

"What is This Nerve Food You See Advertised in all the Papers, Some Kind of Patent Medicine?"

"PERHAPS that is what you might call it."

"Well, do you know anything about it?"

"I certainly do, and have a box right here in my grip. Why, say, in my estimation, it is the greatest thing ever invented in the medicine line."

"You seem to be rather enthusiastic. You are not selling Nerve Food, are you?"

"No, I am not selling it, but I am recommending it. When I find a good thing I like to tell others about it."

"What did it ever do for you?"

"I was on my back with the flu for two weeks, and when I got up was so weak that I did not get out of the house for ten days. I started out on my trip on the road, but did not have the energy to sell goods."

"What seemed to be the matter?"

"The doctor said my nerves were in bad condition. I could not sleep nights, and after talking to a customer I seemed to be all in. There was so little nerve force in my system that I went all to pieces with a little exertion."

"I did not get right until I had used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for about two weeks. By that time my appetite was good and I began to feel like myself again."

"For a month I scarcely missed a dose of the Nerve Food, and am now feeling fine. I eat and sleep well, and take the same old pleasure in my work that I always did when in good health."

"You must be all right, then."

"Yes, and I certainly appreciate what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done for me, for I thought I would have to quit the road entirely. You can call it a patent medicine if you like, but, anyway, I swear by it."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.75, all dealers, or Edmansons, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. On every box of the genuine you will find the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author.

INQUEST INTO DEATH OF GEORGE E. COLWELL

An inquest into the death of George E. Colwell was conducted last night by Coroner F. L. Kennedy.

The jury went out at 1 a.m. and returned with the following verdict:

"We, the jury, empaneled to inquire into the death of George E. Colwell, find that he died in the General Public Hospital on the evening of April 12, 1919, from a fracture of the skull. The said fracture was received while he was at work on the C. P. O. S. liner Scandianavian on the afternoon of April 10, 1919, at No. 6 berth, West St. John, and was caused by being struck on the head by a falling iron stanchion. We find from the evidence that the accident was caused by having inexperienced workmen make repairs, they being carpenters instead of iron-workers. We deeply regret the lack of sympathy shown by his fellow workers in allowing him to go to the hospital unattended."

"We would bring to the notice of the workmen's compensation board the urgent need of the amendment for the exclusive use of the West Side during the winter months."

The following witnesses gave evidence: Dr. H. Hedden, superintendent of the General Public Hospital; Andrew Sheppard of 90 St. James street, West Side, who was working with Mr. Colwell at the time; D. Maryland, a hatchman on the steamer; E. Robillard, who was in charge of the winch; E. Toole, who worked with Mr. Colwell; Oscar Taylor, who also worked with the unfortunate man; Morton McLaren, a workman, and William Urquhart, foreman of the carpenters on the vessel. J. F. H. Teed represented Mrs. Colwell.

GOVERNMENT BILLS IN THE LEGISLATURE

Women's Franchise, Compensation Act, Liquor Law Amendments—Two of Opposition Vote With Government

Fredericton, N. B., April 15.—It was nearly half-past one o'clock this morning when the legislature adjourned.

Government bills introduced last evening reached a total of a round dozen. The premier announced that these bills completed the government programme and intimated that they should not stand in the way of prorogation on Thursday.

When the house went into committee for consideration of bills the attorney-general with respect to the bill to extend the franchise to women, asked for the decision of the members on the proposal contained in the bill to prepare special lists of women voters before July 1. This precipitated a lively discussion in which the opposition members seemed rather at sea. Although they recognized that the premier could not be expected to tell them when the next general elections would occur, they ardently fished for the information, and also for the possible date of the prohibition referendum. Not receiving any enlightenment, many of them reversed the attitude they had taken before and demanded that the special lists be prepared. The debate having shown difficulties in the way of having the work of revision done in the country districts before July and a general opposition to the extra expense involved, the government members with the added support of Messrs. Campbell and Foltis, voted to eliminate the provisions for the special lists, and accordingly they were struck out. As the bill now stands, the names of the women electors will be added at the time of the usual revision in September.

An amendment was made to make clear the government's intention that all soldiers, whether of age or not, should have the right to vote.

An amendment to the compensation act providing that an action to recover compensation for an injury sustained before the act came into force may be maintained was passed.

Mr. Smith, of Carleton, offered another amendment to the act for the purpose of bringing men engaged in lumbering operations under its jurisdiction.

The premier announced that the matter already had been decided upon, and that at the next meeting of the government, probably within a day or two, the lumbering industry would be brought under the act by order-in-council.

The act to consolidate and amend the several acts relating to the protection of persons employed in factories was taken up in committee, but as it was decided that no one would suffer by allowing the bill to stand over for another year, and considerable time would be saved thereby, this course was adopted.

There was no opposition to the government's proposal contained in the amendment to the liquor act, to take over the wholesale vending of liquor. Mr. Young even suggested that they go further and take over the retail vending as well. Mr. Foltis protested vigorously against giving the board power to regulate the sale of essences, classing it as a dangerous infringement of personal liberty and said such action might lead to a rebellion.

Mr. Sweeney asked that the same right of appeal be given the accused as the prosecution enjoys.

Dr. Campbell characterized the liquor law as the most un-British on the statute books, and said the right to search catches was causing unrest throughout the province.

Progress was reported in order to give opportunity for further consideration.

Hon. Mr. Foster introduced a bill to provide for the funding of certain expenditures in connection with the Jordan Sanatorium and the O'Connor property, Fredericton. On the ground of urgency it was read a second time.

Hon. Mr. Veit introduced a bill to amend an act to provide a fund for the building of permanent highways. He explained that it was proposed to fund the sum of $450,000 during the present year. On the ground of urgency the bill was read a second time.

Hon. Mr. Roberts introduced a bill to amend the act respecting witnesses and evidence, which on the ground of urgency was read a second time.

Hon. Mr. Roberts introduced a bill to amend the public health act, 1918. He explained that the bill was to deal with several important matters, one of which was to reduce and possibly eliminate the epidemic of small-pox. The present law provided that district boards of health should be composed of not less than three members and more than five with the district health officer, chairman ex officio. Under the amendment it was proposed that the boards should consist of not less than four nor more than six members. On the ground of urgency the bill was read a second time.

Hon. Mr. Foster introduced a bill to provide for provincial debentures falling due in 1919. He explained that debentures to the amount of $2,250,000 would fall due during the present year and authority was asked for power to make a new issue of bonds.

Hon. M. Tweeddale introduced a bill to provide for the transfer of certain parts of the crown lands to the municipalities to be used for a municipal home. He explained that authority was being asked to dispose of from 100 to 500 acres to municipalities which might require the same for the establishment of municipal homes. On the ground of urgency the bill was read a second time.

Hon. Mr. Byrne introduced a bill entitled, the sale goods act, 1919. He explained that the bill had been recommended by the board of uniformity of legislation and was to be read in connection with the sale goods act previously introduced. On the ground of urgency the bill was read a second time and referred to the law committee.

Hon. Mr. Byrne introduced a bill to amend the act relating to electoral districts and sub-districts. He explained that it would be applicable to parishes and sub-districts in the counties of Charlotte, Gloucester, Kent, Northumberland and Queens. On the ground of urgency it was read a second time.

Hon. Mr. Byrne introduced a bill to erect parts of the parishes of Northfield, Sunbury and Canning, Queens county, into a police district and to provide for the appointment of a stipendiary or a police magistrate. He explained that the bill proposed to make the costs in criminal cases a charge upon that section of the parishes where the offence was committed and it also provided that the sum of $500 be paid the stipendiary out of fines collected on account of salary. On the ground of urgency the bill was read a second time.

Hon. Mr. Byrne introduced a bill to amend the law respecting rates and taxes so far as it relates to the county of Kings, which on the ground of urgency was read a second time.

Miss Hazel McCain, superintendent of women's institutes in New Brunswick, gave an interesting address at a meeting of the local Women's Institute last evening. An instructive lecture was given by Hon. R. J. Ritchie, who spoke on laws affecting women. Refreshments were served by Mrs. W. H. Golding, Mrs. Matthew Adams and Mrs. John Addy. A pleasing solo was sung by Miss Waterbury.

Inspector Brittain finds that a report that a man owning land at Loch Lomond intended to put pickers in a pond of his connected with the lake is untrue.

When You Buy for Style

THERE is a point beyond which the adding of refinements to a shoe can add nothing to its value. There is a certain definite limit to the fineness of leathers and fabrics.

Shoes of graceful design, and in perfect good taste, can readily be obtained at moderate prices, and little extra service value can be secured at any price. There is no reason why you should not pay extravagant prices if you can afford it, but you should understand what your dollars are really buying.

The model shown above is correct and attractive in style, and represents good value for the money in any of the grades in which it is made. Our booklet "How to Buy Shoes" gives some interesting information about different types and grades of shoes. We gladly send it to any address in Canada upon request to our head office at Montreal.
