

Labor Items of Interest From the Capital City

FIREFIGHTERS' NOTES

LOCAL 102. The local will be well represented on the labor day committee by our delegates to the Trades Council...

It took the Fire Dept. world a long time to wipe up and demand that the fire department be reorganized among the workers of the world...

Yes, this life may seem rather easy, but just put this down for your motto: That when it ain't easy—it's hell.

The Toronto fire ladders have been applied to the Minister of Labor for a board of conciliation to deal with the wage dispute...

Mayor Archambault, of Hull, has resigned from the board of conciliation that was set up on Hull boys' strike...

The Winnipeg firemen are in the midst of another strike. It seems regrettable that life and property should be so endangered...

Strong objection was taken at our meeting to the action of the Ottawa Electric Light Co. running their plants without trouble...

CIVIC EMPLOYEES. At our regular meeting held May 15th, it was unanimously resolved, that a deputation should wait upon a committee...

On Friday morning, May 16th a report was seen in the press supposed to be a recommendation of the Commissioner to the Board of Control...

EULOGY FOR MUSICIANS. A self explanatory letter has been forwarded to the local secretary, E. J. Cockburn, as follows:

Dear Sir and Bro: I am writing you this letter to draw the attention of the members of your local to the sterling character and staunch loyalty of one of your members, Mr. H. Gayton Roberts.

For some time past I have had a dispute with the Northern Ontario Theatricals, Ltd., they owed me $188 and I was unable to collect it.

Mr. Roberts, I say all honor to Mr. Roberts, his office to a man who has done his duty. I was always proud of my membership in the American Federation of Musicians.

ONE MORE TYPO HOME. Mr. A. Austin, member of Types 102, has returned to town and ready again for civil life among his comrades.

engineering staff and civic employees. The present was a beautiful silver breakfast dish on a handsome tray.

Under date of May 16, Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress and at present a member of the Royal Commission on Industrial Relations, writes from Sudbury to the Journal as follows:

At the last Allied Trades meeting held in this city, we were pleased to see that a good strong Labor Day committee has been appointed to make preparations, etc. for a successful day.

The Typo Press correspondent will say in the next issue of the Journal that the monthly meeting of No. 102 was held on May 15th.

Mr. James Drury, who gave a short address on the International Officers' activities relative to the shorter hours movement, the one big union proposal from the west was discussed at the meeting, but was rejected.

At our regular meeting held May 15th, it was unanimously resolved, that a deputation should wait upon a committee...

From Edmonton, Alberta, it is claimed that of the 7,000 soldiers-farmers who will go on the land this spring and summer to run farms of the order of 100 to 200 acres...

Organizer Elvov Robson, Halifax, N.S., never lets the grass grow under him. Since reaching Hamilton, he has been busy with the untiring effort to organize the railway clerks, stationmen, and freight handlers.

Labor News From the Busy City of Hamilton

The members of the Civic Employees' Union essentially commended the city's attention last week. Three times within five days did the meagerly paid outside trolleys, numbering 100 lay down their tools.

The council adjourned the strikers with few dissentients, agreed to return to the strikers' credit they agreed most orderly.

A resolution, that as a reward for winning the eight-hour day battle for the outside civic workers, the strikers receive the new rate from immediately, moved by Ald. T. O'Hair and seconded by Ald. C. Y. Aitchison secured the majority vote.

Very rightly guarded is the Hamilton Trades and Labor Council regarding counseling its affiliated local unions to strike or otherwise. The moral "look before you leap" prevailed among the last turnout of delegates assembled at last Friday's session.
