Miss Boissineau Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples

"About three years ago I was bothered with pimples on my face. The pimples were hard and small and caused a great deal of trouble. I tried many different remedies but without any relief. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after the first application I could see an improvement. I continued using them and was completely healed after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Miss Rose Boissineau, 12 Bellevue Ave., Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

and placed in the Bishop Museum here in the hope that they may be utilized in the museum's efforts to ascertain the origin of the Polynesian race. The stones are said by scientists at the museum to be larger than any similar blocks that were used in the building of the pyramids of Egypt. They are of coral formation, one tall and thin and the other round and flat. When found the tall stone was upright in the ground, with the other resting upon it.

The large burial grounds found on Guam point to a once large population. Dr. Stanley C. Bell, curator of collections at the museum, said in discussing the stones. "As yet we have not been able to find any traditions about the race that inhabited the islands. The only things we have to go by are the skeletons, the stone tools and the tombstones, which may give us some indications as to the racial characteristics of the people."

The stones were brought from the burial grounds only with great difficulty, as they had to be hauled twelve miles to port before they could be loaded onto a vessel. They were drawn in carts by buffaloes. Besides the stones, thirteen boxes of bones, skeletons, skulls and stone tools were brought to the museum.
