of Willis L. O. L. held a very successful card party and dance at the Grand Hotel, Fairville, last night. Auction forty-fives was played by a large number and the prize winners were Herbert Bastin and J. Curry. For those who danced music was furnished by an orchestra. An efficient committee of ladies served refreshments.

MISSION PROGRAM.

An interesting program on Presbyterian Home and Foreign missions was given at a meeting of Knox church Women's Missionary Society last night with Mrs. R. A. Sewell, the president, in the chair. Papers on missions were read by Mrs. A. R. Melrose, Mrs. Ewen McAfee and Mrs. James G. Armstrong. Among those present was Miss A. E. Townsend, county vice-president, who was making an official visit.

DINES PAST CHANCELLORS.

At the monthly meeting of the Past Chancellors' Association, Knights of Pythias, on Saturday evening, a banquet was tendered by the president, Mrs. R. A. Sewell. About 60 sat down to the well appointed table. After a short business session a social hour was enjoyed. A vote of thanks to the president for his hospitality was moved by Past Grand Chancellor Stilwell and seconded by Past Chancellor J. Jenkins.

MISSION CIRCLE MEETS.

The Jessie Chipman Mission Circle of Portland United Church held a parlor meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. Geo. Hartshorn, 104 Lansdowne avenue. The president, Mrs. Fred Smiler, occupied the chair. Devotional exercises were in charge of Miss Doris Brownell. The last chapter of the study book, "Building with India" was taken up. Pleasing solos were sung by Miss Cora Carr. Dainty refreshments were served and a social evening spent.

NICELY ENTERTAINED.

St. Mary's band provided an excellent concert program for the patients and staff of the Saint John County Hospital last evening. Popular numbers and English airs predominated and the entertainment greatly pleased the audience. Everyone in the building was able to hear the music as all doors were thrown open and the concert was given in the central hall. Refreshments were served for the members of the band afterwards. Through the kindness of the New Brunswick Power Company special street cars conveyed the band to and from the hospital.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram" said The Times-Star reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I'd like to go to the mat with you this morning on the question of raising calves."

"What do you know about raisin' calves?" demanded Hiram.

"On the principle that I have never raised any," said the reporter, "I ought to be an authority."

"Yes," said Hiram "that's the way with you town fellows. You're always ready to tell us how to farm. Now let me tell you something. If you town folks wants to help the farmer get out an' find out what his troubles is—an' then see if you an' him together can't get rid of 'em. I'm sayin' right here an' 'nobody we ain't on best—but if you want to make things up come out an' talk things over—here some of our fellows over an' an' talk 'em over. You'd be surprised how much you don't know about things the farmers has to raise with—Yes, Sir."

There has been found a new and easy method by which Junior Red Cross members can raise money for the crippled children's fund, which in New Brunswick is to be called upon to meet heavier demands since the survey of the children of the province was completed and it was found how many children were in need of remedial care. Miss Jean E. Brown, Dominion director of Junior Red Cross, has announced that if the Juniors save and collect "silver paper" she can find a good market for it, and the money so earned will be given to the children for their fund. She has suggested that the Juniors should have boxes marked "Tin foil" in the schoolroom and place in it all the tin foil that they have collected from the wrappings of confectionery.

As lead foil as well as tin foil is sometimes used in wrapping packages, Miss Brown says the Juniors must be careful in distinguishing, as lead foil is less valuable.

OFFICERS ELECTED

The election of officers by the Young People's Society of Fairville United Church last evening resulted as follows: President, H. C. L. Sweet; vice-president, Miss Marion Black; rec. sec., Harper Henderson; treas., Miss L. M. Kelley; pianist, Miss Hazel McCumber; program committee, Miss Edna Shaw, Miss Saele Cougle; Leon Small and Miss Dorothy Campbell. Social committee, Miss Stella Kirkpatrick, Miss Hazel Kelley, Miss Eva Taylor, Miss Dorothy Sutton.

RESIGNATIONS DEMANDED?

In the case of six railway mail clerks on the C. N. R. Maritime express route questioned in connection with alleged irregularities at reported, Saint John postal authorities would say nothing further today. It is rumored the resignation of some of the men has been demanded. Details have not been made public, local officials saying the matter is in the hands of Ottawa direct.

GOVERNMENT OF CITY IS TOPIC

E. J. Henneberry Gives Address To Women's Institute

Various Phases Explained—Mrs. Lawlor Gives Paper on Edison

A very fine address on municipal administration was given by E. J. Henneberry at a meeting of the Saint John Women's Institute last night in the Health Centre with Mrs. T. N. Vincent, president, in the chair. He spoke of municipal administration in general and then gave a brief sketch of the administration of Saint John and Portland and of the city after the two centres had amalgamated. He spoke of the former democratic form of civic government and the present commission form, pointing out the good points in each and the opportunities they afforded for abuses to creep in. Then he sketched the town manager plan, showing both its good points and its bad points. He explained where the money for civic administration comes from and how it is allotted.

QUESTIONS ASKED

Many questions were asked of the lecturer and Mr. Henneberry answered them all. He was asked if a general plebiscite in which every citizen could vote should be desired before any change of civic government were made, what steps would have to be taken, and he explained that special legislation from the provincial government would have to be obtained.

A hearty vote of thanks extended to Mr. Henneberry was moved by Mrs. J. V. V. Lawlor and seconded by Mrs. Richard Hooper.

WILL DO SEWING

The meeting was attended by many members. Mrs. Vincent having invited the members to meet at her home on the next meeting date, it was decided that each member would bring some material to that meeting to be made into clothing for the Lady Byng camp children.

There was a general discussion with regard to what exhibits should be sent to the Women's Institute convention, and many new suggestions were made. A paper on the life of an outstanding man now living was given by Mrs. Lawlor, and dealt with the life of Thomas A. Edison. Mrs. Lawlor attributed Edison's success and fame to his own merit and industry, and she spoke of Edison's belief and reliance in God as outstanding characteristics in an age of disbelief.

The Institute is conducting a competition for the best story on "A Day in My Life." Some of the members ended in their essays last night, and the remaining ones are to be submitted at the next meeting.

GIVES ADDRESS ON CHURCH OF FUTURE

Rev. J. H. A. Holmes Closes Church of England Lectures

The series of Lenten lectures on the Church of England, under auspices of the Church of England Institute, closed last evening when Rev. J. H. A. Holmes spoke on "The Church of the Future." He showed what had been the contribution of the Anglican church to Christendom and indicated what part the Anglican church could take in the church of the future looking towards the ultimate re-union of Christians. The series of addresses has attracted capacity attendance and the speakers have given brilliant explications of the themes. Ven. Archdeacon A. H. Crowfoot, president, was in the chair last night and extended to Rev. Mr. Holmes a hearty vote of thanks, moved by R. S. Couper and seconded by Dr. J. M. Magee.

There's Stability In Newsprint Industry

The newsprint industry is in a class by itself for consistent price advances over years and decades. The determining factors are supply, which is becoming less, and demand which shows no sign of halting growth.

In both supply and demand the St. Lawrence Paper Mills, Ltd. are fortunate for a half century to come.

Their profits point to great strength in the Bonds offering at 98 1-2 to yield 6 1-8 per cent.
