On Train, August 23rd., 1926.

My dear Justice Tweedie:

When getting to the train last night I found you had just left. There was three quarters of an hour left before the train pulled out but I did not know what direction you had taken.

I spent the day all by myself reading trying to save my voice which was in very bad shape. Would certainly have liked to have seen you. It is the first time this pleasure has been denied me.

With best regards and happy memory always.

Sincerely yours

Hon Justice Tweedie
Calgary, Alta.
