$90,000 MAIL CONTRACT WITHOUT TENDER.

The Post Office Department continues in its usual high handed manner of letting mail contracts without tender. On June 24th, 1916, they let a contract to J. C. Shields of the Inland Express Company B.C. for carrying the mails from Ashcroft to Fort George, B. C., at a cost of $90,000 a year. No tenders were called for as required by the regulations of the Post Office Department and no publicity given, the Borden Government simply awarded a $90,000 contract to Mr. Shields and the matter was settled. Three days later the British Columbia Express Company submitted a lower tender for performing this work, but the answer to them was "too late."

SOLDIERS NEGLECTED.

"Safety-First," or the useful and well paid but not dangerous jobs, are readily filled; but for the gallant boys in the trenches there is little or no backing".

(The above is an extract from speech of Sir Sam Hughes delivered at Lindsay, Ont., on Saturday, April 28th, 1917.)
