AROUND THE CITY

ON INSPECTION TRIP.
A. Price, general manager of the C. P. R. eastern lines, will arrive in the city this morning on the early train. Mr. Price is to inspect the 110 miles going east on the C. P. R. as far as Norton, where he will continue over the Fredericton and Grand Lake Railway as far as Fredericton.

EXAMINATION RESULTS.

The results of their examination on Constitutional Law were given out to the second and third year students of the King's College Law School yesterday by their lecturer, F. J. G. Knowlton. H. M. Groom, '22, of St. Stephen, led the class, making $21.4. J. H. Drummond, '22, of this city, was second, with $9.12 to his credit. There were twenty men set for the exam.

ST. JOHN-DIGBY SERVICE.

J. M. Woodman, general superintendent of the C. P. R. New Brunswick district, left yesterday morning on the Empress for Digby. He is accompanied by M. McI. Duff, manager of the Great Western and American and by W. E. and A. G. Emerson, engineers of the Great Lakes Steamships. They are looking over the Bay service prior to its amalgamation with the New Brunswick district of the C. P. R.

AT THE TABERNACLE.

A large congregation at the Tabernacle Baptist church last evening enjoyed the woolly message of Evangelist H. R. Bell, who took as his subject "The Last Days." Proposed the story of Eliazer Abraham's service, seeking a bride for Isaac. Stevens Smith, of German street, sang two solo very acceptably. Rev. H. O. Morse was present and offered prayer. Deep interest is being manifested in these services.

SAND-POINT ACCIDENTS.

After several weeks free from accident at the winter port, Arthur McKay, blacksmith, working in the C. P. R. shop, St. John street, Carlton had his right hand cut yesterday morning while at work by a piece of flying iron. He was treated at the Emergency Hospital, and went back to his work.

Gordon Stevens, 20 diamonds street, a longshoreman, had three fingers of his left hand badly bruised while at work Wednesday evening, on the Minnedosa at No. 6 shed, a heavy chain falling on the hand. After receiving treatment at the Emergency Hospital he went to his home.

CHAPEL REDECORATED.

The private chapel attached to St. Peter's Church, rector, North End, has just undergone a complete redecoration and decoration, an example of ecclesiastical art work, perhaps not surpassed in the Dominion. What a few weeks ago was a plain room of worship is now richly pictured with emblems of the faith, reverend altarpieces and portraiture depicting saintly characters of the world. The Rosary, Order, of which St. Peter's Church is a member.

The decorating was done by Frederick W. Stringer, who has been attached to the Imperial Theatre staff for over ten years. He is a native of London, England, and there gained a wide experience in his trade. During his work in the chapel he was in collaboration with Rev. William Hogan, rector of St. Peter's Church.

IN CHANCERY COURT.

Before Mr. Justice White, in the Chancery Court, Wednesday afternoon, the case of K. J. MacRae, executor of the Wilks estate, vs. Emma Stone, was taken up. The issue turned on a mortgage which the defendant claimed was given to him by his son, and that if she, the plaintiff, had signed under misapprehension. The mortgage was paid in evidence, and to Mr. MacRae, who drew it and executed it, and by Miss Walsh, his stenographer, who witnessed it. Hearing of the defense was postponed until April 5. Dr. W. B. Wallace and Bowyer S. Smith for the plaintiff; J. F. Tread for the defense.

In Gould vs. Laundry (Montreal), an injunction was granted in favor of the plaintiff, against the defendant from trespassing on plaintiff's property. The defendant claimed that he had a private right of way over the property, also that there was a public highway thereon. His Honor found neither right existed. E. R. McDonald, Shadie, plaintiff's solicitor; M. G. Tread, K. C., plaintiff's counsel; James Reid, K. C., defendant's solicitor and counsel.

MARITIME CO-OPERATION
MESSAGE WELL PRESENTED

Board of Trade Heard Inspiring Talk from G. Fred Pearson on This Subject—Harry Allen's Views of Hunting and Fishing Most Interesting—Need for Game Preserve Abby Set Forth by L. B. Knight.

The social night of the Board of Trade was a big success and those who were present at Python Castle Hall last evening were more than pleased with the entertainment provided for them. The address of G. Fred Pearson, of Halifax, was a gem, and provided food for thought on the part of all who heard it, and his suggestion, if carried out, should do much good. He promoted "Sportsmen between the two cities, has advanced the interests of the Maritime Provinces as a whole. Harry Allen's pictures brought home in a most vivid manner the wonderful resources of the province, in game and fish, and L. B. Knight pointed out the necessity of protecting the country resources opened up in the vicinity of Musquash. The Scotts' song of "Jock" Simpson certainly caught the fancy of the audience.

W. F. Burritt, president, was in full chafe and added a welcome to all present and expressed the hope that in the near future all would be come members of the Board and help the good work along. The St. John Board of Trade, while over 100 years old, was a lively chap yet. He greatness of the provinces he advocated the increasing of the size of the head which might be taken from a six point, the opening of the sea to the west over the ocean, the protection of the use of all small and high powered rills and estuaries.

The chairman then called on "Jock" Simpson for some Scotch songs. W. MacKinnon acted as accompanist for him.

L. B. Knight

L. B. Knight was then called on by the chairman and he pointed out the need for action if the vast region, recently made available for hunting and fishing in the Musquash valley, was to be preserved. This was a tract of some 300,000 acres, 400,000 acres being owned by the provincial government. In it were six fair sized rivers and many smaller ones and about one hundred and twenty-five lakes, most of which were good fish lakes.

The State of Maine received about 400,000 acres of land for its citizens who came to hunt and fish, and here within forty miles of the city was everything that Maine possessed, and some things they did not have, but if it was to be preserved there must be immediate action as the next six weeks were the dangerous ones.

The chairman then called on "Jock" Simpson for some Scotch songs. W. MacKinnon acted as accompanist for him.

G. Fred Pearson

M. Pearson expressed his pleasure at having an opportunity to speak to the members of the St. John Board of Trade, and to thank the chairman for the greetings of the Halifax Board which had been extended to him. He said that the St. John Board would always be ready to do its share to advance the interests of the Maritimes. He then called on Mr. Pearson to speak.

Mr. Pearson

The State of Maine received about 400,000 acres of land for its citizens who came to hunt and fish, and here within forty miles of the city was everything that Maine possessed, and some things they did not have, but if it was to be preserved there must be immediate action as the next six weeks were the dangerous ones. He spoke of the formation of a permanent force to patrol the country, for if a big fire once started it would be one hundred years before anything could be done there again.

The chairman said this subject would not be taken up at the meeting of the Board Monday evening.

A reel of film supplied by the Pathé Co. showing a number of sporting events, was next on the programme.

The serving of sandwiches and coffee brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

Suggestions Offered.

The first thing he suggested which his committee might profitably study was some way to meet the natural resources of the Province more valuable and to suggest means whereby manufacturing plants in the Province might be increased and enlarged.

He pointed out that England brought raw material from all parts of the globe, manufactured it and exported the finished article.

Maritime Provinces might well take leaf from her book and look into the possibility of bringing the resources of the West Indies and South America here by sea, manufacture them and export the manufactured product and realized that these countries were much nearer to them than they were to New York or Liverpool.

Another problem in which we were equally interested was the railway and he believed here again co-operation would bring about a solution profitable to both.

Seventy years ago the position which the Maritime Provinces held in regard to the rest of the Dominion was set forth by Hon. Joseph Howe, as follows:

"We have a magnificent country between the Atlantic and the St. Lawrence, and presented the temple with a birthday gift of $100. The appreciation of this moment was extended to Mrs. Roberts by the choir.

"The beautiful islands of the Pacific are beyond Popham China, and the seas of our children's children will reflect as familiarly the sunsets of the south as they now brave the angry tempest of the north. The Maritime Provinces, which I now address, are the Atlantic front of this boundless and marvellous region—the wharves of which the world will be drawn to, and beside which, to my knowledge, no one in Nova Scotia is one of these. God has planted your country in the front of this boundless region. See that you comprehend so clearly with energy and resources that you deserve to be the first among the states of the nation in the rights of your position."

The people of both provinces would be well advised to pay heed to this message today and he believed the appointment of such a committee as had been suggested was the quickest way to do this.

In closing he commended the chairman position which St. John had attained and felt they were entitled to every confidence in the outcome which had come to them.

The chairman extended the thanks of the association to Mr. Pearson for his message and said the association had a committee to study these matters which would be dealt with at the St. John.

FOR STORING WINTER FURS

Attention is directed to Haley Bros' advertisement on page 4. In order to keep their mink during the slack season, they have made up a number of soft proof mink coats. These are a well proportioned short of plain design, strong construction, and beautiful fitted, and just the thing in which to store away the winter furs—and the price is reasonable.
