

THE FORWARD MOVEMENT IS DAILY GAINING IN FORCE

Large Manufacturing Concerns Likely to Make Marsh Road District Hive of Industry—C. P. R. to Establish Model Farm to Demonstrate Superiority of New Brunswick Products.

Further evidence of the boom in St. John and New Brunswick were made known yesterday when announcement was made of the plan of the C. P. R. to establish a model farm in the province and also that two projects for large manufacturing concerns on the Marsh road were likely to be carried out.

Another manufacturing plant big enough to require forty acres for its site, may soon be established within a short distance of St. John. In addition to these there are five or six other concerns, whose plans have not developed fully enough to warrant any more definite announcement, who are endeavoring to make arrangements for the erection of large warehouses in the vicinity of the city with the intention of making this their distributing centre for the maritime provinces and for the export trade.

As most of these, in addition to others which already have been announced, are looking to the district bordering on the I. C. R. along the Marsh, it is predicted that this territory will soon be taken up pretty fully.

The manufacturing industry of which mention is made is said to be a branch of a big British concern which is already established in upper Canada. A representative of the firm visited the city a short time ago and, in company with a prominent local business man, spent a week looking over available sites. The fact that they wanted about forty acres gives some idea of the size of the project.

The other concerns which are looking for warehouse sites include a Canadian manufacturing company, an agricultural implement concern, a wholesale grocery and a couple of other wholesale companies.

The matter of a model farm for illustration purposes to be started in New Brunswick by the Canadian Pacific railway, has been under consideration for about a year and the railway company has in view several farms which will serve their purpose.

The actual purchase has not yet been announced, but it is expected that a farm will be bought in time to allow the railway to commence operations this spring.

The principal motive of the company in undertaking this new venture is to show what can be done on a New Brunswick

Moncton Preacher Says It Played Great Part in Recent Elections—Sees Great Religious Problem.

Monday, Jan. 15. Portland street Methodist church was crowded yesterday afternoon when Rev. J. L. Batty, of Moncton, gave the marriage laws of Canada and the Ne Temere bill. The meeting was advertised for men only, but several women were present.

After speaking generally on the terms of the Ne Temere decree, Mr. Batty said that it was only an incident and that the decrees of years ago should be considered as one of the statements of the Roman Catholic church, one of which was that "Rome never changes."

He said that in 1864 a decree of the Pope had stated that the state had no right to curtail the authority of the church in regard to matters even non-religious, and this he said struck the heart, core and foundation of Canadian life.

He said that it affected the holding of property beside the legitimacy of children and the honor of womanhood. The speaker told those present that a decree of the pope had set forth that Canada would cease to be regarded as a mission and that on Easter Sunday of 1908 Canada would take its rightful place as a full fledged Catholic country.

In regard to the recent election in Ontario, he declared that that province had carried on the Ne Temere bill, and that the last dominion election was lost and won on this bill and reciprocity did not enter into the contest so much as was thought.

"This Ne Temere bill," said Mr. Batty, "is an insult to Canada's freedom." He said that some people seemed to think that this bill applied only to Quebec, but he pointed out that it was in force in all this dominion. He asked those present to consider the question: "Who is to rule in Canada, the free people of this country or the Pope?"

Mr. Batty declared that it had been said that there was no religious problem in Canada, but he was sure there was, and he said it was not found in Protestantism.

CAN WE LIVE LIKE THE BEES? To the Editor of The Telegraph. Sir.—Some time ago it was my privilege to form a men's conversational class in the town of Orangeville, Ontario, for men to talk on any subject they felt disposed to speak about. One man introduced the subject of communism. The essence of his theory is this: It is foolish for men to be all the time asking how they are going to live when they get old and infirm. He said: "Why can we not live like the bees? They call in their world work for the good of the community, and he that will not work, cannot eat." One man is a doctor, another a minister, and mentioning all kinds of tradesmen, he contended that all could work for the good of the community, and do away with the idea of dollars and cents. When we needed anything, we could always find it in the markets would be full to supply every man's need. The question was asked: "What would you do with the people that would not work?" He said: "DO as the bees do; kill the drones."
