GENERAL REVIEW.

(Special Despatch to the Sun.) LONDON, Jan. 10 .- No news important or unimportant of a later date than Jan. 7 has been received here from any of the British camps in South Africa. The war office late last night stated that it had not received a list of casualties at Ladysmith. This is not surprising, inasmuch as the heliograph is the only means of communication that place has with the outside world, and the weather in Natal is known to be unsettled, thus preventing the use of this apparatus. The details of Gen. Buller's demonstration in support of Gen. White on Jan. 6 shows the remarkable disciplinary control of the Boers. Both British brigades employed in the demonstraction reached the positions where the fighting on Dec. 15th was the fiercest. Gen. Clery himself rode near the Brabant's Horse. Five shillings day and all found are the terms offered. Enlistment to take place in East London, South Africa. Canadians will be attached to Gen. Gatacre's force if they go.

FOR THE BOERS.

LONDON, Jan. 10 .- The Daily Mail's Berlin correspondent says he learns that the 45,000 lyddite shells which the Krupps were lately reported to be manufacturing for Great Britain are really for the Boers, Dr. Leyds, the Transvaal agent, having ordered them some time ago. The Mail says it understands that some of the generals in South Africa

will be superseded shortly. DETAINED STEAMERS

ADEN, Jan. 9.-The German steamer General, which was detained by the authorities here, will resume her voyage for Delagoa Bay tonight, she having been released. Her cargo included axle-trees and chemicals. An Austrian Llodys steamer from Trieste, with flour supposed to be consigned to the Transvaal, has been

CONSUL MACRUM. WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Mail advices are just coming to hand from U. S. Con-sul Macrum, explaining in detail the situa-tion at Pretoria at the outbreak of the war and his own conduct respecting the repre-sentation of British interests in the Trans-vaal. It appears from these that Mr. Mac-rum, like his successor at Pretoria, Mr. Hollis, was placed under a technical limita-tion in the exercise of his functions by the Boer government, and while he was pey-mitted to disburse the funds sent him by the British prisoners in Pretoria, he did so under the distinct stipulation that he was acting unofficially. Possibly the motive of the Boer government in refusing to allow the American consul to act officially, was a desire on its part to force the British gov-ernment into some official recognition of the status of the South African republics. In so, the effort failed and Mr. Macrum and his successor, Mr. Hollis, have gone on in their work of mercy without molestation from the Boer government. This object having securel and here being little else at present in the nature of business touch-ing British interests in Pretoria that re-quired the attention of a representative of that government, the state department hor-is disposed to allow the situation to drift along without change or protest because the Boer government has not seen fit te allow the American consul to act in an of-ficial manner. There is nothing in Mr. Macrum's report ficial manner. There is nothing in Mr. Macrum's report to throw the faintest light upon his inex-pleable action in leaving his post in the middle of the war.

TRANSVAAL GOLD.

LONDON, Jan. 9.-A despatch to the Times from Lorenzo Marquez, dated Jan. 6, says; "The December imports at Delagoa Bay amounted to £30,500, of which £21,000 worth was forwarded to the Transvaal. It turns out that the reason the Boers are coining gold bearing a false date is because the British seized the dies of 1899 and 1900. There is no guarantee that the new issue is worth the standard of intrinsic value, nevertheless the Portuguese government, in an order on October 26 to the local banks, compelled them to accept Transvaal gold as legal tender at the same rate as British gold.

"The Portuguese authorities have granted the republic every facility for transacting business extensively and remitting large sums to Europe, aiready a vast amount of the new Transvaal issue is in circulation here. The above edict raises the question whether or not it is a breach of neutrality.

LOCAL WAR NOTES There was a pleasant event yesterday at the Simcon Jones browery, when James Mc-Farlane, cellar foreman, on behalf of the employes, prosented H. K. In making the presentation, Mr. Mc-Farlane assured Mr. Smith of the kindly feelings entertained for him by all the em-ployes, and wished him a pleasant journey home in the s. s. Lake Superior. He as-sured Mr. Smith that all would watch with interest his career as an officer in that his-toric regiment, the Black Watch, and ex-pressed the hope that he would return to St. John when the war is over to resume his position. Mr. Smith feelingly and heartily thanked his fellow em-ployes for their gift and for their kindly farewell, and assured them that he would ever remember with pleasure his short stay ir. St. John. A pleasant event took place Monday in connection with the departure of the second German merchant vessels by British warships off the African coast. A short description of it by another will be of interest: "The State House occupies the terraced crest of Beacon Hill, facing the Common. It was built in 1795-98. Crowning the highest point of Old Boston, it is a very noble landmark from distant points on sea and land. The high dome was covered in 1874 with sheets of pure gold-leaf, and may thus be recognized shining brightly from leagues away on the coast and in the rural counties. Many people ascend to the top of the dome, which commands an incomparable view of the island-studded harbor and blue sea, the city and suburbs and the far away mountairs, Wachusett, Moradnock, etc. The new extension-much larger than the original building-was built in 1890-95, at a cost (with land) of $5.-000.000. The chief feature is the re-000,000. The chief feature is the Representatives Hall, in Italian renaissance architecture, elliptical, with mahogany finish, Corinthian columns, a domed ceiling of glass, frescoes by Frank Hill Smith, and the famous wooden codfish, five feet long, hung up in 1784. The fish is emblematic of one of the chief sources of the wealth of Massachusetts." We approached this fine building with some trepidation, but soon found that the few officials and attendants present were most courtious in their reatment toward us. We were shown through a large portion of the building, including the Representatives Hall (described above); also the Senate Chamber, where we saw the portraits of a number of dignitaries; but it had been our desire and purpose to get to the top of this historic building.
