sia.—For a long time, I was a Martyr to Rheumatism and Rheumatis Gout, and for ten weeks previous to using your medicines it was so bud as fint to be asked to walk. I had tried decoring and medicines it every kind, but all to no as ant, indeed I duling you we've, and felt that I amust shortly due. From seeing your remedies advertised in the paper I rake in, I thought! would give therma trial. I did so, I rubbed the Charment in as directed, and kept cabbage leaves to the parts thickly spread with in, and took the Pilanish and Jorning. In three weeks I was enabled towalk about for an hour or two in the day, with a stick, and in seven weeks I could gar any where without one. I am now, by the blessing of God and your mindicines, quite well, and have been attending to my business for more than seven mounts, without any supplaints of more than seven mounts, without any supplaints of more than seven mounts, which are one of the control of the parts of the part

ADWAT'S READY RELIEF is what its name purports—a Ready Relief for Pains of all kinds is hailed by suffering humanity as the Medicine of Grace; it is a more speedy and effectual soother of pain than Laudanum or Morphine, and is free from the poisonous effects and purports ties of these posserial nevines. As soon as the Ready Relief is applied case is experienced. To this statement thousands of persons who have been relieved of the most distressing pains can testify.

What so Libits Wasa I—Whatever saits pocket and appearance best, we presume; but, is London, the Dinner Dress and Evening Neglige, is, robe of purple silk, shirt trimmed with five dounces, scalloped and edged with embrodery is silk the same color as the dress. The founces are five in number, and gradusted in width. The corsage opens in a point in front, and the opening extends nearly to the waist. Along the top of the corsage there is a row of scalloped trimming-embroidered in a manner exceepending with the edge of the flounces. A double row of the same trimming passes over the shoulders in the form of epaulettes, and is carried down to the waist, where it tapers almost to a point. Demi-long sleeves, finished at the ends with three rows of scalloped silk trimming. Under-sleeves composed of white muslin in paffs of moderate dimensions. A chemisette of plaited muslin, and round the neck a frill composed of a double row of lace gathered mater full, and a rose-colored ribbon run between them. Head-dress a small cap; the crown composed of a round of lace, and at each ear a very full trimming of lace, and at each ear a very full trimming of lace, and at each ear a very full trimming of lace, and at each ear a very full trimming of lace, and at each ear a very full trimming of lace, and at each ear a very full trimming of the effect of this cap is very considerably heightened by the style of dressing the hair. The front hair should be combed up from the forchead, then slightly trigged, and turned round in a zoulean.—The Carriage Coutume consists of a dress of very rich black damask sating without any trimming. The course is made high to the throat, and the sleeves sufficiently short to enable them to be worn with full under-sleeves of white muslin. The Telegraph Wires.

The St. John (N.B.) Courier of the 22nd instant, announces the arrest of a man caught in the set of deranging the Telegraph wires near that city. It seems that suspicions had been entertained of the manner in which this periodical derangement is effected, riz.—by separating the wire, and tying a piece of cord to the two ends to prevent their infing, when the connection was to be broken, and subsequently inserting a piece of verye, fatted for the purpose, when the connection was to be broken, and subsequently inserting a piece of verye, fatted for the purpose, when the connection was to be renewed: a watch was accordingly set, and about midnight, a person was discovered at work upon the wire, perched is a tree;—The Courier says possible second of season the first, the spent of the United States uncentured great in delivering the Telegraph despatches, sublished as the Sea Streamentage offse, and he since teen couloged occasionally, in and about that establishment.

On his way to, and schile in the watch bonne, Anderson.
