SPINACH, THE BEAUTIFIER.
If you want a clear complexion, eat spinach, and eat it often. Eat it hot for dinner, and if there is any left make it into a salad according to this recipe: Chop enough cold cooked spinach to make two cups; season well with French dressing and mold in a small bowl or form in a mould. Garnish with the white of hard-boiled egg cut in rings and laid around in an overlapping row. Sift the yolk over the centre.

IRISH LACES.

Our importations of fine laces are now large enough to give us first choice of all the best styles. This comes of buying for two stores instead of one, coupled with a growing demand in Montreal for the novelties we control.
The development of the Irish Lace industry is under the patronage of Lady Ardreen. It was her encouragement that captured our first order, and nothing we can say will so fully endorse her ladyship's judgment as the goods themselves.
Such laces are good for very many years of satisfactory service. Come and see, if only to see!

FISHING.

According to advertisements all summer resorts are alike. They are the best ever—but if fishing is better anywhere else than it is in "Georgian Bay" we do not know where it is. There is a greater variety of fish in this water than anywhere else, and they are always hungry. No one ever counted the fish in Georgian Bay, but those that have been caught there have been counted and eaten, and if you read the Government reports on fisheries, you know that Georgian Bay supplies more fish than any other equal body of water in the world. Georgian Bay has a monopoly on fish. The only place you can afford to fish is where the fish are numerous, big and delicious in flavor, and that place is Georgian Bay—so the fishermen say. Suppose you send for booklet, issued by Grand Trunk Railway System, telling about the home of the bass, pickerel, pike and the noble trout family. Address J. Quinlan, Bonaventure Station, Montreal.

BOTH CONVERTS.

Rev. Samuel McPherson, a convert to the faith, and formerly of the Protestant Episcopal Church of St. Mary the Virgin, New York, was among those ordained by Archbishop Farley at St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, on Saturday of last week. He celebrated his first Mass at St. Mary's Church, Poughkeepsie, on Sunday, on which occasion the sermon was delivered by Rev. Alvah W. Doran, of St. Bridget's, an old friend, and himself a convert.

A PLACE FOR MALACHI.

He was an exceeding fine type of what is called the old-school clergyman, with a deep-seated conviction of the value of what he had to say and no earthly conception of the value of time. He had been preaching for upward of two hours when he sidled up to what his congregation hopefully thought was meant for a peroration. But their expectations were dashed when he went on: "And now, brethren, having assigned the major Hebrew prophets to their relative places in sacred history, we will now proceed to discuss the minor prophets."
Which same he did with earnest emphasis for an hour and a half before he slowed down, and again congregational hope arose, though weakly. The preacher paused, drew a long breath, and proceeded: "And now, brethren, having assigned the major and minor Hebrew prophets to their logical positions in sacred history, what plap-

Why it was red. The late Mr. Duffy, of Keene, N. H., according to the Boston Herald, had a very red nose, despite that he was noted in his town as a total abstainer, both by profession and practice.
On one occasion, when he was on business in a liquor saloon in his neighborhood, a drummer came in to sell cigars. To gain the good graces of the bartender he invited all in the place to drink, to which invitation all readily responded save Mr. Duffy.
The drummer went to him, and, slapping him on the shoulder, said: "I say, old man, what are you going to have?"
"I thank you, sir, but I never drink," was Duffy's quiet reply.
"What! You never drink?" the drummer responded, with a sarcastic laugh. "Now, if you never drink, will you please tell us what makes that nose of yours so red?"
The impertinence of the questioner at once aroused the irascibility of the old gentleman, and he replied: "Sir, it is glowing with pride because it is kept out as other people's business."
