CANADIAN EMBASSY IN TEHRAN REOPENS

The Secretary of State for External Affairs, the Right Honourable Joe Clark, is pleased to announce that the Canadian Embassy in Tehran reopened its doors officially on October 16, 1988. The reopening of the Embassy follows the normalization of relations between Canada and the Islamic Republic of Iran on July 18, 1988.

In this initial phase of renewed operations the small Embassy team will provide limited services primarily in the trade, economic and consular areas. Nonetheless, Canada looks forward to expanding its resources to service growing political and economic relations with Iran.
