

the world's thought in the days that are upon us, the world will be as we sometimes picture it in our dreams—all happiness, content and joy, and Armageddon may, at long last, be blessed instead of cursed. And the million anxious dead of all the nations will rest tranquil and serene beyond the veil.

FINIS

L. M. C.