GAVE HIMSELF UP. Two Assault Charges Now Against Wallace Stevens

On a warrant issued early last spring, Wallace Stevens was placed in custody by Detective Killen this morning, charged with assault. In addition to this charge another of a similar nature, but with the police as plaintiffs, was this morning entered against him. The first assault is said to have been committed early in the year, about April, in North End, where the foreigner named Christianson swore out information against Stevens, alleging that he had struck him. The police tried to execute the warrant, but they say Stevens was always too quick for them. This was the second charge of assault. Stevens was being taken in hand by policeman Briggs, who broke away from him. Briggs and McFarlane followed him out City road and, seeing him enter a place where a dance was in progress, Briggs went inside. Stevens saw him coming and rushed at the policeman with a chair upraised over his head, and managed to escape by jumping through a window. This was the second time that he had been taken in hand and gotten away. This morning he gave himself up, and his case was set over for hearing until this afternoon.

IS CORMIER GIRL WITH GIPSY BAND?

One of The Stories That is Being Run Down

REPORT TO CLERGYMAN

Girl Answering Description Seen With Gipsy Woman in Douglas Avenue—Parents Deny They Intended to Put Girl to Work

As days pass and there is no word of Irene Cormier, missing for six weeks from her home in Wright street, rumors gain circulation. One which is now being investigated is that the girl may be with a band of Gipseys now here.

Rev. E. B. Hooper, who is much interested in the case, and the family are in his parish, was told on Saturday that a girl answering to the description of the missing Irene was seen in Douglas Avenue—Parents Deny They Intended to Put Girl to Work. Mr. Hooper notified the parents of this and advised that the father go over to the Gipsy camp in company with a policeman and see if the child were his. Mr. Cormier said this morning, however, that he had not yet gone over to see the Gipseys as he had learned that they had moved and were now in the North End. Mrs. Cormier said she had intended to go over to see them yesterday, but that she was not well enough to go out and would attempt it this afternoon.

According to another report Irene left home because she was afraid of being sent into a cotton mill to work. She told some of the children of the neighbors that she would not work in a mill, but she would go away rather than do so. Talk amongst the neighbors in the vicinity of the Wright street home is that she is being well cared for, but her whereabouts are being kept secret.

Adopted Child

Mrs. Corraler, when seen by a Times reporter today, said that the child had been adopted by them when she was fourteen months old, after they had seen an advertisement in a Campbellton paper that the mother, who lived at Jacques River, wished to part with the child, as she could not support her. Mrs. Corraler said she had never learned it from them. They are, she said, her legal parents, and they had always treated her as such, and it was hardly likely that her natural mother would try to take her away from them. The parents say that they had no intention of sending her out to work, they intended leaving her at school until she was at least sixteen.

The Police Chief Clark was asked this morning a Times reporter as to what the police were doing in trying to solve the matter of the child's disappearance, and he replied that every clue which offered, had been traced down, but as yet nothing had come of them. The police do not know of the whereabouts of the little one. They have made vigilant search and are still at work.

Miss McBeth, who was Irene's teacher in the Central school, told the Times this morning that Irene had been a fairly regular attendant, and had not been kept home to work, but that the excuse generally given at any time when she was kept home was that she had been away.

Miss McBeth also said that the girl was always on time at school and was well behaved. On October 14 the girl was at school in the afternoon and was dismissed with the other pupils, and the teacher heard of her disappearance when the father and mother both called at her home in the evening and asked about her, as they thought the girl might possibly have been left in the building. It was suggested to them that the police should be notified, but they said that they had already done so.

THE FISHING BOUNTIES

The Dominion Fishery Inspectors are busy now securing the affidavits of the deep sea fishermen who are entitled to the annual federal bounty. The bounty is paid to each man who catches, during the season, 2,500 pounds of sea fish, including herring, sardines, cod, hake, haddock, etc.

The district under Inspector B. B. Brittain of West St. John, inclusive, and last year in this district about fifty men qualified and each received the sum of $4.00. This year the number of fishermen in this district who will be entitled to the bounty may be more than that number owing to the scarcity of fish and the extremely poor season which has resulted in very small catches. The affidavits of the men and the inspectors' reports are forwarded to Ottawa and the payments are made some time during the spring months.

Separate Organization For Our Custom Tailoring

It has no connection with the organization that makes our ready-to-wear clothes other than under the same general management.

Each garment is individually made by a separate tailor—over the special pattern drafted and cut from your measurements.

Many so-called custom clothes are merely factory made with slight changes to come "somewhere near" your measurement.

Our system is the "each-garment-individually-made-over-your-own-individual-pattern" system—the plan adopted by all first-class tailors.

The only difference between this tailor shop and the best in the business is that we charge less than they do.

Stop in on your way to business today and see what fine fabrics for winter we are showing.
