THREE DAUGHTERS OF FORMER ST. JOHN MAN DROWNED
Children of Hartley McBeath Lose Lives While Boating Near Amesbury, Mass.

Telegrams which came to Mrs. R. D. Lewis, of 57 St. James street, on Sunday, brought news which must have caused a fearful shock, for they told of the drowning of three nieces, daughters of Hartley McBeath, formerly of St. John.

The girls were out boating on Saturday on the river near their home in Amesbury, Mass., and the boat upset. As far as has been learned, no one was near to render assistance and they went down to death. It is believed the bodies have been recovered. The children were Hazel May, aged ten; Virginia, aged twelve, and Christina, aged fourteen years, all bright and lovable girls to lose any one of whom would of itself be a terrific blow. Two other girls, older, survive to comfort their bereaved parents.

Mr. McBeath was a carriage painter here and left St. John when a young man. He was on his way to a large farm in Amesbury. Eli McBeath, of North End, is a brother, and Mrs. Lewis a sister. Mrs. Lewis is on her way to the scene, planned to leave for Boston on Monday morning, but the shock was so great that she was too ill to travel. There will be keen sympathy here, and wherever the news is read, for those who have suffered so great a loss in so tragic a manner.

A rather interesting point was taken in the case of McDonald vs. Lockhart which came up before Judge Forbes in chambers this morning. Belyea appeared for the plaintiff and H. W. Robertson for the defendant.

TODAY'S POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning four prisoners charged with drunkenness were fined $8 or thirty days in jail.

Joseph Holland an employee of Mr. Mahony's said that Morrow had been in the store between four and five o'clock on Saturday afternoon. He heard the prisoner telling Mr. Mahony that he had paid money for a bottle of gin and had not received it. The witness had not received any money from Morrow. He was in the store when the window was broken but did not see who broke it. His Honor told the prisoner that he had been informed that the damage to the glass could be repaired for $20 and that if he would pay the $20 he would be allowed his liberty. The prisoner was remanded to jail for the present.
