THE A. B. C. OF SOCIALISM. Q. What is a Socialist? A. A Socialist is a horman below.

BOCIALISM AS AN IDEAL.

SOCIALISM AS AN IDEAL.

The ethical means of Socialism have attracted to 4t generous souls and have attracted to 4t generous souls and have enlisted the rank and file of the Socialist army with first read and religious devotion. It may be said, indeed, that nothing in the present day is so likely to awaken the conscience of the ordinary man or woman, or to increase the sense of responsibility, as a thorough course in Socialism. The study of Socialism has proved the turning point in thousands of lives, and converted self-seeking men and woman into self-secrificing toliers for the masses. The impartial observer can scarcely claim that the bible political so marked an effect upon the adherents—Frot. Richard T. Eky.

its adherents.—Frof. Richard T. Ely.

FULL ORGANIZATION,
We believe in the people, one and independent, so organized as to harmonine the individual faculties with the soown factor of the fruits of the present possible amount of greenest wilbeing, and in respect for the rights of individuals. No achievement of the past is rejected. Before us is the evolution of a future in which the two cternal elements of every organization, the individual and humanity, liberty and association, will be harmonized.—Mazzini.

Quebec Comrade to the Front
I will still do what I cm in getting or sending in subs, and I will send you one dollar each month towards the Agitation Battery funds, beginning with today. I will continue to do so as long as I am working, and I will let you know, if through loss of employment or illness I should be unable to send my contribution on. I have a wife and family to maintain, and wages are none too big. You say it cost $35 to send the last appeal out to the supporters of the paper. This makes 1750 appeals sent out. Do you not think if you were to print a pledge card as it were, and send it to each of them personally, with a letter of explanation, asking them to each give one dollar a month to keep the paper going, you would get a reasonable response?—Quebec, P.Q., comrade.

Electoral Districts of Ontario

Socialists aim to capture the political power in order to abolish wage slavery.

They aim to capture the state through political action.

To do this they must run candidates and elect them.

How far, have the Socialists of Canada progressed? How many workers have we?

The hustlers who work to spread Cotton's Weekly are a good indication of the number of active workers we have in each division.

We therefore publish the list of electoral districts of Ontario for the number of persons in each district who are working to spread Cotton's.

Readers of this paper can become hustlers by getting subscribers at 25 cents for forty weeks in clube of four or more. If you are sick of the old party politicians and want to see the change the revolutionary Socialists want, join the hustlers, spread Cotton's and bring the day nearer when your own district will be represented by a Socialist.

Iding Pretty Well

The circulation statement shows a slight loss, but with the heavy offs it has held its own pretty well.

We have to face double offs during the next three mostles, the yearly and the forty week subs expiring together, and the comrades will do well if they hold the siresistion steady until the first of the year.

We know that the comrades will put forth their best efforts, not only to keep the list from declining, but to make it go higher.

October is a good mosth to gather subs. Past years have proven this. We are looking forward confidently to each of you doing your part.
