

from the Government, which she states her husband never received, that she considers that she has a right to any pension that he was entitled to, that she is a woman of seventy-eight years of age and has no one on whom to depend for her support, I beg to inform you, in compliance with His Excellency's command, that he be informed of what answer should be sent to the petitioners, that I will at once communicate with the Department of Militia and Defence on the subject and request that a reply be sent to my letter as soon as possible.

An receipt of the latter document I shall, in obedience to His Excellency's command, communicate the decision of the Department of Militia and Defence in the matter of the same.
